

Cyclone Coach Is Unhappy Despite 2 Easy Triumphs

Huskers' McDole Remains On Doubtful Starting List

Iowa State coach Clay Stapleton expressed a pessimistic attitude about his Cyclone club Tuesday despite two rousing wins over Drake and Detroit.

"We have not improved the way we should," said the Cyclone coach. "That might sound like a typical coach talking, but we did not look good in defeating either Drake or Detroit. We are going to have to make almost unbelievable improvement this week to even challenge Nebraska."

The Cyclones with wins over Detroit, 44-21, and Drake, 46-0, move into Memorial Stadium at 2 p.m. Saturday for a clash with Bill Jennings' Huskers.

Nebraska must find a way to stop Dave Hoppmann, Iowa State tailback, and the Huskers may have to do the job without the service of Ron McDole, who is suffering from burns. The Husker right tackle was released from Student Health to attend classes Tuesday, but he remains on the doubtful list for Saturday's game.

The burns are believed to have been caused by a combination of three things, according to Paul Schneider, head trainer. Schneider gave the following reasons for the burns: 1. salt, caused by perspiration; 2. lime used for marking the field; 3. roughness of the new game pants, worn next to the skin without shorts.

Center Don Fricke, end Don Purcell, and tackles Bob Jones and Al Fischer were all held out of Tuesday's contact work. All are expected to be ready by Saturday.

Hoppmann has averaged 8.2 yards per carry and has connected on eight of 15 passes for 120 yards and three touchdowns in the first two Iowa State games.

Hoppmann was named Athlete of The Week by the Iowa State Pep Council for the second week in succession after his outstanding performance against Detroit. He was also named to receive the award after the Drake contest.

Cobb Earns Nebraskan Star Award

Archie Cobb is the Daily Nebraskan Star of The Week for the week of Sept. 19-25.

The 227-pound right tackle and punter for the Huskers earned the award with his booming punts against Minnesota Saturday. Cobb punted seven times for an average of 45.3 yards against the Gophers.

Minnesota returned only three of the seven punts and for a total of only 12 yards with the height of Cobb's punts giving Husker linemen a chance to get downfield by the time the punt lands.

In the first two games, Cobb has 14 punts for a 41.7 average. This average puts him in third place among Big Eight punters behind David Hannah of Oklahoma State and John Hadl of Kansas.

Hannah has nine punts for a 47.0 average and Hadl has punted 10 times for a 43.0 average. Cobb's 14 punts are more than any other conference punter has kicked.

Cobb appears to be the player Husker coach Bill Jennings was looking for to replace Harry Tolly, last year's punter. Tolly ranked seventh in the Big Eight last year with a 36.4 average on 53 punts. Tolly's 53 punts led the conference in that department.
