House Not Feasible

A misunderstanding at the Student Council meeting last Wednesday over an Open House committee report will evidently be cleared up tomorrow, according to Dave Myers, chairman of the committee.

After making a report last week to the Council asking that the Open House committee be dropped, Myers received objections from both other members and Fred Rickers, a visitor and last year's Open House chairman.

Met with Rickers Myers was contacted Monday and reported that his committee has met with Rickers and that they have agreed one large Open House is not feasible.

He added that he plans to "spell out in black and white" his report to the Council tomorrow to avoid any further confusion. Rickers, according to Myers, helped write this week's Open House committee report.

Confusion occurred last Wednesday when several of the other Council members interpreted Myers' report to read that no other alternate plan for inviting high schoolers be accepted either.

Chip Kuklin pointed out the increased interest shown by some Lincoln and Omaha high schools in touring the University. "In case you know it or not we have one of the best universities in the country and the people in the state don't know it," he said. He added, however, that he understood that one large Open House was not feasible as the committee had reported.

Not Sensible Steve Gage then told members of the Council the Open House was not sensible and asked how could "the student (high school) with an open mind" be shown everything he wants to see on both campuses in one day. He recalled the 1951 Open House when "hundreds of dollars" were lost. "It was a monstrous flop, only 700 students attended."

Gage continued and said an Open House "must be open to everyone." He said other events during the year (E-Week, J-Week, etc.) were "selective."

Rickers then gained the floor and gave a lengthy report of his findings of a year ago.

Rickers said the Council should start slowly and gradually build a successful "Colleges Days" for the future. "Think ahead to the future, 10 to 15 years from now and look back and be proud," he said.

Rickers ended by questioning the Myers report. "I hope the Council can see fit to investigate this more thoroughly. Six and a half weeks have been wasted so far. There isn't much time left until April," he concluded.

President Ken Tempero partially settled the misunderstanding between Myers and Rickers when he explained that the Rickers report last year was tabled and therefore, the present Open House committee did not have access to the findings.

Due to the confusion among the members, George Moyer asked to table the report.

FraternitiesDiscrimination
Clauses Banned

By UPS Student concern over discriminatory practices in social fraternities has brought action on many campuses this fall.

Discriminatory clauses have been banned from all organization constitutions at Ohio State University where anti-discriminatory actions were initiated by the Panhellenic Association with pledged administration support.

Student Senate at Colgate University passed a resolution calling for the abolishment of fraternity discriminatory clauses which has been forwarded to the Board of Trustees for final action. The statement, proposed by a fraternity president, provides an October, 1966 deadline for ending discriminatory provisions in organization charters.

The University of Michigan Student Council will vote next week on a resolution requiring all fraternities and sororities to file notarized statements regarding their constitutional membership requirements with the Student Council.

Similar action is being considered at Wesleyan University, Connecticut, where a student faculty committee has been formed to study discrimination in fraternities.

Four fraternities at the University of California, Berkeley, have taken steps to remove discriminatory clauses from their constitutions as the result of a 1959 University ruling stating that all houses must abolish such clauses by 1964 or lose University recognition.

PANCAKES FOR CHARITY

"Oooo, they look good," exclaims a coed at the AUF Pancake Feed Sunday night. The dinner kicked off the 1960 campaign for the organization. Behind the counters, AUF members flipped flapjacks until they all agreed, "I never want to see another one again!"

Innocents Plan Active
Weekend for Parents

Parents of University students will be especially honored on Nov. 12, Parents Day.

Activities will begin in the morning with a coffee for all visiting parents, served in the Union main lounge. Members of Mortar Boards, Innocents and the Union Hospitality committee will be present to welcome the parents.

The All University Fund Activities Queen will be honorary hostess at the coffee, which will last from 9 a.m. to noon.

John Hoerner of the Innocent's Society explained that the Innocents decided to have the AUF queen as a hostess to aid both the AUF drive and the Innocents on Parent's Day.

Also starting at 9:10 and 11 a.m. will be three special "Parents Eye View" tours of the University campus, conducted by members of the Builders Tour committee. Each of these tours will start and end at the coffee.

At 2 p.m. the Nebraska-Oklahoma State football game will begin. A special block of seats has been reserved for parents. Tickets may be ordered from the football ticket office in the Coliseum, with checks payable to A. J. Lewandowski.

If parents wish to have their children sit with them at the game, it will be necessary to purchase additional tickets. Student tickets will not allow them to sit in the parents' section.

"The returns of our letters to the parents have already surpassed last year's response. More than 300 tickets have been sold which is a 200 per cent gain over last year," Hoerner said Monday.

Hoerner said the main two reasons that the parents come to Lincoln are to see their children and the game. "That is why we plan to keep all other activity to a minimum. We plan to co-ordinate the Parents Day activities to make the day more of what it should be," he explained.

