

Swimmers Face Two In Coliseum Pool

By Roy Katskee
Nebraska's swimmers are at home for a two-day stand against Emporia State College at 7:30 p.m. tonight and Oklahoma at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. No admission will be charged.

Emporia State of Emporia, Kans., is a young and inexperienced team that only recently began swimming as a major sport. They defeated Kansas State in the last outing.

Nebraska has a 1-1 mark after splitting a double dual meet last Saturday. The Huskies downed Gustavus Adolphus, but fell to Minnesota.

Oklahoma is the perennial powerhouse in the Big Eight. This year's Matt Mann-coached outfit boasts four all-Americans and are again rated as the favorite for the conference crown.

The Sooners return three swimmers who won five titles in the conference meet a year ago. Top returnees are Captain Gordon Collett, 100-yd. breaststroke champion; Johnnie Day, winner of the 100 and 200-yard backstroke events; and Carl Zahn, champion in the 100 and 200-yard butterfly tests.

Mann also has back all four members of the 400-yard medley relay team that finished fifth in the NCAA meet. They are Day, Collett, Zahn, and Phil Brougher.

Varsity Record
Nebraska's 400-yard medley relay team set a varsity record against Gustavus Adolphus with Larry Ferrell, Joe Stocker, Larry McClean, and Phil Swaim teaming up for the Huskers.

LaVerne Bauers will replace Stocker and Bob Mitchell will take Swaim's spot in this event against Emporia State, but the record-breaking quartet will team up for the Oklahoma dual.

Husker coach Dick Klaas indicated that he hoped to offset Oklahoma's outstanding individual strength by picking up enough second and third place finishes to make up for the expected lack of first places.

Klaas cited four sophomores for "helping the team to get that extra push that is so vital to a winning team." Sophomores mentioned were Swaim, Jay Groth, Mitchell and Bauers.

Swaim was a member of the record-breaking 400-yard medley relay quartet and also swims on the freestyle relay team.

Bauers' time of 23.8 in the 50-yard freestyle is the best time for that event by a Nebraska swimmer in the past 10 years. Groth set a varsity record for the 220-yard freestyle with a 2:22.2 clocking in the varsity-freshman meet.

Mitchell is a member of the 400-yard freestyle relay team that was only one second off the varsity record in the meet with Gustavus Adolphus.

Oklahoma's swimmers open the season tonight against Kansas State at Manhattan before coming to the Coliseum Pool Saturday.

Sports Day Stated For Husker Co-eds

Girls may sign up for either individual sports, Nebraska ball or both and the deadline for entries is Wednesday. Entries may be made by calling Shirley Parker, WAA president at HE 2-6291.

Nebraska's wrestlers will be going after their second straight win Saturday against Ft. Hays State of Fort Hays, Kans.

The opening match at the Coliseum will start at 7:30. Coach Mickey Sparano plans to make some changes in his lineup in an effort to test some of his wrestlers in competition. Sparano believes actual competition rather than practice matches.

Changes will include either at 123 pounds, Larry Lebruska or Dave Loos instead of Bert Peterson at 147 and Dan Hoevet will replace Pat Fitzgerald at 177 pounds.

Nissen, sophomore with a 7-0 record including wins over the Big Eight champion and runner-up from a year ago, is sidelined with a sprained ankle suffered during a Dec. 18 workout.

Jim Faimon, whose improvement has been part of the slightly sensational showing of the Huskers thus far, has a 6-1 record including one pin. Faimon, a blind lad, has overcome this handicap to become one of the top wrestlers on the squad.

He won the 137-pound title in the Great Plains AAU meet

Husker Grapplers Seek 2nd Consecutive Win

at Omaha during the past vacation.

Husker heavyweight Jim Raschke owns a 6-2 record including four pins. Raschke pinned Kansas State's Don Darter in the Omaha meet to avenge an earlier loss to the Wildcat grappler.

Ft. Hays finished 10th in the NAIA last year and seven lettermen return. The Huskers dropped a 26-8 decision meet losing streak in the last outing against Adams State College. Kansas State nipped the Huskers in the opening meet of the season.

An intrasquad meet will precede the main attraction.

The Pacers downed the previously undefeated National, 33-27, and League 11 leader, Phi Delta Theta C, picked up their fifth win by defeating Alpha Tau Omega C, 40-22.

Volleyball Slate Has Four Games

Four games are on tap for next week's co-recreational volleyball schedule, according to public relations director Judy Knapp.

The games, which will be played at Grant Memorial Hall, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday are Alpha Omicron Pi-Beta Theta Pi vs. Alpha Phi Beta 2-Alpha Tau Omega vs. Zeta Tau Alpha-Gamma Rho.

At 8:30 Delta Gamma 1-Sigma Chi vs. Terrace Hall-MacClean House and Kappa Kappa Gamma-Sigma Alpha Mu vs. Alpha Xi Delta-Delta Tau Delta.

The last round of the round-robin schedule will be played Feb. 7 and the tournament begins Feb. 14.

Nebraska Basketball Winning String in Jeopardy Saturday

By Hal Brown
Coach Jerry Bush's red-hot Husker cagers will try to extend their winning string to five games when they take on Colorado Saturday at Boulder.

The four-game win string has been against Big Eight opposition, two games in the pre-season tourney and two games in the regular campaign. Missouri and Oklahoma State fell to the Huskers in the tourney, and Missouri and Colorado have topped in the regular season.

Colorado started the season with seven straight victories, but the Buffs are now 9-4 overall and 1-1 in league play. The Huskers are 8-4 overall. The eight wins surpass last year's victory total for the entire season.

NU'S WALL

The Buffs will be trying to avenge a 65-61 defeat suffered at the hands of Nebraska in an overtime battle Monday night.

Nebraska was tabbed for a last-place finish in the Big Eight, but aggressive rebounding and a back line that has been delivering more than Coach Bush says he has had from his guards in the six previous seasons he has been here, partially accounts for the surprise showing.

The Huskers have been out-rebounded only twice this season. Kansas, in the Big Eight tourney, and Detroit are the only teams gathering in more rebounds than Nebraska.

Russell Leads
Tom Russell leads Nebraska's rebounders with 132 while three others have added more than 70 apiece. Bill Bowers has 76 rebounds, Jim Kowalko has 72, and Al Roots has 71.

The Huskers have won the last two games without their number one scorer in Kowalko. The Husker senior sprained an ankle in the final game of the pre-season tourney and it is still doubtful that he will be ready to go Saturday.

He is leading the Husker scoring averages with 12.9 points per game, but four others are close behind. Rex Swett and Jan Wall are tied with 11-point averages. Russell has a 10.3 mark, and Roots is pumping points at a 9.9 clip.

Jim Huge, a late addition to the squad, has proven to be a valuable piece of property. The football end has given Bush a chance to rest his guards, and when Swett was ordered from the Missouri game, Huge played more than half the contest in effective fashion.

Colorado has yet to lose a game on the home maples this season and Nebraska has never set the world afire on the road.

The Buffs scoring is led by Wilky Gilmore, a 6-5 forward, with a 20.7 average. Nebraska held him to 12 points in Monday night's test. Roger Voss, a 6-8 center who scored 23 against the Huskers Monday, is second with a 17.5 average.

Ken Charlton is averaging 12.4 points per game, but from there the scoring drops to Wayne Millies with a 4.7 mark.

Nebraska's next home game is Jan. 21 with Iowa State providing the opposition.
