

Scrub Twice, Health Inspector Coming Soon

Inspection of the forty-three organized houses on campus by the division of environmental health and safety is scheduled to begin Nov. 7, according to W. W. Simpson, public health engineer.

The inspection, which is an annual affair each fall and again in the spring, is concerned with appraising the houses compliance with the University's Housing Code.

The Code, which was adopted by the Board of Regents in 1958, states that every house must supply the basic physical health needs, the basic mental health needs, protection against contagious disease and protection against accidents.

Each of the 43 houses have been notified by letter as to the time and day that the one-man inspection team will arrive at the respective houses.

"So they scrub the floor twice that day," said Simpson. "I am not looking for the daily dirt but the accumulative dirt that is overlooked in the daily scrubbing and clean-up sessions."

Fall Inspection

The fall inspection is concerned with only the food and sanitation aspects of each house. In the spring, however, Simpson goes from basement to attic, and inspects for fire and accident hazards as well as food and sanitation.

The inspection is scheduled for completion on Nov. 16 and the division's reports on the findings and recommendations of the inspections will be filed and copies sent to the house president, alumni advisor and to the Division of Student Affairs of the houses.

"Absolute compliance with the Code is scheduled to be in effect by 1965," the health engineer said.

"The efforts of the inspection team have received excellent cooperation from the houses," said Simpson. "In our recommendations to the houses we try to show a reason for the suggested corrections so that it is more educational than mandatory."

Fire Law Compliance

An expected recommendation this fall will be the compliance of all houses to the Nebraska fire law that all stairways be enclosed, according to Simpson.

Later on this year the division hopes to go to each house and take swab samples of eating utensils. These swabs will be brought back to the lab where bacteria counts will be made.

"This swabbing will show whether the houses dish washers are doing a satisfactory job of washing and sterilizing," he said.

Simpson comprises the one man staff of the Environmental Health Service which is one of the few such services in universities in this part of the country. Simpson said that this program is an asset to the maintenance of the University's health and safety standards.

Student Council— Earlier School Date Survey Proposed

The Student Council will soon take a student survey to find if the students want school to start a week earlier next year.

The Council decided to use such a poll after a council committee met with the Faculty Senate Calendar Committee and found that in order to promote such a change a more detailed report must be made by the council.

Basic Objection.

The sub-committee gave five basic objections to set up the opening date of school next year.

1. The high school academic year in the past has overlapped with the summer school opening week, and therefore caused many students to miss the first week of summer school. Because of this, summer school has been moved back one week.

2. The faculty does not want the one week lapse before the summer session starts.

3. Thirteen hundred regular University students attend summer school and should there be a week's lapse before it started, they would all be forced to find housing, or have the added expense of going home and then returning.

4. The building maintenance men would have one week in which to do nothing.

5. The repairing of the buildings could not be completed in time, if there was a time lapse at the beginning of the summer and one at the end of summer. It should be more united.

Form Committee

The sub-committee further suggested that the council form a committee to study the validity of setting the starting time for school up one week. Members of the sub-committee said they felt this project should take at least six months, according to the council calendar committee.

President Tempero told the members that the Council "didn't have time" to present a detailed case to the faculty. He asked that the council "get on the ball and present suggestions to the faculty senate." He added that the council is still "in a position to do something."

George Moyer called the faculty senate's answer to the calendar committee "the most patented example of stalling I have ever seen." He added that their five reasons for not setting the opening date of school up a week were "frightening."

"I think it is a challenge to the Student Council and we should either put up or shut up," Don Epp said.

John Hoerner backed the proposed survey because, he said, such a poll is "absolutely vital," and the council should represent the people who want school started earlier "regardless of the number of students."

AUF Charities Named

Five charities, international, national and local, have been selected by the student poll to be supported by the 1960 All-University Fund.

The charities and the percentage of funds to go to each as decided by the AUF Board, are: Lancaster Association for Retarded Children, 15; Nebraska Orthopedic Hospital, 15; Nebraska Division of the American Cancer Society, 20; World University Service, 20; Tom Dooley's MEDICO, 20.

