

WHOOOPS — The trials of a student are many as shown by this unfortunate gentleman, who managed to take a graceful face-first fall in the snow while pushing a colleague out of a parking space. The car made it, but the student wasn't quite as successful as he took an impromptu dive in the slush. He was a little better off though, than the fellow who just gave up, left his car in the street and took the bus. (Photo by Doug McCartney.)

Lincoln, Knepper Chosen For 'Pajama Game' Leads

Amer Lincoln and Paula Knepper will play the leads in the Kosmet Klub spring show, "The Pajama Game." The secondary leads chosen were George Mechling as Hinse, Norman Riggins as Hasler, Joe Hill as Pres and Beverly Ruck as Gladys. Other members of the cast include Leanne Jensen, Mabel; Sue Worley, Mae; Bill Larson, Pop; Bell Baker, Max; Gary Kahler, Joe; Gus Bueenz, Charley; Lou Lawson, first worker; Gary

Christensen, second worker. Mary Kay Conrad, Poopie; Sandy Heffelfinger, Carmen; Marion Brayton, Brenda; Sandra Johnson, Virginia; Sharon Anderson, Lynda; and Claire Roehrkasse, Sara. Chorus Members Members of the chorus include Sandi Heffelfinger, Mary Kay Conrad, Sandra Johnson, Sharon Anderson, Claire Roehrkasse, Marion Brayton, Judy Tenhulzen, Lynn Tooley, Suzanne Maxwell, Lou Ann DeWall, Gari

Hathaway, Jane MaLaughlin, Sue Worley. Gary Christenson, Lynn Flood, Gary Kahler, Lou Lawson, Gus Bueenz, Bill Larson, Terry Boyes, John Guiland, Gary Cramer, Cal Carlson, Bill Connell and Ray Woitasek. The comedy takes place in a pajama factory. The factory workers are threatening to strike if they do not receive a seven and one-half percent raise which all other

workers in the industry have received. Babe is a union officer and finds herself on the opposite side of the conflict as her sweetheart Sid who is a superintendent in the factory. The skin-flint factory boss, Hasler, refuses to allow the wage raise. The situation creates a break in the romance of Sid and Babe but Gladys, Hasler's secretary, saves the day with a secret key solving everyone's trouble. Mrs. Bonna Tebo Hayes, dramatics director for the show, described the show as a clever comedy which lends easily to theatrical staging. The novel excitement and gynness of the play captivates the audience from the beginning, she said. Fine Scenery Mrs. Hayes mentioned Hernandez's Hideaway and the rally as two scenes that would be unusual because of the fine scenery. She predicted the fine music and dance numbers planned will also help to make the show a success. Musical hits featured in "The Pajama Game" are "Hernando's Hideaway," "Steam Heat," "Not at All In Love," as well as many others. Mrs. Hayes remarked casting of the play was very difficult because of the number of excellent people trying out. She said 50-60 persons tried out for parts in the play. She feels the cast represents a good cross section of the campus as it includes graduate and undergraduate students as well as representatives from many of the colleges. Rehearsals will be held this week Wednesday through Friday at 7:30 in the Student Union. Saturday's rehearsal will be held at 2 p.m. Practices will also be held each night next week at 7:30 and on Saturday, February 20 at 2 p.m. The evening practices on February 23, 24 and 25 will be spent on production numbers and a complete practice of the show will be Saturday, February 25.

Senate Discusses, OKs Athletic Report

The Faculty Senate Tuesday heard a favorable report from the committee on intercollegiate athletics at its regular monthly meeting. The report, which was unanimously approved by the Senate members in attendance, said the committee "has met on several occasions with the Director of Athletics (Bill Orwig) and the faculty representative to the Big Eight Conference (Dr. Charles S. Miller).

