

Huskers Are Upset Kings Again

Gridders Snap Sooner Unbeaten String at 74

By Hal Brown
Nebraska reigns as king of the upset world again after a stunning upset of Oklahoma's mighty Sooners, 25-21. The Husker athletic teams may not have compiled outstanding won-lost records in the past three years but they certainly lead the college sports kingdom with upset victories.

Upsets
It started two years ago with basketball victories over Kansas and Kansas State within a period of 10 days. Kansas and Kansas State were the number one and two teams in the country before Nebraska turned the tables. Last fall, the battling Huskers became the football champions of Pennsylvania with upset victories over Penn State in the season opener and then surprised Pittsburgh later in the season. Penn State and Pittsburgh were both highly rated Eastern powers.

But all these prior upsets had to take a back seat to Saturday's victory over Oklahoma for a number of reasons. It was the first victory for a conference team over Oklahoma since 1946, a string of 74 games. Kansas scored a 16-13 win over the Sooners in '46.

Bud Wilkinson replaced Jim Tatum as coach after that season and the only blemishes on his record until Saturday were two ties, one with Kansas in 1947 and one with Colorado in 1952. The Sooners had won 44 consecutive conference games since the 21-21 tie with Colorado.

It was the first Nebraska victory over Oklahoma since 1942 when the Huskers defeated Oklahoma 7-0 at Norman for the last win by a conference team at Norman. The win was also the first Big Eight victory of the season for Nebraska after losing to Kansas and Missouri.

The victory was doubly precious since it was the Husker homecoming and was the first homecoming in two years that the grads have had something to cheer about.

Losing String
It was only the second time this season that Nebraska had scored more than one touchdown, the other time being a 32-12 romp over Minnesota. The win over Oklahoma broke a three-game Husker losing string which included Indiana, Kansas and Missouri.

The 25 points was the most scored by a Nebraska team against Oklahoma since the 1950 game when the Sooners won a 49-35 scoring bee in a game which developed into a personal duel between all-Americans Bobby Reynolds of Nebraska and Billy Vessels of Oklahoma.

The Huskers trailed Oklahoma in first downs 19-8, in rushing 240-127 yards, in passing 160-34 yards but Nebraska was not outfought before a homecoming crowd of 34,000.

It was evident in the final few minutes that the tired Huskers were going almost completely on desire as they had Oklahoma quarterback Bobby Boyd rapped for a loss several times but didn't quite have the strength to bring him down.

Interception
But with their backs to the wall and Oklahoma going all out to score the winning touchdown in the last seconds, Nebraska's valiant Huskers rose to the occasion. They stopped the Sooners with Ron Meade's interception of a Bobby Boyd pass in the end zone. Only seconds remained, and it preserved the upset victory.

The intercepted pass gave Nebraska the ball on their own 20-yard line. Meade took plenty of time calling the play and kept the ball, falling forward for a couple of yards to eat up the clock.

NEBRASKA TOUCHDOWN—Husker end Dick McDaniel (89) gathers in a pass from Harry Tolly (arrow) for the first Husker TD in their 25-21 upset victory over Oklahoma. Other Huskers in the picture are Don Purcell (82), Pat Fischer (40) and George Haney (71). Number 32 is Oklahoma's Brewster Hobby.

Before another play could be run off, the gun sounded and Nebraska had a well-earned 25-21 triumph.

The whole Nebraska team was responsible for the victory and to single out any one star is impossible. Ron Meade's two field goals and one extra point boot were vital. Harry Tolly's punting and play-calling was superb. It was a Tolly punt which rolled dead on the Oklahoma four-yard line that set up the third Nebraska touchdown giving them a 21-14 lead with five minutes gone in the final quarter.

After Boyd picked up six yards for Oklahoma, Wahoo McDaniel punted to Pat Fischer on the Nebraska 36 and Fischer returned it to the Sooner three-yard line. It took Nebraska three plays to move the ball into the end zone. Meade converted for the extra point to make it 22-14.

Zentic Scores
LeRoy Zentic came up with what every lineman dreams about when he fielded a bad punt and returned it 36 yards for a touchdown. The Huskers have three conference games remaining as the season draws to a close. They travel to Iowa State for an encounter with Clay Stapleton's "Dirty Thirty," Saturday. The Huskers will host Colorado in a Parent's Day game, Nov. 14, before ending the season against Kansas State at Manhattan.

Nebraska Is Back In Bowl Picture

Nebraska's upset victory over Oklahoma, Saturday, puts the Huskers back in the Orange Bowl picture as a darkhorse candidate.

Oklahoma, Kansas, Iowa State, Missouri and Colorado are above Nebraska in the conference standings with all of them except Oklahoma having a shot at the bowl berth. The Sooners are ineligible, so the runnerup team will make the trip.

If Nebraska wins their remaining three games with Iowa State, Colorado and Kansas State, and if Kansas loses one of their two remaining games with Colorado and Missouri, the Huskers and Jayhawks would be tied with 4-2 records.

It could be a three-way tie with Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska if Missouri defeats Kansas State and Kansas. The only way Nebraska can win a clear-cut claim to the title is to win its three remaining games, while Kansas loses to Colorado and Missouri. Missouri would also have to lose to Kansas State. It is a complicated process but here is a week-by-week rundown on what would have to happen:

Weekend of Nov. 7—Nebraska must defeat Iowa State and Kansas must lose to Colorado. Missouri plays a non-conference game with the Air Force Academy.

Weekend of Nov. 14—Nebraska has to win over Colorado. Kansas plays Oklahoma State which does not count in the conference standings. Missouri has to lose to Kansas State.

Weekend of Nov. 21—Nebraska would need a victory over Kansas State and Missouri would have to defeat Kansas.

Dream Come True

ZENTIC SCORES—LeRoy Zentic, Husker guard, fulfilled what every lineman dreams of when he picked an errant punt out of the air and raced 36 yards to score in the second quarter giving Nebraska a 12-6 lead. Giving chase is the Sooners' Dale Keadle.

Freshmen Complete Undefeated Season

For the second year in a row, the Nebraska freshman football team rolled to an undefeated season.

Friday's 19-0 victory over Kansas State at Manhattan was the season finale for the Huskers and coupled with a win over Iowa State gave them a 2-0 record.

The Nebraska defense held the Wildcats to only 14 yards in total offense. All 14 yards came by rushing. The Huskers ground out 280 yards rushing and passing.

Kansas State attempted 10 passes, completing none while the young Huskers made good on 7 of 19 attempts.

The first Nebraska score came in the second quarter when Odell Parker fell on a blocked punt in the end zone. Dick Strutz added the extra point to make it 7-0 at half-time.

Nebraska scored twice in the fourth quarter to complete the rout. A 22-yard pass play from John Faiman to Gary Larsen was good for six points.

The final touchdown came on a 43-yard run by Jim Ippolito after taking a pitchout.
