Candidates for Two Titles Announced

Board Will Screen 34 Commandant Nominees

Honorary commandant nominees have been submitted and the girls will make their appearance before a selection board next Sunday at 2 p.m. in 235 Student Union.

From the girls who were selected by their organizations, nine will be chosen by the board to compete for the titles of Miss Air Force, Miss Army and Miss Navy. Cadets from each of the three groups will have three candidates from which to choose representatives.

All-Campus Election

An all-campus election will determine the 1959 Honorary Commandant. In case she already has been selected by one of the service branches, the second highest girl in that division will represent that branch.

The nine finalists will be presented during halftime ceremonies at the Colorado-Nebraska game Nov. 14.

The three service queens and the honorary commandant will be presented at the Military Ball Dec. 4.

Selection Method

Judges George Porter, chairman of the elections committee and assistant chairman Ron Smith, both of Navy ROTC; Bob Paine and Dick Hodge, Air Force representatives; Bob Blair and Lowell Hansen, Army representatives, and Col. E. R. McCarthy, adviser, will make their decision according to beauty, poise, personality and popularity.

ger, Gamma Phi Beta; Diane Douglas and Sally Smiley, Kappa Alpha Theta; Jacque Janecek and Jane Luchsinger, Alpha Chi Omega; Margaret Aiken and Marilyn Pickett, Pi Beta Phi; Claire Verba and Gmel Atalik, Love Memorial Hall; Priscilla Eckrich and Linda Rohwedder, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Sharon Fangman and Ruth Huston, Kappa Delta; Daisy Hufford and Kaymarie Swartz, Sigma Kappa; Jan Osterloh and Diana Maxwell, Residence Halls.

Ruth Prochaska and Kay Livgren, Delta Gamma; Martie Hansen and Nancy Johnson, Chi Omega; Gloria Swartz and Suzanne Roberts, Terrace Hall; Judy Hanneman Delta Delta Delta; Eunice McCosh and Marilyn Swett, Zeta Tau Alpha; Marcia Boden and Carol Kucera, Alpha Xi Delta; Yvonne Young and Sandra Whalen, Alpha Omicron Pi; Karma Anderson and Karen Koda, Fedde Hall; Judith Truell and Sally Downs, Alpha Phi.

Colbert Says Discipline Not Decided

Game Celebrators Found In Field

Disciplinary action for 26 University students who celebrated Nebraska's win over Oklahoma with a beer party is awaiting further investigation.

J. P. Colbert, Dean of Student Affairs, said Tuesday the students would be summoned to his office soon, so that the investigations could get under way.

No Other Action

So far no other action has been taken and parents have not been notified, Colbert said. He received the reports from County Sheriff Merle Karnopp's office Tuesday afternoon.

The students, 25 of whom were under 21, were apprehended by three sheriff's deputies Monday at 2:30 p.m. near Emerald. The deputies were making a routine check of county roads when they noticed the party in a cornfield. They had not been summoned to the spot, the report said.

They confiscated about 30 cans and bottles of beer. The students were not held, but their names were referred along with the report to the campus police, who turned the matter over to the office of Student Affairs.

Tribunal Not Sure

Colbert declined to say whether the matter would be brought before the Student Tribunal.

According to the Dean, this is the only complaint he has received of student misconduct during the one-day vacation.

Drill Team Gets Name—'Countesses'

"Cadence Countesses" will be the official name for the newly organized girl's drill team.

The team, organized in conjunction with the Pershing Rifle team, is planning to make its first appearance at the annual Military Ball. The group hopes to eventually be able to appear at the University football games and other similar events.

The uniforms of the drill team will be white corduroy skirts with royal blue trim. The team's hats, scarves and gloves also will be royal blue and the girls will wear white majorette boots.

The drill team at present has a membership of 22. The members are Sharon DeMars, Bethen Smith, Marcia Bohling, Betty Conden, Sharon Debus, Virginia Dier, Sharon Dietrich, Judy Hovelsrud, Marilyn Huddleston, Linda Kaes, Jo Ann Goebel, Karen Knaub, Lee Anne Kitto, Joanne Petersen, Marcia Miller, Gladys Rafert, LeNette Wiese, Sue Stump, Karen Anker, Jan Dorland, Sue Platz and Mary Gude.