Good Information "The committee is pleased to state that on all occasions there has been an earnest effort to inform the committee on academic aspects of the athletic program as well as the soliciting of the advice of the faculty members regarding academic matters related to athletics. "We discussed a possible reduction in the number of grants-in-aid and a conference limitation on the number, possibilities of an increase in the scholastic requirements and the eligibility of transfer students. "In general," the report concluded, "we feel that the department of athletics is conducting an academically sound athletic program."

The report was signed by the members of the committee, who are Dale K. Hayes, professor of school administration; John H. Pazur, associate professor of chemistry; Orwig, Miller, who is Dean of the College of Business Administration and William N. Gilliland, professor of geology. Orwig, Miller and Gilliland are ex-officio members of the committee. Prof. Lloyd Hurlbut, chairman of the department of agricultural engineering, submitted the report of the liaison committee. Liaison Committee Senate members also voted on three new members for the liaison committee. The results will be announced at a later date. On the ballot were Robert H. Cole, associate professor of business organization and management; A. Stuart Hall, associate professor of economics; Dale Hayes, professor of school administration; Royce Knapp, professor of secondary education; E. J. Marmo, professor of engineering mechanics; and Sam Weinstein, associate professor of orthodontics.

Glass Blower Employed

...Moore's Work Is 'Interesting But Dangerous'

By Jim Forrest Anyone for glass blowing? Lloyd Moore, professional glass blower for the University, says, "Glass blowing, which is one of man's oldest professions, is highly interesting and technical work." "It calls for a great deal of training and experience before a person can handle white hot glass, at 1200 degrees, without being burned," he said. Early Start Moore started his career as a hobby at the University of Kansas with the glass blower there. By repairing under-graduate flasks, beakers and tubing he was able to earn extra money while learning a valuable skill and attending class. After two and one half years of training at Kansas, Moore accepted the position of glass blower in the labora- tory equipment department of Avery laboratory as a professional glass blower. "Repair work is only a part of the work here at Avery," explained Moore. "It is the custom building of specialized equipment for research projects throughout the state that consumes most of the time." Both students and professors concerned with these projects submit drawings of the desired equipment to Moore showing all specifications. From these drawings Moore constructs the equipment and calibrates all the graduations himself. Equipment Built "The most interesting and challenging piece of apparatus I have made was a single stage oil diffusion pump," said Moore. Moore, who makes equipment for institutions all over

Kingston Trio Ticket Sales Appear Good

Ticket sales for the upcoming Kingston Trio appearance are greater than returns for the cancelled Johnny Mathis show, according to Corn Cobs booking agent, Howard Kooper. When questioned about ticket sales, Kooper said that he had no definite figures available but there has been an increase in tickets sold. Last year the Student Union lost $300 to $500 on the Trio's appearance. The show, however, was termed a success as 2,343 tickets were sold, netting $4,278. This year the Trio will appear Feb. 24 at Pershing Auditorium.

Band Show Set Feb. 21

The University Collegiate Band's sixth annual concert, conducted by Jack Snider, will be held Feb. 21 at 4 p.m. in the Student Union Ballroom. Most of the numbers will be new compositions by American composers. Special features will include Wesley Reist, soloist, playing "Serenade" and "Junior Miss" and a trumpet sextet playing "The Three Trumpeteers." Members of the sextet are Ronald Elmshausen, Allen Epstein, Robert Kovarick, Dno Morgan, Robert Nelson and Richard Slepicka. Admission will be free.

Grad Fellowships Available at D.U.

Graduate fellowships are available for study in the field of international relations at the University of Denver. The fellowships are provided by the Social Science Foundation and range from tuition to $1,600. Applications must be post-marked no later than March 1. For further information and application forms write the director, Social Science Foundation, University of Denver, Denver 10, Colorado.

