

IFC Rush Week Praised; 400 Pledged

Over 400 of the men participating in the IFC Rush Week have pledged fraternities.

The 400 constitute 80% of the boys going through Rush, according to IFC President Marty Sophir.

Sophir attributed the success of Rush Week to the new fraternity rush system. The system featured the housing of all rushees at Selleck Quadrangle and required them to visit all the fraternity houses.

The opportunity of visiting all the fraternities helped rushees realize that each house had something to offer, Sophir said.

He commented, "Both the fraternities and rushees came up with praise for the new system and were pleased with the operation. Each house cooperated excellently and we also had excellent cooperation from the Selleck officials."

Open Rush for fraternities will begin Tuesday at 5 p.m. However, no pledging can take place for 30 days from that date.
