Honorary Commandant Chosen By All-Student Voting Friday

Voting for the 1959 Honorary Commandant, to be presented at the Military Ball Dec. 4, will be held all day Friday in the Student Union. The nine finalists for the title were presented at the halftime of the Colorado-Nebraska football game Saturday. They are Elizabeth "Bunny" Aikens, Sally Downs, Priscilla Eckrich, Martha "Martie" Hansen, Ruth Huston, Margaret Marshall, Ruth Prochaska, Sondra Whalen and Yvonne Young. The finalists were selected from a field of 37 candidates nominated by women's organized houses. They were judged by a panel of five ROTC cadets and midshipmen and a staff adviser.

The judges were George Porter and Ron Smith of Navy ROTC; Bob Paine of Air Force ROTC; Bob Blair and Lowell Hansen of Army ROTC; and Col. E. R. McCarthy.

They were judged on beauty, poise, personality and popularity. Thirty-seven candidates competed in the interviews.

In the all-campus election Friday, students will vote for three girls.

"Pollticking" By voting for three, according to Ball publicity chairman Dick Basoco, "It is felt that this will eliminate any possible pollticking."

The breaking down of the finalists into the three services for election of service queen will be done prior to the Friday voting, he said. However, the services will not know who their three finalists are until Nov. 23 and 24, when they vote, he explained.

This way, Basoco pointed out, services will not be able to vote for their three candidates in the all-campus election Friday.

Runnerup If one of the services selects a queen who is also the Honorary Commandant, the runnerup in that service will be the queen.

Miss Aikens is a sophomore in Teachers College and a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Miss Downs is a senior in Teachers and secretary of Alpha Phi sorority.

Miss Eckrich is a senior in Teachers and secretary of Kappa Gamma sorority.

Miss Hansen is a junior in Home Economics and social chairman of Chi Omega sorority.

Miss Huston is a sophomore in Home Economics and a member of Kappa Delta sorority.

Miss Marshall is a senior in Arts and Sciences and Teachers College and a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Miss Prochaska is a senior in Home Economics and secretary of Delta Gamma sorority.

Miss Whalen is a senior in Arts and Sciences and president of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

Miss Young is a senior in Teachers College and a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

Top Cello Artist Will Perform

Leonard Rose, hailed by many as the "Master Cellist of Our Time," will be the featured artist at the first concert of the University Symphony Orchestra.

The inaugural concert will be held in the Student Union Ballroom Sunday at 8 p.m. The concert will be under the direction of Prof. Emanuel Wishnow. There will be no admission charge.

Rose, who has played with most of the leading orchestras and in the major music centers of North America and Europe, has also been honored with the Grand Prix du Disque award.

His performance of Brahms "Double Concerto in A Minor for Violin and Cello," recorded with Isaac Stern and the New York Philharmonic orchestra received the award.

Included in the program will be "Overture to Iphigenia in Aulis," by Gluck; "Concerto in B Minor for Violin, Cello and Orchestra," by Dvorak; "Berceuse and Finale from the Firebird," by Stravinsky and "Capriccio Italien," by Tchaikowsky.

German School Plans Celebration

The bicentennial anniversary of the birth of Friedrich von Schiller will be celebrated by a program presented by the department of Germanic languages and literatures Thursday at 7:30 in Love Library Auditorium.

Dads Turn Vocalists

DG DADS—Delta Gamma sorority held an open house Saturday afternoon before the game, with a program for their dads. Several fathers wrote an impromptu song to sing to their daughters. It went something like this: "Hang down your head, Bud Wilkinson, Hang down your head and cry. Hang down your head, Bud Wilkinson, you didn't win 75." Left to right in the picture are Jerry Bush, Robert Holbert and Horace Gomon.

Blair Says Folks Day Is Success

Parents Day, held in conjunction with the Colorado-Nebraska football game Saturday, was deemed a success by Bob Blair, chairman of the Parents Day Committee.

Blair said that an estimated 250 parents went through a reception Saturday morning at the Student Union. The line consisted of the Chancellor, his assistant James Pittinger, Director of Athletics Bill Orwig and various college heads.

