

Top Wrestlers Here For Conference Meet

By Dave Calhoun
The top collegiate wrestlers in the country will be here today and tomorrow for the Big 8 Conference championships.
The Conference has been tabbed the "toughest wrestling league in the nation for the past two years."
Defending champion Oklahoma State, Oklahoma and Iowa State are figured to battle it out for the conference title.
Ineligibilities have hurt both of the Oklahoma teams. Oklahoma State, hardest hit team in the Conference, will enter the meet minus four of its top performers. The Cowboys will go into action Friday without Ted Ellis, Ted Pierce, Dick Walker and John Adleman.
Ellis was the NCAA and Big 8 heavyweight champion last year. With the vacancy in the heavyweight division, Jim Raschke, Dale Lewis from Oklahoma and Jan Schwitters from Iowa State are figured to battle for the crown.

Lewis handed Ellis his only defeat during the regular season, while Raschke was the only muscleman to drop Lewis. Two of Schwitters losses were to Ellis and Lewis.

McConahay Has High For Athletes

David McConahay, a junior, led the Husker athletes in scholarship for the fall semester. McConahay, a golfer from Holdrege, had an average of 8.6 in the college of Arts and Sciences.
This grade average leads 214 athletes competing in nine intercollegiate sports.
Athletic Director Bill Orwig said that the overall average of all athletes was 5.071.
Top athletes in the list:
David McConahay, Holdrege, golf 8.99
William Kenny, Waterloo, Ia, track 8.18
Ron Elavest, Hooper, baseball 7.82
LeRoy Zentle, Rock Island, Ill. 7.64
Karl Byers, Lincoln, gymnastics 7.53
Jim Anderson, Omaha, wrestling 7.53
James Arche, Columbus, baseball 7.52
Richard Krause, Augusta, Ga. 7.40
Frank Tomson, Omaha, swimming 7.49
William Fisher, Topeka, baseball 7.27
Orvis Larson, Central City, baseball 7.26
Gary Klueman, Sweet Springs, Mo. 7.26
baseball-basketball 7.21
James Moore, Omaha, football 7.12
John Van Dwyer, Colo., tennis 7.03
Phillips Hall, Beatrice, gymnastics 7.03
Wayne Hester, Lincoln, basketball 7.03
Dennis Mullins, Omaha, golf 7.03
Pat Salerno, Omaha, football 7.00
James Kovack, Sioux City, Ia., basketball 6.97
James Huse, Holdrege, football 6.79
John Craft, North Platte, tennis 6.79
Robert Kinsub, Scottsbluff, track 6.67
Allen Olsen, Deer Park, N.Y., basketball 6.61
George Rethemeier, Neligh, wrestler 6.59

Oklahoma also was hit by ineligibility when DuWayne Miller, defending champion in the 123 pound bracket was forced to drop because of scholastic troubles.
Only Two Return
Adding ineligibilities and graduation together it shows that there will only be two returning title holders.

Huskers Join In Big 8 Meet

By John Nolan
Nebraska's swim team left Wednesday to compete in this year's Big Eight swimming meet in Boulder, Colorado.
The Oklahoma Sooners, defending champions, are favored to outdistance the field in this year's competition.
The Sooners rolled up 198 points in last year's meet at Lincoln, more than triple the 61 scored by second place Iowa State.
Leading the Oklahoma squad is Larry Lermo, last year a triple winner in the three distance freestyle events. Also expected to contribute to O.U.'s effort are Chuck Lechner, Jack Saari, and NCAA champion Gordon Collet, all double winners from last year's meet.
Nebraska will enter competition with a squad that is capable of placing high in this year's conference race.
Stocker Holds Hopes
Joe Stocker, holder of the varsity record in the 200-yard breast-stroke, bettered his mark each time up in the first five meets held this year. His current time is 3.31.1.
Jim Frank and Branch Walton are the top divers for the Huskers and should be point winners.
Frank Tomson, Larry Ferrel, Kuni Mihara, Larry McClean and Ron Bucklin are also expected to contribute to the Husker cause.
Iowa State sophomore Paul Witherall will add versatility to the meet. Witherall spreads his talents over six different events. He already owns a time of 2:09.9 in the 200-yard individual medley, which is over 12 seconds better than the existing conference record.
The meet will last three days. Competition began Thursday and will wind up with morning and afternoon sessions on Saturday.

