

Coeds Get Men Despite Exams

By Eleanor Billings
Hour exams seem to have taken their toll on the romance department. However, seven coeds got their men this week.

Rutledge Named To NSTA Post

Dr. James A. Rutledge, professor of secondary education at the University, was recently appointed regional program chairman of the National Science Teachers Association.

Dr. Rutledge will lead a committee to set up meetings of the NSTA and determine subjects and policies. The committee will draw members from Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, South Dakota and Wyoming.

The first large assembly will be held sometime in the fall of 1961, Dr. Rutledge announced. He also said that a good representation is expected from the five-state area.

Dr. Rutledge has been with the University since 1953. He is also supervisor of natural sciences at University High School.

Careers Conference— Biz Ad Students Free Oct. 18 for Meetings

All students in the College of Business Administration will be excused from classes Oct. 18 to attend the all-day Business Careers Conference sessions in the Student Union.

Eleven separate sessions will highlight the day.

Retailing Session

The first session starts at 9:30 a.m. and runs until 11:30 a.m. on retailing. William Gold II, president and general manager of Gold and Company, Lincoln, is the speaker. This session is scheduled for the auditorium.

Real estate and property management will be discussed by Howard Drew, vice president of the Byron Reed Company, Inc. of Omaha, at 9:30 a.m. in rooms four and five.

The 9:30 meeting is based on selling. R. N. Davis, training director of the Carpenter Paper Co. of Omaha will speak in the auditorium.

Warren D. Chiles, president of the Chiles-Schutz Company of Omaha is the speaker for the investment banking session also scheduled for 9:30.

Industrial Accounting
From 10:30 to 11:30, Bus Ad students will hear Lester E. Pankoni of General Electric who will talk about industrial accounting and E. Ross Martin of Partner, Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and Co. of Lincoln on public accounting. Both discussions can be heard in the auditorium.

The last session before lunch is on life insurance. Home office administration and operation will be discussed by George Cook, president of Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Lincoln. Life insurance marketing is the topic for Carl G. Mammel of Billig-Mammel and Associates of Omaha.

The first afternoon session is on personnel and industrial relations. Carl R. Geisler, vice president of Marathon Corporation Division, Menasha, Wis. is the speaker at 1:30 p.m.

Edward W. Lyman, president of the United States National Bank of Omaha will speak on commercial banking during the same hour.

Chamber of Commerce
The 2:40 sessions are on industrial management and chambers of commerce. W. E. Rheingrover, works comptroller, of Western Electric in Omaha and Donald L. Heleman, manager of the Hastings Chamber of Commerce are the speakers.

The final session is on graduate instruction in business. Both John C. Weaver, dean of the Graduate College and Charles S. Miller, dean of the College of Business Administration will speak.

A 6 p.m. dinner will feature speaker Randall T. Klemme, vice president of the Omaha North Central Gas Co. as speaker.

STRICTLY PARTISAN

stated Monday that Weaver has dodged an appearance on a television news panel offered the congressman free. No excuse was given. He just isn't going to show.

Any incumbent, whether Democrat or Republican, has an obligation, not to his opponent, but to the electorate to face squarely the issues of the campaign in open forum with his foe.

Any incumbent who dodges such appearances isn't worthy of the support of the people. Although some candidates are put on the spot by joint appearances, they have a moral obligation to defend their record openly.

Two Bill Phil ought to get out of politics if he hasn't the guts to face his opponent. I think the Nebraska voters will see to it that his demise is quick and final.

Foundation Post To Earl Kline

Earl Kline has been appointed to fill the vacancy on the executive committee of the University Foundation, caused by the death of J. Stewart Elliott, Perry W. Branch director-secretary announced.
