

Nebraska Begins Cage Preparations Saturday

By Denny Anstine
Nebraska's varsity basketball squad begins preparations for the 1960-61 season this weekend, with a picture session today and a practice session Saturday morning.

Coach Jerry Bush, with six returning lettermen and a listed squad of fifteen, will be trying to better last year's 8-17 record, and the last place tie with Oklahoma State in the Big Eight.

Returning lettermen are: Bill Bowers, 6-6 junior; Al Buuck, 6-8 junior; James Kowalke, 6-3 senior; Al Roots, 6-3 junior; Rex Swett, 6-1 junior; and Jan Wall, 6-8 junior.

The Huskers lost Big Eight All-Conference guard, Herschell Turner, and NU's leading rebounder Bob Harry by graduation. Al Maxey, runner-up in total points last year behind Turner, lost his last year of eligibility because of low grades.

Kowalke was third in last year's scoring race and should be a main cog in this year's cage team. Swett and Wall started a few games, but were not considered as starters.

Big Guys

Coach Bush said, "the outcome of this year's season will probably hinge on the big guys."

Other squad members are: Bert Elle, 6-6 junior; Ivan Grupe, 6-5 junior; Sam Kreigh, 5-8 sophomore; Ray Solee, 6-9 junior; Jim Yates, 6-7 sophomore; Dick Muma, 6-1 sophomore; Elmer Walin, 6-1 senior; Dean Prazak, 5-10 sophomore; and Tommy Russell, 6-7 junior.

Russell is a transfer student from Independence Junior College at Independence, Kansas. Grupe will be a sophomore in eligibility standing, as he did not play last year because of a knee injury.

Almost Double Muscle Endurance

Before exercise... rub with Absorbine Jr. WARM-UP!

Now, at last a product to help your muscles fight fatigue... it's Absorbine Jr. WARM-UP—the pre-exercise rub! Electromyograph research reveals your muscle power will last longer when you rub muscles with WARM-UP before exercise. Clinical studies revealed the time required to tire out muscles treated with WARM-UP was almost double that of an untreated muscle.

Think what a rub with WARM-UP can mean to you in basketball, football and track. To help your muscles have more endurance, use WARM-UP before you start!

Prove it to yourself
See how WARM-UP can increase your endurance. Rub muscles to be used most with WARM-UP and see if your muscles don't last longer. Use WARM-UP to make your muscle power last longer.

Triangular Set for NU Tracksters

Cyclones, Drake Will Test Huskers

By Janet Sack

Nebraska's cross country runners take on Iowa State and Drake in a triangular meet at Des Moines, Iowa, at 4:30 p.m. today.

Coach Frank Sevigne is taking six runners: Ray Stevens, Bill Kenny, Rich Kier, Clarence and Joe Scott, and Paul Nielsen.

"Sophomores Stevens and Kenny are running real well, but the rest of the members are not working up to expectations," Sevigne said.

"This whole meet will depend upon the performance of the other four men. We're not getting the balance and performance that is needed to win," Sevigne said.

Stevens has the best time of any of the Huskers with a 15:39 which earned him second place in the Kansas State-Nebraska dual meet.

In the Iowa State time trials last weekend Karl Brown led the qualifiers over the three-mile course in 16:00.

Iowa State's other harriers are Dan Muyskens, Bill Lynn, John Highbarger, Jan Petersons, Charles Darby, and Earl Holtz.

Cyclone captain Harlan Miliken did not compete in the time trials because of a side injury. He will see no action in the meet today.

This is the opening meet for Drake and Iowa State. The meet will be run over a three-mile hill and dale course on the Waverly Golf Course.

Rain Halts IM Play

Last night's intramural football games were cancelled due to rain.

Sports Signals

By Hal Brown

While Nebraska is concerned with its final inter-sectional contest of the season Saturday against Army, Big Eight eyes will be focused on Lawrence, Kans., where the Jayhawks will be trying to put another nail in the Oklahoma coffin.

The contest will be the first conference clash for the Sooners who have lost two of three inter-sectional battles. The perennial Big Eight titleholders were thumped by Northwestern and Texas and won a narrow 15-14 decision over Pittsburgh.

Bud Wilkinson's boys are likely to find the going in the Big Eight just as tough as the non-conference games. Kansas and Missouri have both given indications that they are in line for the conference crown this year. The Tigers are undefeated in four games and have a 1-0 conference mark while Kansas is 2-0 in the league chase with their only defeat coming at the hands of a strong Syracuse team.

Oklahoma has been sole champion since the Big Six became the Big Seven in 1948. The Sooners shared the title with Kansas in 1946 and 1947 as members of the Big Six conference.

Nebraska signaled the start of the Sooner downfall a year ago when the Huskers handed Oklahoma their first conference defeat since 1946, but Bud Wilkinson's squad still won the league crown with a 5-1 mark. Kansas was picked by many before the start of the season as the team to knock Oklahoma off the Big Eight throne and Saturday's game between the two teams will clear up the Big Eight picture as far as Oklahoma is concerned.

However, if Kansas does drop the Sooners, as they are favored to do, the Jayhawks still do not have clear sailing to the title. Missouri is beginning to loom larger and larger each week as a definite contender. The Tigers unbeaten record includes a 21-8 win over Penn State and a 34-8 victory over the Air Force Academy.

Penn State's only loss came at the hands of Missouri as the Nittany Lions have a 20-0 win over Boston University and a 27-16 triumph over Army. The Air Force Academy sailed to a 32-8 win over Colorado State University and a 32-9 victory over Stanford on the passing of quarterback Richie Mayo before losing to Missouri last week.

Kansas needs the win over Oklahoma because a loss would drop them out of first place in the conference standings since Missouri should have little trouble with Kansas State. Colorado is also unbeaten in the conference and a win by either Colorado or Missouri coupled with a loss by Kansas would drop the Jayhawks out of first place.

This corner would like to make one prediction right now and that is: No team in the conference will go through the conference schedule without a defeat.

Last week this corner dipped below the .700 percentage level for the first time with 20 right, 9 wrong and one tie for a .683 mark. That leaves the season record at 86 right, 29 wrong with five ties for a .738 record.

Now for a look at this week's schedule.

Big Eight

ARMY 21, Nebraska 13—Army's Tom Blanda will put Nebraska's pass defense to its first test of the season and the Cadets will win this one.

KANSAS 21, Oklahoma 14—The Sooners step into Big Eight competition for the first time this season and will find things have changed.

IOWA STATE 27, Colorado 7—Colorado's dilemma is the opposite of Nebraska. The Buffs have a strong passer in Weidner, but a limited rushing offense.

MISSOURI 39, Kansas State 7—The Tigers should have little trouble extending their unbeaten string to five.

OKLAHOMA STATE 14, Houston 13—The Cowboys get their second win against a Missouri Valley foe before returning to Big Eight wars next week.

Other Games

Georgia Tech over Auburn, Harvard over Columbia, Duke over North Carolina State, Florida over Vanderbilt, Georgia over Mississippi State, Indiana over Marquette, Iowa over Wisconsin, LSU over Kentucky, Clemson over Maryland, Michigan over Northwestern, Minnesota over Illinois, Navy over Air Force, North Carolina over Wake Forest.

Michigan State over Notre Dame, Oregon over Washington State, Pennsylvania over Brown, Pittsburgh over West Virginia, Ohio State over Purdue, USC over California, Rice over SMU, Syracuse over Penn State, Tennessee over Alabama, TCU over Texas A & M, Texas over Arkansas, Washington over UCLA.