AUF expense and emergency fund will receive the remaining 10 percent.

The AUF Student Drive will be kicked-off next Sunday with a pancake feed and will extend through Oct. 19.

Tickets to the pancake feed are 75c and may be purchased from any house representative. Presidents of all organized houses will serve at the pancake feed, which will be held at the Union, 5 to 7 p.m.

Musical Comedy

Also on the program will be "The Hag Behind the Flag", a musical comedy in three acts, lasting 45 minutes. It will be presented after the feed at 7:30 p.m. in the Student Union ball room. Admission will be by pancake feed ticket stubs.

The comedy, includes a cast of 35 and concerns Betsy Ross and her possibly questionable background. Her true identity is disclosed, and she is given the job of making the nation's first flag.

"This comedy is a real production," said Gretchen Shellberg, AUF publicity chairman. "The group, under the direction of Bob Smith, has done a magnificent job on it," she added.

Charities' Activities

A more complete description of the activities of the charities will be carried in later editions of the Daily Nebraskan. A synopsis of each follows.

Contributions to the Lancaster Association for Retarded Children will help in the operation and support of the county school (LARC) and home (Robin Dale) for mentally retarded children. The purpose of this organization is to enable the children to become independent members of society.

The Nebraska Orthopedic Hospital is for crippled and deformed children and those suffering from diseases from which they are likely to become deformed. The Hospital attempts to improve the cure of patients and to give training in personal care, educational advantages, adequate food and provide entertainment and mental relaxation.

The American Cancer Society is a voluntary association of people united in a determination to conquer cancer. Affording many forms of aid to cancer patients as well as to potential victims, service is an ever-expanding function of the society which is carried out largely by its divisions and local units.

The society seeks to save lives by educating the public, keeping doctors informed, supporting facilities for detection, diagnosis, and treatment within the reach of all, improving medical and social services for the cancer patient and broadening the research program.

World University Service is an international university organization dedicated to the ideal of a university community overriding all barriers of race, nationality and creed. The fight against poverty, disease, ignorance and despair is the task of WUS. The money will be spent in Europe, Africa, the Middle East, the Far East, Southeast Asia and the United States.

MEDICO is the organization launched by the well-known Tom Dooley, who has become a national legend because of his work in remote and primitive lands beyond the reach of modern medicine. The money will be used in hospitals in Laos which Dooley founded and then turned over to the natives whom he trained to operate them.

IFC Choses Conference Delegates

Four delegates have been selected to attend the National Interfraternity Conference at Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 24-27.

President Marly Sophir, Vice-President Joe Knoll, Treasurer Dick Newman and Rush Chairman Ben Priebe were picked to represent the Nebraska IFC at the conference.

In other IFC business Priebe brought up the need to obtain a 16 millimeter camera in order to take pictures for next year's rush files.

Knoll then proposed a motion, which passed, to hire a photographer to cover campus activities this weekend for the film.

Mike Milroy, the Student Council representative, polled the houses on the percentage of men who desire to see the opening date for school earlier, so dismissal would be June 1.

The majority of those present replied that about 80-90% of their members wanted school dismissed earlier in order to obtain summer jobs.

'PR Center' Tentatively Planned

Information Given
At Union Booth

Tentative plans are underway to establish a University activities information center which would be "public relations clearing center for the entire campus."

Nola Obermire, member of the Union advisory board, has indicated the center would be similar to the hostess desk at Colorado State University.

The booth would provide data on all campus activities and conventions, provide a clearing house for rides home and possibly even sell tickets for student events, Miss Obermire said.

Registration of activities at the booth would be voluntary rather than mandatory according to the present plans, she said, as the project functions such as the administration activities office.

The center would probably be located in the Student Union as the Union is open more hours than the Administration Building, Bill McKinnon, Union Activities Director pointed out.

The project would probably be tried out under a voluntary staffing basis but would require full-time professional staffing once it had gained acceptance.

"However, administration officials have indicated they are definitely interested and no one has voiced any opposition to the plan as yet," he said.

Purcell Praised

Vandalism Committed At Stadium

Nebraska's Memorial Stadium was broken into Friday night by persons carrying paint buckets and brushes, Athletic Director Bill Orwig said.