Stab Abel, 130 pounder from Oklahoma and Ron Meloney, Iowa Stater who wrestles at 177 pounds will be the only defending champs in action.
In fact, 18 of the 32 place winners will not be in action.
Two more men will emerge title holders this year since the conference has added the 115 and 191 pound classes for the meet.
Pre-meet tally figures believe that only one or two points will separate the first two teams.

Kansas St. Hits NU Freshmen

Nebraska's freshman basketball team held 7-foot Roger Suttner to only four points at Manhattan Thursday night, but took it on the chin from the Wildcats, 83-53.
Down 44-18 at halftime the Huskers went 14 minutes of the first half without grabbing a defensive rebound. It* was the first loss against three wins for Nebraska. K-State won its fourth straight.

Cagers Invade Kansas; Harry Won't Make Trip

Nebraska holds the key to the Big Eight race when it faces the league leaders, Kansas State and Kansas, this weekend.
The Huskers will play Kansas State Saturday night at Manhattan, then journey to Lawrence to face Kansas Monday.
"This will be our toughest road trip," Coach Jerry Bush said. "We will be meeting the two teams tied for the Big Eight title. We know that both the Wildcats and Jayhawkers will be going all out in these games."
Should Nebraska win or lose both games the two Kansas teams would still be tied. If, however, the Huskers split, the victor over NU would cop the Big Eight and represent the conference in the NCAA Regional Tourney.
Nebraska will be without the services of Bob Harry, the hero of NU's win over Oklahoma State last Saturday, 54-47. The win was the third of the last four games for the Huskers.
Harry injured his knee late in the game after scoring 14 points and playing the best game of his career. The game marked the end of Doc's college career.
Coach Bush said that Harry is definitely out. "His leg is all puffed up and we're not going to take a chance with it," said the NU coach.
Bush is polishing Jan Wall, 6-6 sophomore, for a starting spot due to Harry's absence. Seniors Hershell Turner, Wayne Hester and Dick Shipwright will be playing their final games for the Huskers as Nebraska winds up its 1959-60 season.
Nebraska has won seven and lost 15 but have only scored 10 less points than their opponents. The Huskers have scored 1,344 points compared to 1,354 for opponents.

There's opportunity, challenge, and excitement at Convair!

The widest diversity of missile and aircraft projects in the U.S. assures Convair of a continuing program of research and development . . . a challenging and exciting program that offers unlimited career opportunities to young scientists and engineers in many fields.
Talk with the men from Convair (see dates below). Ask about the extensive opportunities Convair offers for training . . . for continuing education . . . for personal advancement.

CONVAIR SAN DIEGO

As an engineering or science major, you will soon make one of the most important decisions of your life: Choice of Association. We hope you will choose Convair-San Diego, but whatever your choice, the selection of association must be made with utmost care. Our representatives have a new booklet which describes the work of each group within the Convair-San Diego Engineering Department. After reading it, we believe you will be better equipped to make your decision . . . whether or not you choose our company.

CONVAIR ASTRONAUTICS

Convair-Astronautics' great new $40 million facility in San Diego was created solely for the purpose of putting America first and farthest into space. Here, graduates will participate in the program of the nation's mightiest missile, the Atlas ICBM, which powered the biggest satellite into orbit. Other programs involve lunar and interplanetary exploration. Many members of our staff rank among the world's leading authorities in their fields—distinguished scientists and engineers to direct your career progress. We urge you to discuss your future at Convair-Astronautics with us.