Over 2,000 invitations were sent to the parents of new students this year, according to Hoerner. He added that he hopes all parents will receive invitations in the future.

Half-time ceremonies at the game will feature the presentation of the Military Ball Honorary Commandant finalists and the All University Fund Activities Queen.

Following the game, the Union and also most organized houses and dorms will sponsor open houses or coffee hours.

Parents' Day is an annual event, hosted by the members of the Innocents Society and Mortar Boards.

Builders Meet

Builders will hold a mass meeting Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. in the Union party rooms.

Entertainment will be provided and refreshments served.

Over for Candidates;
Election Results Rest
On Voters Shoulders

By Nebraskan Staff

On the morning of election day Nebraska's gubernatorial candidates, Democrat Frank Morrison and Republican John Cooper, though both optimistic, are nervously awaiting the results as Nebraskans flock to the polls.

The two nominees made their last big efforts in Omaha Sunday in their bids for victory in this tight race which defies prediction.

Snag Votes

Morrison has based his chances on solid Democratic support and the possible snagging of a large quantity of Republican votes. Cooper is hoping to hold all GOP ballots.

Today is also the big day for the two Presidential hopefuls, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

In the ending hours of campaigning last night, Sen. Kennedy made his final stand on a half-hour television appearance at 10 p.m. He spoke on the Democratic campaign roundup.

Nixon in an unprecedented, four-hour telethon appearance

Monday answered the questions which were phoned or telegraphed to a television station in Detroit by viewers across the nation. The program was televised from 1-5 p.m. by the American Broadcasting Company.

Picks Cooper

On the local side, predictions are made from both camps.

Gov. Dwight Burney said last night that the gubernatorial race will be reasonably close.

"I am now of the opinion that John Cooper will win, however," the Governor said.

Morrison Hopeful

Mayor Pat Boyles of Lincoln said that he was not taking "an active part" in the gubernatorial campaign or election. However, he did comment that he "hopes and expects Frank Morrison will be elected."

When questioned about the presidential race, the Mayor said, he felt the Republicans will carry Nebraska, but declined to predict the outcome of the national race.

State Republican Chairman Charles Thone, said, "The Republicans will carry the whole ticket."

"Nixon will carry it all the way," was the Chairman's answer to questions on the national outcome.

State Democratic Chairman, Russell Hanson, was not available for comment on the eve of the election.

The Daily Nebraskan will carry the latest results on the election in tomorrow's paper as of the time when the paper goes to press.

Yea! More Queens

Interviews for Cornhusker Beauty Queens will be held Nov. 17 at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union, according to Mary Lu Keill, editor of the Cornhusker.

Each organized house may submit one candidate for every 25 Cornhuskers it sold. Sales have closed and the houses have been notified of the number of girls they are allowed to enter.

The names of the candidates must be turned in by Friday instead of Wednesday as previously stated. Houses should contact the Cornhusker office if there are any questions.

Dr. Heyne's talk will be a condensed course in plant breeding. He will explain the basic contributions from genetics, plant pathology, and related subjects in improving economic plants by breeding.

A native Nebraskan, Dr. Heyne received his B.S. degree from Kansas State University, and his Ph.D. at the University of Minnesota.

Political Rivals Exchange Buttons, Not Pins

DON'T GET STUCK!

Jan Rhoda, president of Young Republicans pins a Nixon campaign button on her new "pinnate" Don Ferguson, president of Young Democrats. The couple staged a mock ceremony and exchanged buttons Monday night to encourage students to "get out and vote" regardless of which candidate they prefer.

Pinned! Jan Rhoda, president of Young Republicans to Don Ferguson, president of Young Democrats.

Romance is not the reason for this pinning between the Pi Beta Phi senior and the Phi Gamma Delta junior. Instead, the double political pinning took place last night in the Pi Phi house to get out the vote.

The couple explained that their only purpose in exchanging Nixon-Lodge and Kennedy-Johnson campaign pins was to show the eligible campus voters that they "should forget all differences and vote today."

True to the characteristics of an actual pinning, the entire Pi Phi house trudged to the Pi Phi house last night to witness the exchange of pins. The candle was passed at the Pi Phi house and cigars were given to each Phi Gam.

"We have taken this evening, as representatives of Young Democrats and Young Republicans to dissolve all party animosity for the purpose of urging all students of voting age to exercise their right, obligation and privilege as an American citizen.

"We feel that both groups, their officers and committees have done all that they can to bring the candidates and issue to the students and campus community," the "pinnates" noted.

The biggest difference in the unique pinning was the handshake instead of the traditional kiss.

"Vote today, America needs you!" Ferguson and Miss Rhoda exclaimed as they left the Pi Phi house.
