

Reservation Wishes Are Said 'Explicite'

The Student Union has very explicite wishes on how a group should go about reserving space in the Union for meetings and/or banquets, according to W. S. Stockton, Union operations manager.

"The Union can handle both meetings with and without food service," said the operations manager.

Reservations are made through the reservations secretary, Jean Weygint, in the Union office either by phone or by personal contact, between the hours of 8-5 p.m. daily.

Initial Contact

"This initial contact should be made at least one week in advance and should include such basic information as whether food service is desired, how many will attend, when the room is wanted and if any special arrangements are wanted," said Stockton.

If food service and catering service is planned, the group should contact either Mr. Kohlillian, food service manager, or Mr. Crispin, catering service manager, at the same time the initial reservation is made.

"The best time of the day to contact food service," suggested Stockton, is between the dinner hours."

The food service people will sit down with the group and arrange the menu to the exact desires of the group. A menu can be chosen to include just coffee to a major banquet to the needs of a picnic, according to Stockton.

Equipment Available

"The Union can equip the room with tables, chairs, chalkboards, lecturnes, ash trays, sound assistances, pianos and movie screens if needed," said the operations manager.

The final stage of reserving one of the Union's rooms is to contact the office within 48 hours before the meeting time and give an exact count of people to be present and equipment desired.

"After the final arrangements have been made, the room will be set up with a 10 per cent marginal allowance above and below the number of people said to be coming," Stockton said. "This will allow a group of, say, 50 to have at the most 55 guests served and a minimum of 45 with out extra charge."

The Union has at its disposal for reservation, 11 meeting rooms, 2 special purpose rooms (auditorium and ballroom), and 5 rooms limited to food service only, including the Pan American room.

Free Facilities

"These facilities are free to all student groups and groups directly associated with the campus," said Stockton.

The operations manager concluded by saying that the groups should check out the keys for the party rooms before and return them afterwards.

AIR AWARD—The Nebraska Joyce-Johnson Squadron of Arnold Air Society at the University recently was presented the Outstanding Squadron Award for Area G and installed new officers. Dr. Frank Sorenson was guest speaker at the meeting and gave an orientation on the Aero-Space Age. Dr. Sorenson is presenting the award, a traveling plaque, to cadets Forbes and Flory. Newly installed officers are Lee Forbes, commander; William Wells, executive commander; Darrell Grapes, operations; John Power, adjutant; Edwin Sterling, comptroller; Stephen Watkins, information services officer.

Berndt And Edeal Get Scholarships

Carol Berndt and Karen Edeal, sophomores in College of Agriculture, have been named recipients of the Frisbie Scholarship award.

The scholarships, worth $75 each, are given to two freshman students who have excelled in scholarship and activities. Along with scholarships the winners get their names placed on a traveling trophy which they may keep during the year that they are the winner.

Mr. Frisbie was State 4-H Club leader for 32 years and started the scholarship in remembrance of his wife.

Since its beginning, 18 scholarships have been given to University students.

The University 4-H Club also made the announcement of the delegates to the Coop camp in Woodsbury, Mo. They are Marshal Kuhr and Sherry Bergh.

Panhellenic To Limit Legacies

Panhellenic has voted to limit legacy weekend next year to sisters and daughters who are seniors in high school.

Pat Johnson, Panhellenic president, said the question had been discussed in the sororities and that a delegate vote at the Panhellenic meeting indicated agreement with the proposed change.

The reason for the change is due to the fact Legacy Weekend is becoming so large it is difficult for the sororities to handle so many guests. Both junior and senior high schoolers are invited to Legacy weekend under the present program.

Also, the Panhellenic Council made the final decision concerning room rushing at its Monday meeting. It was decided no room rushing would be allowed during open house or during the first set of one-hour parties, although an organization tour of the house will be allowed during the first parties.

Room-rushing will be allowed during the two-hour parties, Miss Johnson said.

Panhellenic is considering the possibility of sponsoring Amy Vanderbilt as main speaker at a convocation next year.

Starkey Receives Physics Award

Gary Starkey has been chosen as recipient of the "freshman physics achievement award."

The award is given annually to an outstanding student in a freshman physics class.

Starkey will receive a personally engraved copy of the "Handbook of Chemistry and Physics."

Dr. Paul Goldhammer, assistant professor of physics, made the presentation.
