

Dr. Baldwin Writes, Gets Awards for Plays

Dr. Joseph Baldwin, associate professor of speech and dramatic art, has a special interest in "Rockspring," the winning three-act play of a national contest sponsored by Nebraska Masquers and University Theater.

Baldwin, who will direct the play, is himself the author of nine full-length plays which have been produced by college groups across the nation.

These have included: "The Wishing-Hill," produced in 1947 by the State University of Iowa; "Uncertain November," 1948, State University of Iowa; "The Fine, Clean Anger of Private McElroy," 1948, University of Wichita; "After the Recital, 1949, University of Alabama.

"Constant Star," 1951, centennial drama for Illinois Wesleyan University; "The Light-Bearers," 1953, centennial drama for Culver Stockton College; "The Railroad Upstairs," 1953, University of Mississippi; "Thompson," 1955, University of Alabama; and "A Candle is Lighted," 1955, centennial drama for the Alabama Education Association.

In addition Baldwin received the Texas Playwrights' Award in 1951, the Theodore Marburg Award in 1952 and the Birmingham Festival of Arts Playwriting Award and Marian van den Burg Award in 1958.

Two short stories were published by the author in the "Tennessean" in 1949 and 1950. These were "The Meeting" and "Shortest Route to the Other Shore."

Professor Baldwin also has earned recognition for the numerous professional articles and papers which he has authored.

Included are: "College Playwriting: a Student's Opinions," "Writing the Play," "Writing Your First Play," "A Formula for Dramatic Observation," "Producing New Plays in the University Theater."

"Teaching Playwriting in College," "The Playwright's Viewpoint," "Standards for the Historical Thesis in Drama," "Report on Creative Theses in Drama" and "Modern Verse Drama."

Baking Co. Seeks Coed For Title

A University coed will reign as Miss Wonder Bread in the near future.

Sponsored by the Continental Baking Company, candidates for the title will be selected for interviews on the basis of appearance and grooming, personality and talent.

The young lady chosen will make a variety of public appearances in supermarkets, service clubs and on television.

Miss Wonder Bread will be accompanied by a home economist and arrangements for her appearances will be made in harmony with her class and study schedule.

Girls interested in applying may contact Mrs. Jane Eller in 207 Administration by March 4.

Nat'l YW Officer To Interview Job Interested

Students who may be considering professional positions with the YWCA will have the opportunity to confer with a national official, Miss Sally Beck, on Wednesday.

Openings for professional posts which graduates or undergraduates may consider include community YWCA's, teenage program directors, young adult program directors, physical education or recreational directors and executive directors of YWCA's on college and university campuses.

Interviews with Miss Beck may be arranged through the University YWCA office.

NU Purchases Digital Computer

Two lectures on digital computers will be given next Thursday by Dr. Edgar Eichorn, director of the applied mathematics division of the Burroughs Corporation.

The lectures, open to the public, deal with the new $95,000 digital computer which the University has purchased.

"Scientific Applications of Digital Computers" will be the first lecture given in 104 Burnett at 2 p.m.

The second lecture, "Applications of Digital Computers to Diffraction Techniques," will be given at 4:15 p.m. in Brace Laboratory Auditorium.

Jazz Mass To Be Given Sunday Eve

The Ordinary of the Mass will be set to jazz Sunday evening by a five-piece combo in the Pan American Room of the Student Union.

The Mass in jazz, sponsored by the Cotner School of Religion and the University Episcopal Chapel, begins at 7:30 p.m. It is open to the public and no admission will be charged.

Composer for the church mass in jazz is Frank Tirro, senior in Teachers.

Members of the combo are: John Mills, trumpet; Norman Smith, alto sax; Bill Brannen, baritone sax; John Marshall, bass; and Paul Leacock, drums.

Sue Worley, senior in Teachers, will direct the Episcopal choir.

Policy Repeated

Club announcements must be in the office of the Nebraskan by 11:30 a.m. Saturday if they are to appear in Monday's Campus Calendar column.

NU Participates In Poultry Study

New Markets for poultry and eggs produced in this state is the research project of the Nebraska poultry interests and the University.

Dr. John Adams, chairman of the University department of poultry husbandry, is currently touring South America to evaluate marketing opportunities for Nebraska poultry products.

In addition, Dr. Adams is checking the effects of international shipping on eggs and poultry. This is the first time that an attempt has been made to determine by research some of the problems involved in shipping eggs and poultry to South America.

IBM Representative To Speak Here

A joint meeting of the student engineering professional societies will be held Wednesday, at 7:30 p.m. in Love Library Auditorium.

