Defense-Minded OSU To Meet Husker '5'

By Hal Brown

Nebraska will be trying to break a six-game losing streak when they meet Oklahoma State on the Coliseum maples at 8:05 p.m. Saturday.

The Huskers are tied for seventh place in the league standings with Oklahoma. Both teams have 2-6 records in conference action. Oklahoma meets Iowa State at Ames Saturday night.

Jerry Bush's cagers opened the conference campaign with two straight victories, but have dropped the last six. A Husker win over the Cowboys coupled with a loss by Oklahoma would give Nebraska sole possession of seventh place and drop the Sooners into the Big Eight cellar.

The Huskers are 1-1 against Oklahoma State with a 70-61 win in the preseason tourney and a 55-47 loss at Stillwater two weeks ago.

Wall, a 6-6 junior, hit seven of seven free throws and five field goals against Iowa State Monday night to lead the Husker scoring. Wall has a 9.9 scoring average to rank fourth on the Husker team.

Russell is the leading scorer with an 11.6 average. Sweet

Oklahoma State hit 26 of 27 free throws Tuesday night in winning its fourth conference game against five losses. The Cowboys defeated Oklahoma, 48-42.

The Cowboys' ball-control strategy is led by Moe Iba, son of Coach Henry Iba. Coach Iba is in his 27th season as coach at Oklahoma State.

Teaming with Iba (6-1) at guard will be Fritz Greer (6-0). Eddie Bunch (6-7) will start at center with L. C. Gordon (6-1) and Cecil Epperley (6-4) at forwards.

Husker Matmen Looking For 4th Win at Cornell

Coach Mickey Sparano's wrestlers take to the road again Saturday for a meet with Cornell College at Mt. Vernon, Iowa, in an effort to get back in the win column.

The Huskers won only two matches in dropping a 19-10 decision to Kansas State Wednesday night at Manhattan. Nebraska's Mike Nissen won a 4-1 decision over Big Eight champion John Dooley in the 123-pound class.

The win was the second of the season for Nissen over Dooley. Heavyweight Jim Raschke was the only other Nebraska winner when he pinned Don Darter in 2:06. Raschke lost a decision to the Wildcat heavyweight earlier in the year.

Pat Fitzgerald, 177-pounder, wrestled to a draw with Kansas State's Denton Smith. Husker Jim Faimon lost his first dual match of the season when Larry Word won a 10-4 decision.

The loss was the second of the season to Kansas State and gives Nebraska a record of three wins, three losses and one tie. The Wildcats won the earlier dual, 16-10. Kansas State is unbeaten in nine meets.

Sparano indicated he would go against Cornell with the same wrestlers who saw action Wednesday night. This would have Nissen at 123, Dick Van Sickle 130, Faimon 137, Larry Lebruska 147, Harold Thompson 157, Stan Fraley 167, Fitzgerald 177 and Raschke in the heavyweight division.

Results at K-State:

130-Gus Garcia, KS, dec. Dick Van Sickle, 8-1.
137-Larry Word, KS, dec. Jim Faimon, 10-4.

177-Pat Fitzgerald, NU, drew with Denton Smith, 6-6.

Burnett, League 6 champion, routed Smith, 70-42, in the highest scoring battle of the evening. Al Olsen scored 31 points to take the scoring honors for the Burnett team and Lyle Wendt of Smith led his team with 19.

Beta Sigma Psi avenged an earlier loss and ended Farm House's perfect record as they defeated the Ag Campus kings, 37-28.

Jim Goodell, Beta Theta Pi-A, turned in one of the better individual performances as he scored 23 points to lead the Betas to a 59-31 victory over Phi Delta Theta-A.

Limited action in the "Cornhuskers" tourney saw Delta Tau Delta's A team defeat Delta Upsilon, 46-30. This victory and a bye in the second round advances the Deltas to a temporary lead in the "Cornhuskers" race.

NU Thinclads Seek 3rd Victory

By Janet Sack

The Husker track team will go after its third victory when they entertain Colorado and Kansas State Saturday in a triangular. Field and track events both will begin at 2 p.m. on the East Stadium indoor track.

"This meet is going to be a lot rougher and tougher than the other ones," Coach Frank Sevigne said. "Where we're strong, the hurdles, broad jump, pole vault, and shot put, we may get cut up."

The Colorado Buffs will invade Nebraska with a team especially strong in the broad jump, shot put, pole vault, 440, 600, and possibly the 880. Coach Sevigne said.

Heading the broad jump will be Bill Toomey, holder of the Memorial Stadium record with a jump of 24-4½. He will be backed up by Don Meyers who has been jumping consistently more than 23 feet.

Meyers will be strong in the pole vault with his best effort being 14-2. Nebraska's Jim Kraft is credited with 14-0 for his best. Roger Olander, another top Buff vaulter, will see no action because of a pulled muscle.

Clise in Shot
Colorado's shot putter Bob Crumpacker will be attempting to out toss Nebraska's Al Wellman and Larry Reiners, and Kansas State's Ron Stout. Jim Heath of Colorado has covered the 440 in :48.9 and has posted a 600 mark of 1:12.0, three-tenths of a second under the Big Eight record held by Husker Joe Mullins.

With the Kansas State team comes the Big Eight hurdle king Rex Stucker. Stucker will have plenty of competition with the Nebraska hurdlers in the form of Milt Haedt, Bill Fasano, Fred Wioke, and Bob Knaub.

Wildcats Bob Groszek and Pat McNeal will give the Huskers strong competition in the 600, 1000, and the mile. Larry Wagner is also one of the stronger Wildcat middle distance men.

Nebraska's hopes are pinned on Knaub in the broad jump. Knaub turned in a leap of 23-8½ against Drake and Iowa State last week.

In the high jump Wilke and Vayden Anderson will carry the burden for the Huskers.
