Literature Amazes Group

... Five Observe Ag College Classes

"We are amazed at the literature we have seen and collected. Nowhere in the world can we find it as graphic in all fields enabling anyone to carry through programs," said Icyline Seaton, an international extension observer from Jamaica.

She is one of five now at the College of Agriculture observing classes and making periodic visits to county extension offices in Daw-Custer, Saunders, son. Hamilton and Hall counties and families in Lincoln, Custer, Hall, Antelope, Otoe and Perkins counties. Five Here the individual countries. Mrs. Seaton said that it is much easier to get a degree here than in Jamaica because the University is much older and better established. A series of courses which are being financed by the Jamaican government has had assistance from the United Nations UNESCO program which has sent a director for the training.

Art Film Series

Viewing Planned

The second film of the "Art Film Series" will be shown March 17 in the auditorium of the Student Union.

The first film was termed a success by Paul Johns, chairman of the arts and exhibits committee.

Tentatively scheduled are the films "Marcel Duchamp' and "Moods in Motion."

WHAT IS IT?-Shooting gallery? No, it's only one of the exhibits in the new art exposition at Morrill Hall. The foreground figure on the pedestal is made of sheet steel, titled "Slow Forms Before Closing Space" by creator Jorge Oteiza. What seems to be a target is an oil painting called "Song," at the other end of the gallery. The exposition opened Monday on the second floor of Morrill Hall. There is no admission.

The film covers the story of the Ozark hills-the land, plants, forests and grasses, the fish and amphibians. Hall explores the waterways by canoe and captures on film the raccoon and opossum, chipmunk, flying squirrel and whitetail deer.

Hall has received numerservation Citation of the St. Louis Audubon Society and a provement. honorary Doctor of Laws de-