Dixielanders Jazz It Up

DIXIELAND FIVE—One group which will be included in the Student Union Variety Show set for Sunday is Jim Herbert's combo called the Dixieland Five. Members are Gene Axelson, bass; Dave Kreck, piano; Jim Finnell, drums; Bob Force, clarinet; Bob Kovarik, Trumpet; and Herbert, trombone. Tickets for the show will be on sale in the Union. Rehearsals began last week for the show which includes singers, dancers, combos and comical readers in 14 acts.

Leading Lady Sought For Original Play Role

University Theatre is searching for a "new" leading lady.

The search is for the lead part in an entirely original play "Rockspring," written by playwright R. V. Vliet. Vliet is looking for the ideal person to portray his leading part, the part of Billie Borah.

Running a Ranch Billie is a 27-year-old widow who has taken charge of running a Texas ranch after the death of her rancher husband. The situation becomes complicated when Billie falls in love with her deceased husband's son.

Vliet is looking for an actress who can depict Billie as a mixture of strength and weakness, beauty and plainness, goodness and guilt.

He also is searching for someone who will be able to portray the inner qualities of the lead part rather than a person with certain physical qualities such as voice and appearance.

Original

The play "Rockspring" won first place in the national playwriting contest sponsored by the University Theatre and Nebraska Masquers. According to Dr. Joseph Baldwin, this is the first completely original play to be produced and presented by University Theatre for many seasons.

Vliet will spend this week on campus listening to readings of his play. After working for a week with Dr. Baldwin, director of the play, and Dr. William Morgan, the designer technical director, he will return to his home in Meadville, Pa.

He will then revise and re-write parts of the play for the final script to be used in the February presentation.

Today's audition will not be the final try-out, said Dr. Baldwin, but Mr. Vliet wants to be able to hear the available talent and indicate one or more preferences if possible.

Dr. Baldwin described the role as an unusual combination of characteristics. He said he felt certain the "right" girl could be found for the part. He said he considered the part to be as important a lead part as the role of Anastasia.

"Rockspring" will be presented by the Theatre Feb. 25, 26 and 27. Since the performances will occur during the second semester, freshman women, as well as upperclass women, are eligible to read in the auditions.

Auditions will be held today from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. in Howell Theatre.

Shaw's 'Misalliance' Is 2nd Theatre Production

The cast for University Theatre's production of George Bernard Shaw's comedy "Misalliance" has been announced by Dr. Joseph Baldwin, acting director of the Theatre.

Taking part in the play will be Dave Meisenholder, Alice Baumgartner, Eric Prewitt, Judy DeVilbiss, Luther Frost, Jerry Mayer, Zeff Bernstein, Diana Peters and Wally Seiler.

Estate Owner

Meisenholder, a graduate student, is cast as Mr. Tarleton, owner of a great country estate in England. Tarleton's fortune has been made in a rags-to-riches success story—from humble clerk to president of world-famous "Tarleton's Underwear Inc."

Miss Baumgartner has been cast as Mrs. Tarleton.

The Tarletons have two grown children—Johnny, who is already making a name for himself in his father's business; and Hypatia, a "ripping fine girl" who restlessly sits at home waiting for adventure and romance.

Prewitt plays Johnny, and Miss DeVilbiss, Hypatia.

This wealthy middle-class family has friends in the nobility. Lord Summerhays, retired governor of the Imperial Province of Jingizkan, is portrayed by Frost, a graduate student.

His son, Bentley Summerhays, will be played by Mayer.

Unusual Entrance

Making a rather unusual entrance—via an airplane crash into the greenhouse—are pilot Joey Percival, and famous acrobat Lina Szczepanowska, Polish adventuress.

Bernstein plays the aviator and Miss Peters is cast as the glamorous Lina.

Entering the mansion with murder on his mind is a mysterious gunman, played by Seiler.

The play will be performed in Howell Theatre Dec. 9-12.

Builders To Meet

On Ag Campus

Builders will meet tonight at 7 at the Food and Nutrition Building on Ag Campus.

The executive board will meet at 6:30 p.m.

Chairmen should be there promptly, president Dick Basoco said.

Film Series Will Begin Tonight

Tonight marks the opening of the 1959-60 Foreign Film Society series.

"A Night to Remember," an English movie, starts the presentations at 8 p.m. in the Nebraska Theater. The film concerns the sinking of the ship Titanic.