Flu Cases Reported—But Not An Epidemic

The recent increase in the number of influenza cases has not reached the point of an epidemic yet, according to Dr. Samuel Fuenning, director of Student Health. Dr. Fuenning said that at present there have been only 40 cases at the health center and about another 20 that were treated at the clinic. "This number is not extremely prevalent and can not be termed an epidemic," he pointed out. The University Health Center keeps in close contact with the houses on campus and if further development of the flu should happen, Dr. Fuenning explained, they will initiate the same plan as they did three years ago when the Asiatic flu hit the nation. The plan used three years ago attempted to get everyone with a fever to report to their health chairman and go to Student Health or to bed immediately. "This is the time of the years for influenza," stated Dr. Fuenning, "so there is a definite increase of the flu throughout the nation." The few isolated cases that have hit the campus seem to be widely scattered except for one house which reported 15 cases last week. "There is no great need to be alarmed," commented Dr. Fuenning. "We have been able to handle all the cases so far."

Fischer Selected Assistant Jennings' Staff At Full Strength

Coach Bill Jennings rounded out his football staff late Tuesday evening with the appointment of Cletus Fischer as assistant coach. Fischer, a former Nebraska grid star, will return to Nebraska after a one year stay at Midland, Tex., where he coached high school football. The 34-year-old assistant coach has been in the profession for 10 years. Prior to his Midland job Fischer was head football coach at Omaha South for four years. He spent five years at Columbus St. Bonaventure prior to the Omaha job. Fischer played football for Nebraska during the seasons of 1945-48. Upon graduation he played professional football with the New York Giants for one year and then entered the coaching field. In making the announcement Tuesday evening, Publicity Director John Bentley said Fischer would receive a salary of $8,000 a year.

Nixon Plans Not Definite On NU Visit

The Young Republicans received word Tuesday that Vice-President Richard Nixon has not made definite plans to visit the campus while in Nebraska in March. Rod Ellerbusch, president of the Young Republicans, sent a letter to Nixon requesting him to visit our campus while in Nebraska. Following is a telegram sent to the YRs from Nixon. "My thanks for your letter of Dec. 23 with further reference to your cordial invitation to visit the University of Nebraska. Unfortunately, it will not be possible for me to set up, on a final basis, the schedule for the time I will be in Lincoln in March until sometime nearer to the date of my visit. I shall be in touch with you when I have determined what my schedule will be. Regards"—Richard Nixon. Ellerbusch is still in hopes that Nixon will be able to visit our campus. "We have been assured by state party officials that a campus visit ranks high in priority for his time while he is in Lincoln," said Ellerbusch.

Mademoiselle Competition Nears End

Deadline for Mademoiselle's College Fiction Contest is March 1. The winner will receive a $500 prize and her story will be printed in the Mademoiselle Magazine. Any woman undergraduate under 26 presently enrolled in school may enter and submit as many stories as she wishes. The manuscripts must be typewritten, double spaced and should run from 2,500 to 5,000 words. The announcement of the winners will be made in the August 1960 issue of Mademoiselle.

College of Law Schedules Tests

All students planning to enter the College of Law next fall must take the University of Nebraska Law Aptitude Test, according to Dean E. O. Belsheim. Tests will be given March 29 and 31 at 1:30 p.m. in 201 Law College. Attendance is required on both days to complete the examination. Applications for admission to the college should be filed before the testing date. At least 63 hours of college work are required for admission.

Two Students Will Sponsor Camping Trip

Two University graduate students, George Jakway and Henry Pollack, are planning to sponsor an eight-week camping trip for boys. The trip will be limited to 12 boys between the ages of 12 and 15 and will cover nine Northwestern States and two Canadian provinces. It will include elementary instruction in natural sciences, history and culture. Jakway, now working on his Ph.D., is on the University's zoology staff and has led field expeditions for the State Museum. Pollack is a teaching assistant in geology and has done geological field work in several Western states.

YOU LOOK DEVINE, MY DEAR—Jane Cumming and Margery Coffey model some of the items they found in the costume rooms of Howell Theatre. All theater majors and workers are cleaning and re-doing the clothes, make-up, and prop rooms. The week-long project will consume most of the spare time of the thespians.