Mr. H. H. Bloem of IBM will speak on "The Use of Computers in Solving Problems of an Engineering Nature."

On Other Campuses: Traffic: Place to Train ROTC Men for Combat

One suggestion for further use of the ROTC cadets has come from Jerry Ratts, columnist of the Kansas State Collegian.

ROTC men on that campus guard posts at the Kansas State basketball and football games.

Ratts has suggested that ROTC cadets be used to direct traffic during the noon hour.

"It would be a dual service," says Ratts. "Not only would the ROTC students aid the people trying to get home, but in what better way can these military leaders of tomorrow gain that invaluable experience that will help them to prepare their men for combat and lead them into it."

Kansas ROTC Revised

ROTC classes have been revised at the University of Kansas.

A program of increased studies in science, psychology and related fields for advanced ROTC students was announced recently by Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker.

Beginning next fall, advanced ROTC students will take about 20 per cent of their instruction in university-taught subjects in science, psychology, communications and political instructions.

Driver Education

Iowa State University offers driver education courses for students unable to drive a car.

The course consists of classroom work and behind-the-wheel instruction in dual control cars. The students practice with manual and physical aids before they are allowed to drive. Each student receives a minimum of 30 hours of instruction for the $20 fee.

There is also a Seminar in Safety offered. The major objective of this course is to develop background and subject matter to be used in safety education. At each meeting a well-known authoritative official will present some special topic relating to the problems of safety education.

'Stop Day' at Kansas

The Student Council at the University of Kansas is continuing its campaign for a "Stop Day" before final examinations.

A committee of the Council took the proposal to the Registrar and was referred to the Calendar Committee, which gave no definite answer.

It was stated in the Dairy Kansan that "the administration thinks the idea is fine but they feel that the students will not use the extra day for studying."

Iowa State 'Daze'

Iowa State University coeds will have a chance to prove "how fast they really are" during the annual Dame's Daze this year, according to the Iowa State Daily.

Women's residences will choose their "fastest" representative to compete in a cross-campus race. The object of the race will be to overtake one of the two prominent male student leaders before he can reach the finish line. The two men will be given a head start. The winning woman will be awarded a trophy for her residence.

What if the two men aren't caught? "No trophy will be awarded... this is a race where close doesn't count."

Rodeo Club Has Initiation

The University Rodeo Club has initiated 18 new members.

The club, which boasts members from most colleges on campus, sponsors the Nebraska Intercollegiate championship Rodeo every year.

New members were required to harness a team of work horses from the College of Agriculture.

Utilities Confab Here This Week

Supervisors and operators of utility systems will be on the campus Wednesday and Thursday for the 13th annual utilities conference to be held in the Student Union.

The conference is sponsored by the College of Engineering and Architecture and the Extension, along with the League of Nebraska Municipalities and the Nebraska section of the American Water Works Assn.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

OBFUSCATED ENGLISH PROF. FAILS TO FOOL FROOD

(see below)

Dear Dr. Frood: Very soon the major corporations will be scouting the colleges for capable seniors. They'll be offering fabulous salaries, big titles, golden opportunities. Whom should I work for to guarantee myself a secure future and top income?

Capable

Dear English: You can answer that one yourself. Simply put a match to a Lucky Strike and puff.

Dear Dr. Frood: For many months I have worked nights in the lab, developing the formula that I am convinced will make possible the perfect crime. It is a deadly poison that works externally, rather than internally. To test my formula, I have placed a large amount of the poison on this letter that you are now holding in your hands. Sorry it had to be you, old man.

Wolfgang

Dear Capable: Dad,

Dear Dr. Frood: Recently I saw this slogan for Lucky Strike: "Remember how great cigarettes used to taste? Luckies still do." I wonder if the Lucky Strike people realize there is a most serious obfuscation here. The modifier is awkward. Does "great" modify "taste"? Or does "great" modify "cigarettes"?

English Professor

Dear Dr. Frood: I wear button-down shirts. I wear grey flannel trousers. I wear fine tweed jackets. I wear British-made shoes. I wear thin striped ties. But still I have no friends. Why?

Friendless

Dear Dr. Frood: Would you please explain Einstein's theory of relativity in simple terms.

Physics Major

Dear Physics: Gladly. It is a theory. It is about relativity. It was thought up by a man named Einstein.

Dear Friendless: Your ties must be a trifle too thin.

Dear Dr. Frood: My sociology Professor says parents should be held responsible for juvenile delinquency. Do you agree?

Soc. Major

Dear Soc: Only if they are very young.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco.
