

IFC Regulates Fraternity Pledge Training

By Doug McCartney
The Interfraternity Council Wednesday passed the first portion of a new pledge training creed.

The new legislation gives ideals of the IFC fraternities and states methods for achieving them.

"The IFC feels it will benefit the fraternity system to have a standard on which the houses can base their programs. Adopting and maintaining an adult approach to pledge training will enhance our position in the University and throughout the state," said George Porter, IFC president.

The Majority "We realize that the majority of the fraternities now conduct such programs and we feel this will aid others in the adjustment of their programs," Porter added.

He emphasized that additional legislation would be passed in the next few weeks to give the IFC a complete guide for pledge training.

The text of the new training creed follows:

"We the member fraternities of the Interfraternity Council of the University of Nebraska recognize our responsibility as leaders of the fraternity world to set forth a new Active Training Creed.

"We recognize the need for a program that trains pledges to carry out effectively their responsibilities when they become active, one that is consistent with modern thinking.

"This program must recognize the difference between today's highly independent youth and those of thirty years ago while retaining the ideals of gracious living, character development, and scholastic achievement.

"We therefore recognize that mental and physical degradation, personal servitude, and such programs that hazard the health, well-being, and scholarship of an individual are inconsistent with the aforementioned ideals.

"We hereby establish as being in accord with our concept of modern Active Training the following criteria:

I. SCHOLARSHIP

A. The fraternity shall establish and maintain an atmosphere conducive to scholastic achievement.

1. By establishing and maintaining house quiet hours throughout the entire week.

2. By providing tutorial assistance.

3. By providing incentives for scholastic achievement.

4. By periodic review of pledge grades.

5. By enforced class attendance.

II. PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT

A. The fraternity shall establish and maintain a program of personality development.

1. By encouraging dating.

2. By encouraging extra-curricular activities.

3. By insisting on gentlemanly behavior at all times.

4. By making each time a period of friendly, relaxed and informal interaction between pledges and actives.

III. PLEDGEMANSHIP

A. The fraternity shall establish and maintain a program designed for its maintenance and propagation.

1. By requiring knowledge of fraternity lore, customs and history.

2. By requiring a thorough knowledge of the inter-fraternity system.

3. By requiring a thorough knowledge of the university customs and history.

4. By requiring efforts necessary for maintenance of the chapter.

5. By establishing and maintaining a program of pledge counseling."

Rush Book

The IFC also passed a resolution in regard to individual fraternity rush books. Using the wording of an IFC rule proposed some years back the Council ruled:

"This book (The IFC rush book which is published jointly by all fraternities) shall be the only book printed or used by the fraternities for rushing purposes."

The ruling, passed unanimously.

Excluded

IFC president Porter excluded national rush booklets "stressing the national fraternity and the fraternity system" as exempt from the ruling.

He indicated that the executive council would later issue their detailed interpretation of the term "rush book" as used in the ruling.

NU Employment Agency Does Booming Business

Work-Scholarships Popular

By Jacque Janecek
This is no ordinary employment agency.

The satisfied job-seeker gets a Work-Scholarship!

Customers this fall are students who are participating in the new Work-Scholarship Program conducted by the University.

Jobs Wait

According to the chairman of the plan, Mrs. Jane Wendorff, her "agency" offered 100 half-time jobs to incoming freshmen, processed their applications and had jobs waiting on campus for them when they arrived the first day of New Student Week.

Mrs. Wendorff says the pay schedule is made according to the average costs for room and board for a school term.

Students who work six hours a week can earn $150 during the year; those who want to earn the equivalent of half their board and room work 12 hours per week for $300 per year. Those working 18 hours get about $450 and those working 24 hours per week get approximately $600.

These salaries apply when students work their full time each week, Mrs. Wendorff pointed out.

Jrs. Eligible For Rhodes Competition

Elections to Rhodes Scholarships, termed the most distinguished of all scholarships, will be held in December.

Winners, who at the time of application must have at least junior standing, will enter Oxford University in October, 1960.

Applications for the grants, which are worth 750 British pounds or about $2,100 a year, are due Oct. 5.

University students wishing to apply for the scholarships may obtain an application blank and a memorandum of regulations from Dean Walter F. Wright, 204 Burnett.

Appointments under Rhodes grants are made for two years initially, and for a possible third year, according to the student's Oxford record.

Eligibility requirements, in addition to junior status, include being a single male citizen between the ages of 18 and 24 on Oct. 1.

The applicant also must have official University endorsement.

Qualities specified for selection are literary and scholastic ability and attainments, qualities of manhood, exhibition of moral force of character and physical vigor.

Campus employers in the new program are Love Memorial Library, the Student Union, Women's Residence Halls, Selleck Quad, Ag Library and Ag College Cafeteria.

