

EPC Goal Is $18,000

The Extra Point Club campus contest ends tomorrow night at midnight, and whether the club reaches their goal of $18,000 dollars for this year depends a lot on student response.

Each organized house is selling membership pins for $1, and the house selling the most pins will receive one square yard of sod from the football field. The house selling the fewest pins must plant the sod in the winner's yard.

This is the third year for the Extra Point Club at Nebraska and funds raised by its members have provided scholarships for more than a dozen athletes.

The funds are used primarily for football but they are used to expand the entire athletic program of nine intercollegiate sports. The sports are football, basketball, track, baseball, tennis, golf, wrestling, gymnastics and swimming.

The Extra Point Club was organized when it was found that many fans wanted to help but could not afford the $25 and $100 memberships in the Touchdown Club.

Response to the Extra Point Club has grown steadily in the first two years.

Missouri Trying To Stop Opening Day Loss String

Missouri will be looking for its first opening-game win in 12 years when they entertain Penn State, Saturday. The last time Missouri won an opening game was in 1947 when they defeated St. Louis University, 19-0.

The officials at Columbia expect a crowd of 26,000 including 5,000 high school bandmen.

Former NU Ace Siebler Compiles Record of 11-7

Dwight Siebler, former Nebraska pitcher, compiled an 11-7 record with Bakersfield of the Class C California League.

Siebler appeared in 36 games for the Philadelphia Phils farm club and he was seventh in the league in earned run averages with 3.22.

He struck out 190 batters won the first half of the split season and finished fifth in the second half.

Jim Kane, Siebler's batterymate at Nebraska was a member of the Modesto team in the same league. Modesto won the second half pennant.

Cooper Predicts Win For Huskers' Opener

"We're gonna beat 'em" are the words of one of the most optimistic and talented Huskers to wear the scarlet and cream this year. He is Center Darrell Cooper.

The 210-pound junior gave a list of substantial reasons to back up his statement. And what are they? Good overall squad fitness, depth at every position and desire, to name only a few.

Cooper started his football career at Arlington Heights High School in Fort Worth, Texas, where he was a stand-out for four years.

Darrell then shifted his talents to Baylor and he was named to the All-Conference team during his freshman year. After another year at Baylor he transferred to Nebraska where he spent a profitable season on the frosh team last year.

The blue-eyed blond feels that although Texas will be a rough foe, Oklahoma will be the Husker's biggest challenge on the 10 game schedule.

Cooper, who is married, plans to coach after graduation.

Union Offers Bowling, Cards, Billiards and Table Tennis

By Dave Wohlfarth

With the grand opening of the Nebraska Union, much importance will be centered on the games rooms. These new and illustrious recreational centers provide the University students with facilities for table tennis, bowling, billiards and card games.

All these activities are under the supervision of Merle F. Reiling, who hails from Seward, attended Concordia Teachers College and Nebraska, and previously was a Field Representative at J. J. Exon Co. Deiling was appointed Nebraska Union Games Manager in July, 1959.

Stan Gifford

The opening of the bowling lanes will feature a visit from former ABC team and doubles co-champion and a Brunswick star bowler, Stan Gifford. He will appear in a special exhibition today at 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. Mr. Gifford will also offer free instruction for interested bowling fans.

Bowling leagues are now being organized. These leagues are open to anyone. All keggers participating in these leagues are eligible to participate in roll-offs for the National Intercollegiate Bowling Tournament under the direction of the Association of College Unions.

Nationally, there are eleven regions which compete, Nebraska being in Region 8. Included in this region are Kansas, Kansas State, Iowa and Iowa State.

A Big 8 team whose scores will be mailed in to compete with other conference schools will also be selected.

Both men and women are urged to participate in the leagues and tournaments. The ladies are as welcome as the men on the new lanes.

Two lanes will be kept available for open bowling during league nights (Monday through Thursday and Sunday), so anyone can bowl, anytime. The cost is $2.45 per hour per lane, regardless of number of players.

Billiards
Pocket billiards, snooker and carom can be shot in the new billiards room (not pool room). Two straight rail tables are present for the advanced game of carom, while the more popular snooker and rotation games each have five tables.

Pocket billiards or rotation pool consists of pocketing the 15 balls in succession while snooker is played with the 15 red balls plus six number balls.

There will be a National Intercollegiate Air Mail Billiards Tourney, run similarly to the bowling tournament.

Ken Carr, billiards sharpshooter, will appear in the billiard room. His presence today will include several exhibitions.

The table tennis room will feature a match between two University students today. New paddles and balls are on their way, according to Mr. Reiling.

The new card room also is slated for new equipment. Bridge, chess, checkers and other games are in progress daily in the card room.

The demand by students and faculty made the new Union possible and Mr. Reiling states, "The purpose is to bring together men and women students for participation as coeducational."

Coeds
The new Union activities will stress this coeducational program in their leagues and tournaments. University coeds are urged to participate in billiards, bowling, table tennis and cards right along with the fellows.

The new equipment is doubly valuable when you realize the cost of it. For instance, each bowling lane cost $17,000 to $20,000 and the entire bowling equipment is valued at $114,000. The billiard equipment cost $10,000.

The bowling equipment was built by Brunswick-Balke-Corlender Company.

For those interested, Mr. Reiling will offer instruction without any extra cost at any time. The games area will be open Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 10:30 p.m., on Fridays and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 12:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. on Sundays.

Kansas State Is Without a Field Goal Specialist

When Kansas State meets Wichita, Saturday, it will be the first time in four seasons the Wildcats haven't had a standout field-goal kicker ready.

Ben Grosse, halfback graduate of last fall's team, kicked five three-pointers for K-State last season; one in 1957; and three in 1956. The Wildcat coaches have been working with ends John French and Cedric Price in that capacity.

However, neither of them has kicked a field goal in his college career.
