University Belles Tryout for Coed Follies Jan. 19

By Nancy Brown
Belles of all types will appear in the tryouts Jan. 19 for the AWS sponsored 1961 Coed Follies production, "Belles on Their Toes."

story of a white man who comes to the jungle selling petreol. The salesman thinks he has sold it to the "stupid" natives, but ends up in the pot himself. It is a pantomime with all sound effects on tape. Skitmaster is Jan Clark.

"For Whom the Belle Tolls" is the name of Alpha Omicron Pi's skit. Two industrial companies are competing for the title of "Best Company." Interviewers go from organization to organization, and the competition is on. The skit features dance routines to the sound of typewriters. Judy Lawrence is skitmaster.

Hollywood Satire
"Real Reelism" by Alpha Phi is a satire on Hollywood. Academy Awards are given out to many recognizable characters, showing the performance to be a farce. The old lady from "Psycho" adds to the excitement. Skitmasters are Jane Jeffrey and Judy Means.

Alpha Xi Delta will present "Pershing Ruffles." This is the story of a number of girls who are drafted into the army and go to a coed training camp. The skit features a lot of drill work. Skitmaster is Shirley Chab.

"You've Gotta Have a Gimmick" by Chi Omega is the story of a stage-struck farm girl, Magnolia, who wants to get into show business. To get in, she needs a gimmick. This vaudeville show of the 1980's is then interrupted by a revivalist demonstration. Phyllis Elliot and Kathy Beggs are skitmasters.

Delta Delta Delta will present "These Wonderful Years," a story of the roaring twenties. The faculty of a girls' school tries to stop the schoolgirls from adopting new styles and ways. They get a spy to find out about an unregistered party, but the spy falls into the bathtub gin and joins in the fun. Judy Spencer is skitmaster.

Bored Angels

Delta Gamma in "Hell's Belles" proves to a few bored angels that there is more fun in heaven than in hell. All the famous people in hell and some of the angels attend the debut of Satan's daughter. Skitmaster is Kathy Madsen.

"Cell's Belles" by Gamma Phi Beta is based on a prison theme. The Keystone Cops bring in an old jailbird who masterminds a big escape for the rest of the inmates. Vicki Cullen and Bonnie Baily are skitmasters.

"The Day Peter Pan Didn't Pan" is a comic takeoff on the Peter Pan story by Kappa Alpha Theta. Three strangers land in Never Never Land, including a girl named Wendy. Wendy decides Peter Pan is too fat and fixed Metreol for him. He is then poisoned by Captain Hook, and everyone has to 'believe' to save him. Skitmaster is Martha Shaffer.

Kappa Delta's will present "Quiet Riot." This is a takeoff on an old time silent movie. The villain won't obey his wife and so she shoots him. Just as the cops come, the movie breaks and is run backwards. Skitmasters are Barbara Sitorius and Cindy Peterson.

Oppression

"Tribulations of Tyrannosaurus Trench" by Kappa Kappa Gamma concerns an argument between cavemen and cavewomen over the oppression of women and the superiority. The disagreement begins when St. Valentine comes down from heaven and says the situation must change. Mary Thompson and Diane Tinan are skitmasters.

Pi Beta Phi will present "Commonly Preferred." This is the story of a great stock market crash all because the stockbrokers did not have faith in what they were doing. A little man who had warned the brokers then revives the market by faith. Skitmasters are Kathryn Erickson and Mary Hill.

"Belles on Their Toes" by Zeta Tau Alpha concerns several little old ladies who visit a university and are shocked by the behavior of the sorority girls. They try to reform them with the Little Old Ladies League. Lexi Lou Bell is skitmaster.

—Lay Committee Discusses— Requirement Hike For Grad School—?

Several members of the lay committee on education, appointed by the state legislature, are reported to be in favor of a move to stiffen graduate entrance requirements.

The committee has been working closely with California educator, Dr. Lyman A. Glenny, to develop recommendations for improvement of higher education in Nebraska.

Lay members who favor the proposal feel it would "make undergraduate study more meaningful in addition to doing a more thorough job of eliminating incompetent students."

Harold E. Wise, Associate Dean of the Graduate College, said he feels entrance requirements here are "comparable" to those in other institutions of similar quality.

Wise was referring to the 41 members of the Association of Graduate Schools of which the University Graduate College is a member.

At present, candidates for graduate work are required to hold a Bachelor of Arts degree from an accredited institution, to maintain a 6 average in all 200 level courses for graduate work and a 4 in all 300 level courses.

