Utah State 5 Includes 3 Returning Starters

By Hal Brown

Utah State, Wednesday's Nebraska basketball opponent, returns five lettermen including three starters from a team that won 24 and lost five last season.

The Aggies finished second to Utah University in the Sky-line Conference and third in the National Invitational Tournament in New York. Three starters from that team who are expected to carry the burden in the early games are Cornell Green, Max Perry and Tyler Wilbon.

Green, a 6-5 forward, and Perry, a 5-10 guard formed a potent one-two scoring punch a year ago for the Aggies from Logan, Utah. Green averaged 21.2 points per game and Perry scored at a 16.1 clip.

Green and Wilbon are the probable starters at forward, with 6-5 sophomore Charlie Walker at center, and Perry and sophomore Don Holman at guards. Wilbon averaged 11.4 points per game a year ago.

Holman, a 5-9 former Marine cager, averaged 15 points per game in 12 freshman games last season for the highest average by an Aggie frosh in 10 years.

Holman's one hand jump shot in the final six seconds gave the Aggies an opening game victory, 67-65 over New York University Saturday night. Walker paced the Utah State scoring in that contest with 19 points.

Juco All-American Walker transferred to Utah State after a year at Sacramento, Calif., Junior College where he averaged 21.1 points per game and was named to the junior college all-American team.

Others bidding for a position on the top five are Joe Gozdzak, a 6-5 junior, and Darnel Haney, a 6-8 forward-center. Haney, at 6-8 and 228 pounds, is the biggest member of Coach Cecil Baker's squad.

He is a transfer from Phoenix, Ariz., Junior College where he averaged 21.7 points per game. Gozdzak is also a junior college transfer. He came to Utah State from Morton Junior College in Chicago Ill.

Utah State uses a single post with a minimum of play patterns as Aggie Coach Baker prefers to have his boys free lance. "Get too mechanical in offensive patterns," Baker says, "and you take the fun out of basketball. The player has charge of the game and a responsibility to use his head."

The Aggies don't waste any time between shots using an average of four passes before shooting. Baker's theory, "if we get a good shot, we take it, unless someone is open for a better shot. I consider a good shot as any shot a boy has confidence in. I don't want hope shots, but shots that the boy thinks he will make."

Baker uses only a minimum of players and operates on the philosophy, "I play to win, not to satisfy the bench."

The Aggie coach says, "I tell the boys at the start of the season that all positions are open, but we play the game to win. If you're on the team just because you want to play and not win, you might as well turn in your suit."

Game time at the Coliseum Wednesday night is 8:05 with a freshman intrasquad game getting underway at 6:30.

Nissen Grabs 123-Pound Title In AAU Wrestling Tourney

By Cloyd Clark

Mike Nissen captured the 123-pound wrestling title in the Iowa Teachers Invitational AAU Wrestling Tournament Saturday.

Nissen, the only Husker to gain a championship position, won when he pinned Don Webster of Ames Iowa in 2:56 of the final bout.

Heavyweight Jim Raschke accompanied Nissen into the finals where he was defeated by Jerry Wedemeier of Winona, 3-0.

Nissen's championship climb was made by pinning Dave Frame of Mankato in the second round, defeating Don Huff of Iowa City in the quarterfinals, defeating Bill McNeil of Cedar Falls in the semi-finals and pinning Webster in the finals.

The quarterfinals proved to be the toughest step for the 21-man Husker wrestling team. Of the eight Nebraskans who wrestled in this level only Nissen and Raschke advanced.

The quarterfinals took their toll on John Karrer, Jim Fuxa, Bob Swanberg, Bert Peterson, Bruce O'Callaghan, and Harold Thompson.

Nissen's victory and championship was somewhat of a surprise to Husker Coach Mickey Sparano although he had predicted before the tourney that Raschke and Nissen along with Thompson, Peterson and Van Sickle would do well in the tournament.

This tournament, being an AAU tournament, was not limited to college varsity athletes, consequently Nebraskan freshmen got their first taste of intercollegiate wrestling.

But along with freshmen there were also "old pros." To give an idea of the competition, Dan Brand, ex-Husker and Russ Camilleri, Lincoln Air Force Base, were in the tournament.

Brand and Camilleri both were on the United States Olympic team in Rome. Brand won the 191-pound title in the Iowa Teachers tourney and Camilleri won the consolation of the 177-pound class.

Sports Signals

By Hal Brown

Nebraska's cagers are playing a tough non-conference schedule this season with at least three of the seven non-loop foes being among the top 20 cage teams in the country. The other four opponents are expected to be among the leaders in their conference.

Utah State, Detroit, and Cincinnati are all expected to rate among the national leaders. Detroit has a near-cinch all-American in 6-5½ Dave DeBusschere and Cincinnati may not miss Oscar Robertson as much as some people think.