The brush-wielding persons painted "Beat Mizzou" on the edge of the East balcony and on the sidewalk leading to the fieldhouse. The goalposts were also painted with the North goalpost painted in Nebraska's colors and the south goalpost painted in Missouri's colors.

"We don't mind the goal post painting too much, but it will cost $300 dollars to remove the paint from the balcony," Orwig said.

The paint will have to be removed by sand blasting, according to Orwig.

"We appreciate the spirit, but when it goes this far, it becomes vandalism and we don't need that," Orwig said.

The campus police are investigating the incident.

Mock Election

Tuesday, University students will determine the most popular state and national candidates at the campus Mock Election.

Polls will be open on ag and city campuses from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

YWCA in cooperation with the Young Republicans and Young Democrats is sponsoring the event.

Book Business Begins in Union

The University Bookstore will open for business today in its new location in the basement of the Student Union across from the barber shop.

All books and supplies except textbooks have been moved in, according to Bruce Campbell, manager.

"Work is continuing night and day, but it is not yet definite when all the shelves and fixtures will be completed and the grand opening will be held," he said.

Shriner's Act At Pershing Wednesday

Herb Shriner, the television performer who table hopped at the Student Union this morning, will present his show, "Pops Americana" Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Pershing Auditorium.

The show will include everything from ballads to modern Broadway musical scores. Shriner will head the show with anecdotes and folklores. He will also sing folk songs and play his harmonica.

Students may buy reserved seat tickets for $2.50 at Pershing Auditorium but may save $1 by purchasing them for $1.50 at the main desk in the Union.

Shriner has become popular around the college circuit and has been asked to appear a second time at the University of Texas. Texas University said that they wanted to give Austinites and students a second chance to hear what many considered some of the season's best entertainment.

TODAY ON CAMPUS

Herb Shriner, 9:45-10:30 a.m., Student Union.

Coronation, Displays, Dance Provide Gala Homecoming Week

THUMBS DOWN, MIZZOU

Phi Gamma Delta won first place in the Men's I division Homecoming Displays with "Thumbs Down, Mizzou." Second was Theta Xi's "Skin 'Em" and third was Alpha Gamma Rho's "Huskies Still on Top."

First in Men's house displays Group II was Delta Sigma Phi, "We Have to Sink the Mighty Mo." Sigma Alpha Mu was second with "Nebraska Frosts the Tigers" and third was Beta Sigma Psi, "May This House Be Safe From Tigers."

The big weekend is over! The Queen is crowned, Peter Palmer has come and gone and the displays are down.

Homecoming, 1960 style, wasn't quite as successful on the football field as last year's, but the majority of activities provided for a gala weekend.

The Huskers lost to Missouri 28-0 in a muddy battle. Queen Gunei Atasik presented halftime.

Saturday night 2,800 students and alumni attended the largest crowd ever recorded by Corn Cobs and Tassels sponsors.

Peter Palmer's band, the reappearance of the queen and her attendants and the prize-winning house displays highlighted the dance.

Also prevalent during the weekend were the many meetings of alumni.

At the Dental Alumni Association meeting, Dr. Fritz A. Pierson of Lincoln was cited as the recipient of the 1960 Distinguished Service Award.

Adna Dobson of Lincoln was elected president of the University's Alumni Lancers Society Friday night.

Otto Kotouc, Jr., of Humboldt was chosen vice-president and James Pittenger, Lincoln was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Adam C. Breckenridge, dean of faculties, was the featured speaker at the University's Alumni Association Friday night.

NET ANOTHER VICTORY

Gamma Phi Beta captured first prize among sorority Homecoming displays with "Net Another Victory." Second was Alpha Omicron Pi and "The Tide Has Turned" and third place went to Kappa Alpha Theta, "Track 'Em Down."

Judges were Van Westover, assistant to Dean of Affairs; the Very Reverend Robert F. Sheehy of Newman Club; Karen Thomsen from Miller and Paine; Ramona Diemeyer, 1956 Mrs. America and Jim Porter, assistant professor of architecture.