Officials in the graduate office said "no specific grade average" is required for undergraduate work, but that candidates "usually must have about a 6 average."

Considerations include

"fluctuation of grades, types of courses taken, number of students applying and specific departmental requirements."

Several departments, such as education, English and chemistry, require qualifying examinations while others such as history and political science do not.

Scholarship To Hawaii Available

Study-Tour Grants Open to Americans

An unusual group of scholarships is available to American graduate and undergraduate students by the new East-West Center of the University of Hawaii.

These grants, worth from $3,710 to $4,310 a year, will be given to students in Asian studies and related fields.

Transportation, tuition, fees, books, incidental expenses, room and board plus an expense-paid study tour of the area or country in Asia pertinent to the student's study program will be covered by the scholarships.

Under the new East-West Center scholarships, juniors and seniors have the opportunity of participating in specialized and integrated courses offered in the Asian field. Students may elect to major in Asian studies or to combine such studies with majors in other fields.

Graduate students may elect a high-level language and area program in one of the East or Southeast Asian cultures leading towards a Master's degree in Far Eastern studies. This requires that at least part of the thesis research be done in the Asian vernacular chosen.

Individual study plans are also offered in the Asian field at a graduate level designed to prepare selected students for service in Asia with international organizations, agencies of government and private institutions.

Information and application blanks for East-West Center scholarships may be obtained from the Director, East-West Center, University of Hawaii, Honolulu 14, Hawaii.

These must be completed and returned to the Director by March 1. Scholarship awards will be announced April 1.

YW Recruiter Here Wednesday

A national YWCA recruiter, Sally Beck, will be on campus Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to interview girls interested in professional YWCA work.

She will give information and interview girls seeking work with teenagers; young adults; health, physical education, and recreation or university students.

Appointments can be made by calling the YWCA office in the Student Union.

Judge Carter To Speak To 4-H Club

The University 4-H Club's drive for citizenship development will get a boost tomorrow night with the naturalization process being explained by Judge E. F. Carter of the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Besides explaining the process, Judge Carter will ask some questions, typical of those used in naturalization tests, to Mrs. Gerda Trei who is a Lincoln resident awaiting naturalization in February.

Rich Bringsel, who attended the citizenship conference in Washington, D.C., is responsible for setting up the ceremony. He said similar ceremonies at the Washington Monument impressed him and that he wanted the club to become acquainted with the process also. One of the stipulations of his trip was to come back and promote citizenship.

The ceremony will not be official as such a process must be carried on by a District Judge rather than a Supreme Court Judge.

Some of the questions that will be asked of Mrs. Trei will concern the history, constitution, preamble and amendments of the United States. She and her husband came over to the United States from Germany six years ago.

It was through the efforts of Judge Carter that the Treis came to the United States. They became eligible for naturalization last fall but a mixup of dates made them wait until February.

This ceremony will be an addition to several skits presented throughout the year by the 4-H Club.

These skits have been taken from J. Edgar Hoover's "Master of Deceit."

The 4-H Club will also hold election of officers and installation ceremonies tomorrow night. The installation ceremony will be an original idea of Sherry Knapp, the present club president.

Brothers Four to Perform

BROTHERS FOUR 'SWING OUT'

The Brothers Four, one of the nation's most promising singing groups, will perform at the Student Union for two performances at 7:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. on February 9.

Union Will Spot Two Performances

By Norm Beatty

The Brothers Four, popular vocal group and Columbia recording stars, are scheduled to appear at the Student Union Febr. 9, according to Bill Connell, chairman of the Union special activities committee.

The four former University of Washington students and fraternity brothers of Phi Gamma Delta will appear for two shows in the Union ballroom, 7:30 and 9 p.m., according to Connell.

"The response to their refreshing, relaxed yet enthusiastic style has been overwhelming," Connell noted.

Nation-wide Tour

When the foursome arrive on the Nebraska campus they will have just finished a nation-wide tour made with Johnny Mathis.

The Brothers Four have been organized for a little over a year. They left the Washington campus at spring vacation in February of 1959.

Their first professional job was at the "Hungry 1" in San Francisco where they were spotted by Mort Lewis, manager of Dave Brubeck. Within six months they were signed by Columbia and had their first hit—"Greenfields."