Although in most cases the employers had never met the students before their first day on the job, they're just as pleased with their help as if they'd interviewed them.

Employer's Satisfied

"It's amazing how well they seem to fit their jobs," Mrs. Wendorff said she heard an employer say.

Freshmen who had pre-registered agreed to adjust their class loads and arrange work schedules around classes. Mrs. Wendorff said this was made easy by Junior Division personnel who assisted the freshmen and rearranged the schedules "as far as possible."

The chairman of the program pointed out that preference is given to students in the upper one-third of their classes.

Several jobs are still available for students who want to contact her in her office in Room 207 in the Administration Building. High School seniors throughout the state will receive information and begin applying for next year's jobs in November.

The chairman of this new "agency" hopes her office will be able to offer downtown jobs to incoming freshmen in the future.

Belligerent Beef Look For Mamas

Shades of the Old West prevailed around Ag College Wednesday morning when a group of calves took a somewhat disorganized 5 a.m. stroll.

About 60 calves broke out of the corrals near the beef barn on Ag campus and began a diligent search for their mothers. One calf wandered as far as 32nd and J Streets, while others took a shorter tour of the Capital City.

Police, Ag and city campus officials and residents at the beef barn all got lariats and proceeded to stalk the escapees and finally completed the roundup.

The recently weaned calves were on a useless trek anyway since their mothers are being kept near Pioneer Park.

Hardin Gets Fort Riley ROTC Cup

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin was presented the Fort Riley Army ROTC Camp Commander's Trophy by the University Army Cadet senior class at a formal ceremony held in Military and Naval Science Building Thursday.

University cadets received the trophy in recognition of having achieved the outstanding record of all cadet contingents from Midwest universities training at Fort Riley the past summer.

Forty-three institutions were represented at the ROTC camp, including all "Big Ten" and "Big Eight" schools. Fort Riley is presently the largest Army ROTC camp in the nation.

After accepting the trophy from Cadet Col. Richard Dwinell, the Chancellor presented it to the junior class representative, Cadet Sgt. Maj. Gerald Radek.

Hardin said he hoped that the trophy would serve as an "inspiration and challenge" to next summer's Fort Riley-bound junior cadets.

Council Plans 'Rush Day' For Prospective Students

By Mike Milroy
A potential "Rush Day" for the University has been instituted by the Student Council.

This "Rush Day" will be in the form of an All-university Open House and will have as its main purpose the task of attracting students to choose the University for their college career.

Date Not Set

The nominating committee, headed by Chuck Wilson, proposed the motion to set up the structure of an All-University Open House committee. The committee would serve as an organizing and steering committee and be responsible for presenting the Open House at a yet to be determined date in the spring.

The committee will consist of six members, at least four of whom must be sophomores or juniors. Candidates will be determined by a vote of the Council.

The Council will then select a chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and publicity chairman from the six members of the committee.

A committee of this type was set up last year but lack of cooperation from high school principals caused the open house to be canceled. The committee this year will select one chairman from each college to work with the committee in establishing and coordinating the Open House.

Organize Program

Each college chairman is responsible for working with the committee and the dean of his college to determine and organize a suitable program for that college during Open House.

If any college fails to furnish a suitable candidate, the dean of that college will be notified by the committee and asked to furnish a suitable candidate to serve as that college's chairman upon approval by the Open House committee.

Council representative, that lights be erected around the Elgin parking lot to deter the theft of auto accessories that has been reportedly occurring Stine said he was told that the University Police hadn't enough patrolmen to efficiently combat the problem and students were hesitant to park cars there, subjecting them to vandalism.

Stine also suggested a check into the University budget or the possibility of raising parking fees to finance the job of resurfacing the lots in front of Selleck Quad. These suggestions were referred to the Parking Board by the Council.

Last business on the Council agenda was a motion that the Council corresponding secretary mail a copy of the University code of social regulations to all the organized houses with the suggestion that the members of these houses be made aware of and familiar with the regulations.

—Hey Boy, Hey Girl— Hello Royalty Now Includes Both Sexes

An outstanding independent man is to be crowned "Hello Boy" this year in addition to the annual "Hello Girl" in the Student Union Ballroom Oct. 10.

Candidates for the first royalty of the year will be selected and judged on scholarship, activities, poise, personality and appearance.

Interviews Wednesday

Interviews are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday of next week from 7-10:30 p.m. in Room 212 of the Union.

Eight candidates will be selected from the girls' dorm and two from each independent women's organized house and Towne Club.

Eight male candidates will be chosen by Selleck Quad two by Burr Hall and one from each men's co-op.

Crowning

Tryka Bell Waldo, last year's Hello Girl, will crown the new Hello Girl. The Hello Boy is to be crowned by the master of ceremonies, who will be selected by the RAM Council.