The Huskers certainly have no patsies among the pre-Christmas foes nor will they have any after the holidays when the Big Eight campaign begins.

Best in Kansas

Ralph Miller, Wichita coach, commenting on Husker freshman Daryl Petsch, "He was the best high school player in Kansas last year. We would have liked to have gotten him, but after one visit with him we had to give up." The problem was that Petsch wanted to major in architecture and Wichita doesn't offer courses in the subject. Nebraska cage fans can be thankful Nebraska has courses in architecture.

Brown

You may have noticed Saturday night that Wichita has an abundance of players from McKeesport, Pa. Shocker coach Ralph Miller explains that players flock to Wichita from McKeesport. "When I first came to Wichita, I recruited one boy from McKeesport and things just snowballed," Miller says. "Now, I don't even have to go there to recruit, we just send letters and they come."

In a freshman football game between Duke and South Carolina, Duke had a 6-0 lead before the clock even started. The rule book says time starts when the receiving team touches the ball. Duke kicked off. Opposing players let the ball roll untouched into the end zone where a Duke lineman fell on it . . . Touchdown!

Even Small Schools Get The Ax

It isn't only the major colleges that get slapped for illegal recruiting. The Santa Ana Junior College Dons have been placed on probation through the 1961 season. The Eastern Junior College Conference banned the Dons from appearing in post-season games for illegal recruiting. They were charged with offering extra inducements to a player.

Guard Don Manoukian of the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League has a quick sense of humor. On a recent Raider tour, a waiter asked how rare he wanted his rare steak order: Said Manoukian, "Just knock the breath out of it."

This corner picked 14 of 20 games right during the Thanksgiving weekend football contests for a .700 percentage. That leaves the record for the season at 227 right, 79 wrong with 14 ties for a .731 percentage mark.

Three Bowl-Bound Opponents

Three of Nebraska's grid foes during the past season are ticketed for appearances in major bowls. Minnesota, 26-14 winner over Nebraska will meet Washington in the Rose Bowl. Missouri, a 28-0 victor over the Huskers will tangle with Navy in the Orange Bowl. Texas, upset 14-13 by Nebraska, will face Alabama in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Nebraska quarterback Pat Fischer apparently impressed Oklahoma State with his 84-yard punt return against them. The Cowboys named him to the quarterback post on their all-opponent team. Fischer received more than twice as many votes as Kansas' all-American John Hadl.

The Big Eight Conference placed two players, End Dan LaRose of Missouri, and Guard Joe Romig of Colorado, on the American Football Coaches Association all-American Football Team. The team is selected by ballots of 2,000 coaches. The Southwest Conference and Big Ten Conference also placed two players each on the mythical eleven.

Bob Lilly of TCU at tackle and E. J. Holub of Texas Tech at center were the choices from the Southwest loop while the Big Ten placed Guard Tom Brown of Minnesota and Fullback Bob Ferguson of Ohio State. Other choices were End Mike Ditka of Pittsburgh, Tackle Ken Rice of Auburn, Quarterback Jake Gibbs of Mississippi and halfbacks Joe Bellino of Navy and Ernie Davis of Syracuse.

Huge Joins Cage Squad

Nebraska's basketball team has once again become the "Determined Dozen."

The Husker squad, reduced to 11 players with the departure of Sammy Kreigh for financial reasons, has added Jim Hoge to the roster. Hoge, a six-footer from Holdrege, has been playing AAU ball since the end of the football season.

Husker coach Jerry Bush indicated that Hoge would be used at a guard post. He will be in uniform Wednesday night when Nebraska takes on Utah State.

Marking another Milestone

Rich in history and rich in promise, too—that's York County, Pennsylvania.

And the telephone company covering this prosperous and progressive community has recently become a member of the General Telephone family.

York's pattern of growth is typical of the areas Gen Tel serves in 31 states. Long famous for its fertile fields and well-kept farms, the county has enjoyed a remarkable industrial expansion since World War II.

Typical, too, of these growing areas is their growing need for more telephones. And that is where Gen Tel comes in with the experience to provide improved service and the willingness to invest in modern communications equipment.

This is just one of the ways we are working to supply more and better telephone service for a growing America—present and future.

WOW! WHAT A CAST!

WE'RE NOT DONE YET!

When their raft's mooring line parts, two "muskie" fishermen desperately fight the current to reach the shore of the river . . .

THE CURRENT'S HELPING US SWIM BY— IF THAT 25-POUND TEST LINE HOLDS WELL, JUST CLEAR THE RAPIDS!

YOU SURE THINK FOR YOURSELF!

"25-lb. test" means the line itself will stand 25 pounds of pull, but with the aid of the "spring" in the pole, it will hold much more.