Appearances

Their first television appearance was on the Jimmy Rodgers Show. They have since appeared on the Ed Sullivan show, Mitch Miller's Ford Startime Spectacular, the Dick Clark Show, "Be Our Guest," and Canada's award winning "Music '60 Show." In addition the singing fraternity brothers have completed engagements at the Carter Barron Theater in Washington, D.C. and at the Newport Folk Festival.

The Brothers Four, who specialize in college appearances, were recently voted as having the strongest sales potential of all albums reviewed for that week by the Cash Box Disc Jockey Poll for their latest release—"Rally Round."

Included on the new stereo release album are "My Tani," already among the top 100 songs of the nation,

Correction

The film society presentation "Jazz on a Summer's Day" will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Nebraska Theater not tonight as Monday's article stated.

"Nine Pound Hammer," "Hey Liley, Liley Lo," and "Marianne" which are all part of 12 folk songs of the album.

Because of the limited supply of seats, Connell suggests that students purchase their tickets immediately. He added that those who buy their tickets by advance sale can get them for $1.00 per ticket. Tickets bought at the door will be $1.25.

Tickets are now on sale at the main desk of the Union, the Union Student Activities office, the Ag Union and also may be obtained from any special activities committee member, Connell said.

A special meeting of all organized house representatives who plan to sell tickets in their respective houses are asked to meet in 235 Student Union at 3:30 p.m. today with Connell.

Hinshaw Is Recital Pianist

Prof. Harvey Hinshaw will be the featured pianist at the University faculty recital tonight at 7:30 in the Student Union ballroom.

This will be Hinshaw's first performance on campus since his return from a year's study at the Juilliard School of Music on a Woods Fellowship. He studied under Madame Lhevinne, who was Van Cliburn's teacher.

His program, which is open to the public, will include: Sonatas in E minor and E major, both by Scarlatti; Sonata in A major, by Schubert; Nocturnes in F sharp major and E minor, both by Chopin and Suite, Opus 14, by Bartok.

Before joining the University faculty in 1956, Prof. Hinshaw was accompanist for Albert Wilcox, the late John Charles Thomas and Igor Gorin.

Lit Contest To Continue

Marjorie Leafdale, assistant professor of English, has announced that the Ione Gardner Noyes poetry contest for undergraduates and the Prairie Schooner fiction contest for graduates and undergraduates will be held again this spring.

Details for submitting entries will be available through the English department office after Feb. 1 and all winning entries will be considered for publication in the Prairie Schooner.

The Noyes awards were made possible from a fund established in 1954 by Mrs. Harold Meier of Omaha and Laurence Noyes of Waterloo in honor of the late Ione Gardner Noyes.

Mari Sancoz, noted Nebraska writer, initiated the fiction awards in 1956.

Regents Accept Samuel Avery Trust Fund To Create Chemistry, General Fellowships

A trust fund, valued at over $109,279 and created by the widow of a former University chancellor, was a large portion of nearly a million dollars in private gifts, federal research and training grants accepted by the Board of Regents Saturday.

May B. Avery, widow of former Chancellor Samuel Avery, died in July of last year. She left these funds, some in the form of common stocks, for the establishment of the Samuel Avery Fellowship and Scholarship Fund.

Finance Scholarships
Income from this fund will be used to finance the scholarships and fellowships in all areas of the University, but preferably in chemistry and allied sciences, according to Mrs. Avery's trust agreement.

The Board also accepted a gift of 2,000 shares of common stock, valued at $20,750, from Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Behlen of Columbus. The revenue from the stock will be used by the University State Museum.

The Board of Regents also accepted received $376,518 in training grants.

Among the research grants is $75,065 from the Nebraska Wheat Commission and the Nebraska Agricultural Products Research Fund Committee for research under the direction of Prof. Paul Matern in the department of agronomy.

Wheat Strains

The project will attempt to characterize new high protein wheat strains for use with air classification milling techniques. This evaluation will seek to develop new wheat varieties for Nebraska which will have the required characteristics of kernel texture and gluten quality for food and industrial uses.

A continuation research grant of $105,834 from the U.S. Public Health Service was received for research by Dr. C. L. Wittson of the department of neurology and psychiatry. The research concerns multiple psychiatric drug screening units.

In addition to continuations of several former grants, three new training grants were also accepted from the U.S. Public Health Service.

They include $37,500 in physiology under the direction of Dr. A. R. McIntyre of the department of physiology and pharmacology; $37,104 in microbiology under the joint direction of Professors Carl Georgi and Richard Morita of the department of bacteriology; and $26,048 in anatomical sciences under the direction of Dr. John S. Latta of the department of anatomy.