"We were more than pleased with the turnout although the weather probably made it impossible for some parents to come," Blair said. "From 10-11:30 a.m. there was a steady stream of parents coming to the Open House," he added.

Open House was held in the Union and free coffee and doughnuts were served. It was estimated that even more parents attended the Open House than the reception.

There were 150 mail orders for tickets to the game from parents and additional tickets were purchased by students for their parents, which prevented an accurate count of parents attending the game during Parents Day, Blair said.

Navy Employers Will Interview Students Monday

Engineering and science students interested in naval engineering and related fields will be interviewed by Navy employment representatives Monday.

The interviews will be made for work in three of the top scientific centers of the Navy's new Bureau of weapons.

These civilian-manned laboratories are concerned with new weapons and missile research development and testing.

All three centers are located in Southern California.

Employment inquiries from any experienced engineers or scientists who are interested also are welcomed.

—Blood Cooler Bought— Regents Accept Training Grants, Research Aids Totaling $304,357

The University Board of Regents accepted $184,871 in training grants and $119,486 in research aid Friday night.

In addition to the grants, all received in the graduate office since Sept. 23, regents acknowledged a $2,049.29 bequest from the estate of an Omaha woman.

The woman stipulated that University Hospital receive the money, and Adam Breckenridge, dean of faculties, said that a heat exchanger for a heart pump had been purchased.

Chancellor Clifford Hardin told Regents, "The apparatus will enable doctors to cool blood in minutes, instead of hours."

The Board also authorized purchase on two lots at 448

No. 17th for a total of $13,500. The property on the east side of the street is the site of a house partially damaged in a fire several weeks ago.

Increased costs in operation of University automobiles prompted Regents to revise their system in allowances and charges. They approved a one cent per mile allowance raise to six cents.

Under the law, the maximum rate permitted is eight cents per mile, Chancellor Hardin noted. He also noted that the Agricultural Extension division used 40 per cent of the car-travel budget.

Reimbursed Regents agreed that individuals using the private cars for University business should be reimbursed the six cents rate with the following exceptions:

—If an individual requests a University car at least 24 hours before departure and the car is not available, the Car Pool will submit a voucher that mileage may be claimed at seven cents per mile.

—Since the use of University cars outside the state is discouraged, the Pool will pay a rate of seven cents for use of private autos.

—Except as noted above, and in those cases where the use of the private cars have been determined to be the advantage of the University, individuals using private cars outside the state will be paid the equivalent of first class

Campus Parking Found 'Not Overcrowded'

... Council Committee

Over the last two months the campus parking situation has been going through an extensive evaluation by the University's Parking Board, according to J. B. Fournier, chairman.

The results of the evaluation caused Fournier, he said, to conclude that there is more campus parking available and not in use than is overcrowded.

Elgin Lot The evaluation showed that the Elgin lot has 60-70 spaces not being used during certain parts of the day, the No. 10th Street lot has around 40 empty, Area No. 2 has over 300, and the 13th and Avery lot usually has 20 vacant.

The only lots that seem to be extremely crowded are the two Selleck lots.

Under special evaluation by the Administration and the Board is the experiment in meter parking east of the Student Union. Originally the lot, which cost $11,500, was designed as premium parking for students who have mid-day classes and do not want to drive to school at 8:00 a.m. to get parking close to school.

The meters have been criticized because they do not show the time remaining. On this problem Fournier said, "The meters in that lot are designed to do just that."

When students have to put in ten or twenty cents each time they want to park, there is a marked increase in the revenue."

He quickly went on to say that the meters are not designed to take money away from the students but "to pay for the expense of the lot and to improve campus parking in general."

Limit Freshmen The Board has had under consideration the proposed idea to limit freshman students to the least used lots, relieving some of the congestion in close lots. Since no decision has been made yet, the Board requests any comments or suggestions from students.

AUF Solicitors Are Requested

All University Fund workers, persons who signed up, or anyone wishing to solicit for the independent drive in the city of Lincoln, may pick up their materials in the AUF office at the Student Union Tuesday or Wednesday.

The AUF office in room 343 will be open from noon to 10 p.m. Packets of directions may be signed out and money returned during these hours.

