

NU Coed Wins Trip to England

Years of work on the farm and achievement of many successful farm and home projects have resulted in a trip to England this summer for 21 year old Margaret Stahly, senior in home economics.

This year only one person will represent Nebraska in the program known as International Farm Youth Exchange. It is annually sponsored by Nathan Gold and the 4-H extension service. Previously rural youth organizations in the state sponsored another student.

Males Only

"It is more difficult for a girl to be named for the program," said Miss Stahly, "as many countries will accept only male students."

About 21 applied over the state. Of these five were called back for interviews and one selected to represent the state. The national board then determined the assignments to various countries. Miss Stahly said she felt fortunate that she received her first preference, England.

Six Months

The program will include a six month stay with a number of families in the country. When she returns she will be available for a period of time for speaking engagements in the state.

Four youths from the Far East will be in Nebraska during the time from June to December. The theme for the program in which they are participating is "World Peace."

Experience

Basis for Miss Stahly's selection included her experience in radio and television work, demonstrations, leadership in community organizations, farm background, 4-H achievement records and personal interviews.

Miss Stahly has worked to pay all of her college expenses. Her first year was paid entirely by prize money won in 4-H projects.

She is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron and after her return from England will be a Home Extension Agent.

Bowsky Gets Research Study Grant

William M. Bowsky, assistant professor of history, has been awarded a grant from the American Council of Learned Societies in a national competition.

He was one of 61 scholars affiliated with 47 colleges and universities and two other academic institutions to receive the grants for research in the humanities and related social studies.

They may be used for travel necessary to gain access to materials (including personal maintenance), research or clerical assistance and the reproduction or purchase of materials.

Bowsky's area of research is "Siena: The study of a Medieval Italian commune."

the Hereford division; Ron Einspear, champion and Dick Spanjers, reserve, Angus division; Jesse Felker champion and Ralph Langemeier, reserve, Shorthorn division.

Dick White was the reserve sheep showman and Larry Williams was the reserve swine showman.

Med College Announces Fellowships

The University College of Medicine Scholarship and Awards Committee reported that the University has made application for and received confirmation of a grant to cover eight part-time medical student fellowships.

The stipends, which come from the National Institutes of Health, are usually used during the summer for research projects.

In addition, a part-time medical student fellowship is available specifically for study in the field of allergy. Sponsor of the award is the National Allergy Association.

Another fellowship is being sponsored by the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation for research in that field.

The student relations committee of the Medical College Faculty Woman's Club has announced that the group will sponsor a new scholarship. A freshman medical student will be chosen for the award of $150, which is to be used to aid in the sophomore year.

Chem Group Initiates 13

Thirteen faculty members and graduate students were initiated into Phi Lambda Upsilon, University honorary chemical society, at a banquet in the Student Union Friday.

New faculty members of the society are: Dr. R. M. Hill, assistant professor of chemistry; Dr. Richard Dam, assistant biochemist and Dr. Jules Adelfang, postdoctorate associate in chemistry.

New graduate student members are: John Anderson, Richard Beckerbauer, Warren Diven, Norman Griswold, George Handler, Thomas Kreiser, John Kuecker, Everett Meidell, Robert Prokop and Herbert Meyer.

The annual Rho Chapter Freshman Scholarship award, presented to the freshman chemistry or chemical engineering major attaining the highest academic standing, was presented to Roger Williams.

Music Staff To Present Free Recital

Five staff members of the University department of music will perform at a faculty recital in the Student Union Ballroom Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

They are: Joseph Owens, trombonist, instructor of piano; Larry Lusk, pianist, instructor; Wesley Reist, clarinetist, assistant professor in woodwind instruments; Arnold Schatz, violinist, instructor and Audun Ravnun, pianist, assistant professor of music.

The recital will feature Handel's "Concerto in F Minor" and Dutilleux' "Choral, Cadence et Fugato," played by Owens; Mozart's "Trio K. 498," played by Lusk, Reist and Schatz; and Martin's "Ballade," played by Owens.

Across the Campuses: Kansas State Riots In Search of Holiday

Kansas State students staged a small riot last week in hopes of getting an "athletic holiday" following their basketball win over Kansas University.

Campus entrances were barricaded and some faculty members were "roughed up" said a UPI account of the demonstration.

"Using bonfires, automobiles, metal bars and carpenter's horses to block the 12 entrances to the campus, the students tried to restrain others forcibly from going to classes."

It was reported that some students appeared on campus as early as 6 a.m. to launch demands for the holiday. No holiday was granted.

Bardot's Number

Can anyone boast having Brigitte Bardot's phone number in their little black book?

Four Acacia fraternity brothers at the University of Kansas tried to call the French actress collect but it didn't work, according to the Daily Kansan. A New York operator tried to discourage the boys from making the call but it went through anyway—except Miss Bardot would not accept the charges.

"Anyway, we're probably among the few persons in this country who have heard her voice over the telephone or who have her telephone number in their billfolds," said a participant in the enterprise.

Honor Guard

The Ross Volunteers, honor guard at Texas A and M, will participate in Mardi Gras festivities this week, reports the A and M Battalion.

This is the eighth time the group has made the New Orleans trip and also the eighth time they have occupied first position in the King Rex parade on Mardi Gras day.

Compulsory ROTC

Compulsory ROTC will be discontinued at Michigan State as a result of a vote by the academic senate at that University. Other land grant universities—Ohio State, Wisconsin, Arizona and Oklahoma—also have joined in the non-compulsory program.

Council Impeached

Seven members of the University of New Mexico student council were impeached for voting to buy blazers from student funds. They also were suspended from council meetings.

Sorority Gets 'Iced'

Fraternity men from one house on the University of Washington campus recently piled 1,350 pounds of ice in block form in front of a sorority house. The stunt was part of a "war with a fraternity house," reported the coeds.

Sophomore Nurses Plan Tea Thursday

An all-Medical College campus tea will be held Thursday in Conkling Hall on the Med College Omaha campus. The tea is to be sponsored by the University sophomore nursing class.

I Sing Of Arms And Like FILTER-BLEND, Man,

For if you dig a modern filter cigarette
It figures that it's what's up front that is the most
Like pure Flavorsville, orbit stuff, and all that jazz;
And only Winston swings with FILTER-BLEND up front,
A real gone combo of golden, rich tobaccos
Selected and processed like for filter smoking;
That's why, dear cats or even squares, it's understood

Winston tastes good like a cigarette should!