Tickets for the movies are available at the Student Union, Ag Union, Miller and Paine's, Dietze Music Store and through house representatives. Prices are $4 for students, $5 for faculty and $6 for other patrons.

Other films in the series are "The Seventh Seal," Swedish; "Forbidden Fruit," French; "Samurai," Japanese; "The Red Balloon," French; "The Awakening," Italian; "Father Panchal," Indian; "The Crucible," French and "Flamenco," Spanish. Three other films have not been selected as yet.

Beauty Queen Nominees Interview This Week

Cornhusker Beauty Queen candidates will be interviewed this week for the honor of becoming finalists in the annual beauty contest sponsored by the Cornhusker yearbook.

The 44 candidates named by the organized houses and residence halls will go before the judges beginning at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Indian Suite of the Student Union.

Four Judges

Judges for selecting the 12 finalists will be Richard Blomgren, Lincoln photographer; Diane Butherus, Lincoln teacher; Dick Walker, manager of Pershing auditorium, and the Rev. Rex Knowles, Presbyterian campus pastor.

Basics for the selection are beauty, poise, personality, appearance and photogenic qualities.

The 12 will be revealed Feb. 25 at Coed Follies and the six queens will be announced in the 1960 Cornhusker.

Each house is entitled to one candidate for each 25 yearbooks sold.

Facilities Will Get Scrutiny

Subcommittee Interested in TV

The University's educational facilities will be under the scrutiny of five members of the Congressional subcommittee of Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee Friday.

Congressmen Larry Brock of Nebraska; Walter Rogers of Texas; Kenneth Roberts of Oklahoma; William Avery of Kansas and Chairman Oren Harris of Arkansas will arrive in Lincoln at noon Friday for a luncheon at the Student Union.

The subcommittee is interested in the University's educational television facilities in relation to the proposed federal grant-in-aid program for educational television, according to Congressman Brock.

Chancellor Clifford Hardin, Dr. K. O. Broady, director of the Extension Division; George Round, director of public relations and Jack McBride, director of television, will meet with the group.

The group's activities will include a tour of the educational TV station, a briefing on the current program and seeing televising of some of the programs.

The party also will tour the College of Medicine in Omaha in regard to the International Health Research Bill.

Dent Alums Give Award To Brauer

Dr. John Brauer, dean of the University of North Carolina's College of Dentistry, received the Distinguished Service Award of the University Dental College Alumni Association at the Nebraska Dental Alumni Homecoming celebration.

A native Nebraskan, Dr. Brauer received his Degree of Dental Surgery in 1928 and his Master's degree in 1936, both from the University of Nebraska.

Dr. Brauer was cited for promoting and advancing the science of dentistry for children in America.

The citation was the first of its kind and was presented by Dean Ralph Ireland of the University's Dentistry College.

Dr. Brauer is a native of Sterling and a graduate of Deshler High School. Upon graduation from the University, he practiced in New Orleans until 1930, when he joined the University's dental faculty.

He has also taught at Emory University, Iowa State, University of Washington, and the University of Southern California. He has been dean at North Carolina since 1950.

Sigma Delta Chi

Sigma Delta Chi will hold a noon luncheon meeting today in the Colonial Room of the Student Union. Pledges of the fraternity are asked to attend, according to Carrall Kraur, president.

Rag Opens Ag College Bureau

An Ag College news bureau of the Daily Nebraskan went into operation yesterday.

Located in the Ag Student Union, the bureau is open from 2 to 4 p.m. Monday and Tuesday. A paid staff member of the Daily Nebraskan will be there at these hours.

The bureau has been organized on a three-week trial basis in order to give better news coverage for Ag campus. Ag College reporters are expected to work at the times listed.

Typewriters for the bureau were furnished by the Union, as well as desks and bulletin boards.

Extension number of the office is 7125.

Square Dance Club

A square dance, sponsored by the All-University Square Dance Club, will be held at 8 p.m. Friday in the College Activities Building on Ag Campus.

Hazelrigg Addresses Convocation

A 1949 University graduate was the featured speaker for this year's engineers convocation at the University.

The convocation, which began at 11 a.m. today held in the Stuart Theater.

R. J. Hazelrigg, sales engineer for the J. M. Grimstad Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., spoke an "Engineers, Your Time Is Now." He explored the position of engineers in modern society and the influence of automation on the modern world.

A member of various organizations, including the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the University "N" Club, Hazelrigg also is a native of Lincoln.