Any group of four students with a car may choose the day and hours they wish to solicit. Receipts will be given for each donation and all funds must be turned in by 10 p.m. Wednesday.

ASME Honors 50-Yr. Member

William DeBaufre, a retired University professor, was recognized at McCook for his 50 years as a member of the Nebraska section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Frey Named Most Likely Friday

Carol Frey, Alpha Phi, was chosen "Girl Most Likely to Stop the Colorado Buffalo" at Friday night's pep rally.

She was dressed as a pilgrim complete with musket and pilgrim hat. The selection was made as the best all-around idea from among the 19 contenders.

Two runner-ups were also selected. Jantina Dyksterhuis, Chi Omega was selected as the candidate with the most spirit. She was dressed as a white rabbit and carried a baseball bat with which to sock the Buffaloes.

Linda Disbrow, Delta Delta Delta, was chosen for the best costume.

She was dressed as an Eskimo and bombarded the crowd with snowballs.

The judges made their selection on audience appeal, originality of costume and spirit generated.

Miss Frey was presented with a large red and white teddy bear and appeared during the half time of Saturday's football game.

Huskers Praise Colorado Quarterback

By Herb Probasco "That guy's the best in the conference. Till next year, anyway."

Nebraska's passing quarterback Joe Rutigliano had this to say about Colorado's Gale Weidner who filled the sky with arials Saturday during the Huskers' 14-12 victory.

Rutigliano's teammates were quick to agree with him regarding the Buffalo quarterback's passing prowess.

Center Jim Moore added, "That k't: a good passer. And that fullback (Chuck Weiss) is one helluva good runner."

Good Ends "We looked good out there today," smiled fullback Noel

Martin. "I wished we looked like that all season. But don't talk to me, all I did was keep the fire going," he quipped.

Tackle Joe Gacusana said, "They wanted that Orange Bowl pretty bad, I guess. They sure played hard. The ends were darned good, too."

"It was a pretty tough game, but we just outought 'em," commented halfback Clay White, as he got a rub-down on the training table.

Senior quarterback Harry Tolly said, "It wasn't the cold so much as the wind that bothered us. When you're playing out there, it isn't cold, though. The fans were probably colder," he added.

Husker head coach Bill Jennings slouched in his chair in the coaches' room, still wearing his hat and coat.

"Just once, I'd like to get out in front, not ease up, but know we've got a chance to win," he remarked about the narrow margin of victory that has been on the scoreboard in all of the Huskers' home wins.

Whistle? Jennings said he didn't substitute units Saturday because several players were injured and since the weather was so cold, the first team didn't get as tired.

On the play when a Colorado punt hit a Buff lineman and Pat Fischer picked up the ball, he said the referee "must have blown the whistle, otherwise it would have been a touchdown."

Jennings added that he didn't hear the whistle.

Saturday was the first time he planned to use Fischer at quarterback, he said. "Pat had some work as the second quarterback earlier this year," he added.

Across the way in the stillness of the Colorado dressing room, halfback Jerry Steffen, a native of Crofton, Nebr., compared the Cornhuskers with other Big Eight teams.

"They're better than they were last year," he said, "but they're not as good as Iowa State, Missouri and Kansas. I think they'll beat Kansas State, though," he added about the Cornhuskers' foe next week.

"That Zaruba really surprised us on the touchdown run," Steffen said. "We didn't think he'd have the speed to go all the way, but he sure fooled us."

Joe Romig, sophomore linebacker who played the last quarter with a broken nose blamed Nebraska guard Leroy Zentic for the injury.

"Heck, I didn't break it, some Nebraska guy did it. I think it was that 62 (Zentic)," he declared.

Nebraska players came through the contest with several injuries.

Don Purcell suffered a bruised hip and Pat Fischer, a bruised leg. Guard Don Olson played with a case of the flu and trainer George Sullivan said he would probably be put in Student Health Saturday night.

SHE STOPPED 'EM—Chosen "Most Likely To Stop A Colorado Buffalo," Alpha Phi Carol Frey must have really bopped the Buffs with her Blunderbuss Saturday. Nebraska 14-Colorado 12!
