

Kowalke Leads Husker Win Over Stubborn Panther '5'

By Hal Brown
Nebraska's hustling cagers fought off a determined Iowa State Teachers College five as the Huskers scored a 78-68 triumph Thursday night at the Coliseum.

An estimated 2,500 fans turned out to watch the opening game for both teams. Nebraska gets its second test Saturday when Wichita comes to town for an 8 p.m. clash.

Jim Kowalke led the Huskers with 22 points and 15 rebounds as Jerry Bush's Huskers led all the way except for a brief moment midway in the first half.

The Panthers pulled to within two points at 68-66 with 3:36 left in the game, but Nebraska increased the lead to 72-66 on a free throw by Al Roots and a lay up and free throw by Jan Wall to put the game out of reach.

Nebraska led 37-26 at the half, but Iowa State Teachers kept plugging away and nearly caught the Huskers late in the game. The Panthers outscored Nebraska in the second half, 42-41.

Nebraska jumped off to a 5-0 lead in the first two minutes of action on jump shots by Wall and Kowalke, and a charity toss by Tom Russell.

Russell, a 6-7 junior, pulled down 10 rebounds to rank second to Kowalke in that department and pumped in 11 points for the evening's work.

The Panthers, trailing 20-10 with nine minutes remaining in the first half rallied to take a 22-21 lead with six minutes left in the opening half. The Iowa State Teachers surge was led by Bob Waller, who hit two jump shots and a free throw, and Jim Jackson with two twisting jump shots.

A set shot by Bill Noonkesser, a junior reserve forward, gave the Panthers the lead. Nebraska came roaring back with 10 consecutive points to lengthen the gap to 32-22.

Al Buuck, 6-9 junior, making his first appearance of the evening found the range with a jump shot to give the Huskers the lead once again. Three free throws by Roots and two by Kowalke, plus two lay ups by Bill Dowers sparked the Husker recovery.

Waller came off the bench to lead the Panther scoring with 21 points, most of them coming on long jump shots. Both teams hit 29 field goals but Nebraska cashed in 20 of 27 free throw attempts while Iowa State hit only 10.

Wichita Is Next Foe

Nebraska's basketball home stand continues Saturday night when Wichita invades the Coliseum for an 8 p.m. encounter.

The Shockers return seven of eight regulars whom Wichita coach Ralph Miller considered regulars a year ago. Wichita's attack is centered around Gene Wiley, a 6-10 junior center.

The big fellow saw only limited action a year ago because of an injured leg when the Shockers won 14 and lost 12. Wiley is counted on to give balance to the Shockers attack this season.

Ron Heller, a 6-6 senior forward averaged 13.7 points a game last season and is the top returning scorer. The playmaker is senior guard Larry Van Eman who averaged 13.5.

Cyclones Lose Basketball Star

Iowa State will be without the services of basketball star Vinnie Brewer this season.

Brewer and freshman wrestler Fred Capalongo were each fined 50 dollars for damaging public property at a city-owned parking lot. Each still faces a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Basketball coach Glen Anderson said, "Regardless of the outcome of the legal charges Brewer faces, we feel that he should not be a member of our squad this year."