Chairman of the event, Kay Stute said, "With the united ideas and efforts of the two groups (IWA and RAM) I feel sure the Hello Dance will be a much bigger success this year and will be a campus event that will be enjoyed by 500 or more."

Admission is 75c and tickets can be purchased from any IWA or RAM council member. They will also be available at the door. It is stressed that this is an all campus affair and that all University students are invited.

Builders Positions Interviews Tuesday

Interviews for Builders positions will be Tuesday at 5 p.m. in 235 Student Union.

Positions available include Husker Handbook chairman and assistant, office manager and Ag sales chairman.

All interested persons may sign up on the schedule sheet outside the Builders' office before Tuesday noon.

Essentials Of Queen Revealed

New Procedure Is Explained

Houses sponsoring Homecoming Queen candidates should be sure they fit the qualifications.

Here are the qualifications as stated in the Tassels constitution:

"A. The Homecoming Queen candidate must be a junior woman was a 5.5 cumulative average.

"B. Approximately 30 preliminary candidates will be nominated on the following basis: (1) One candidate will be submitted from each organized women's house. (2) Up to 16 independent women submitted by the Independent Women's Association.

"C. The 10 finalists shall be selected on the basis of (1) school spirit and campus loyalty, (2) leadership and service to the University, (3) poise and personality."

"D. Election of the Homecoming Queen will be held all day. The voting will be to select the Queen and two attendants. Each student will vote for three candidates and the girls receiving the highest number of votes will become queen. The two receiving the next highest number of votes will be her attendants."

All names of Homecoming Queen candidates must be submitted to Jane Savener before Oct. 6 at the Home Management House, 16th and R.

Football Ticket Mixup Results In Double Issue

Any students who hold football tickets for Section 10, Rows 22-29, are asked to bring those tickets to the Coliseum ticket office.

An error in ticket distribution resulted in double tickets being distributed for that section, according to A. J. Lewandowski, athletics business manager. The other set of tickets went to Medical College faculty members.

Phi Delta Phi, law fraternity, has exchanged its block of tickets for that section already, Lewandowski said.

Some 120 other ticket-holders are affected. New tickets will be issued for Section 11, Rows 16-21, Lewandowski said.

Pub Board Interviews Coming Up

Applications for student positions on Pub Board will open Monday and close next Friday at noon.

Interviews for applicants will be held Saturday morning. The Student Council nominating committee will interview the candidates Saturday morning. The Council will then select the Pub Board members on Oct. 7 from the finalists chosen by the nominating committee.

All students interested may pick up applications from the office of the Registrar in the Administration Building starting Monday.

Completed applications should be placed in the ballot box by 305 Student Union. The applicant should then sign the sheet on the door for an interview time.

Theta Sig's Cited For Achievement

The local chapter of Theta Sigma Phi is the owner of a certificate of achievement awarded at the national women's journalism fraternity's 50th Anniversary convention held at the University of Washington this summer.

The award was presented to the chapter members Wednesday by President Jacque Janecek, who attended the August meeting in Seattle, Wash.

Annual Project

The citation was in recognition of the chapter's annual project to honor the outstanding woman in daily newspaper work in Nebraska and also the top woman writer in the weekly field. Contests are conducted in February and March and awards are presented by Theta Sigma Phi in April.

Miss Janecek said the national Theta Sig awards committee also cited the Nebraska chapter's work to help judge entries in the Nebraska High School Press Assn. convention held on campus each November.

Alum Is Treasurer

An alumnus of the local chapter, Mrs. Jean Daugherty, now of Oklahoma City, was named national treasurer of the journalistic fraternity, now numbering 15,000 student and alumnae members in 61 active chapters and 39 alumnae groups throughout the country.

Dean Greet Women

White Cross Capers:

Derby Day Damsels Don Dungarees

Some 350 sorority pledges will be sporting white-splashed and Greek-lettered jeans Saturday afternoon, but for what they consider a good cause—to get points for their respective houses in Sigma Chi Derby Day.

The house earning the most points will be awarded a traveling trophy. Last year it was won by the Delta Gammans.

Trophies will also be presented to Miss Derby Day and to the near-beer chugging contest winner.

Miss Derby Day contestants will be obliged to step into a frame to compare measurements with Miss America of 1959.

Besides the chugging and Miss Derby Day contests, an obstacle race will be run through tires and into the laps of 14 Sigma Chis. The girls will then have to feed chocolate pie (carried on the trip through the tires) to their hosts.

Another event, brought back from a three-year vacation is the fish and egg contest. An egg is placed on one girl's head and her partner hits it with a fish.

Other events include a dressing relay, a fish pole race and two mystery events.

The 6th annual Derby Day will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday with a parade down No. 16th St. to the mall across from the Coliseum.
