Healthy? Check Before Christmas

All sophomores, juniors and seniors in Teachers College who have not taken their health exams for certificates should do so immediately, according to Dr. N. F. Thorpe of Teachers College.

In order to be examined at Student Health, students must first go to room 103 Teachers College and pick up permits for the health exams.

There is no deadline except that such information must be available before the year is over, Dr. Thorpe said. He suggested that students take the health exams before Christmas to avoid a rush.

Governor Proclaims Oct. 3-10 'Band Week'

Governor Dwight Burney has proclaimed the week of October 3-10 to be band week.

The proclamation was made because of the important role which bands play in Nebraska high schools. The week will be climaxed by Band Day at the University on Saturday.

YWCA Luncheon Group Pays Homage To Nigeria

Americans and foreign students paid homage to Nigeria's new independence Thursday at the weekly YWCA noon luncheon discussion group.

In a speech of gratitude for the celebration, Ojo Arewa, a University student from Nigeria, said, "I'm so honored that so many people from so many countries felt it was important to celebrate my country's independence." Nigeria became an independent nation October 2.

Foreign students were present from Iran, Turkey, Pakistan, India, Nigeria and Jamaica. The total of 28 persons also included 13 Nebraskans.

Future plans for the YW luncheon group include representatives of various nations to tell about their countries, according to co-chair-
