

House Parties 'Galore' Mark Week-End Calendar

House parties galore this week-end will cause a scurry among the coeds on campus to locate that long-forgotten sailor outfit left over from Coed Follies or the yellow polka-dot bikini that was such

Filkins Named Best Showman

Mylon Filkins, junior in agriculture, was named grand champion showman in the Block and Bridle club sponsored livestock showmanship contest.

Roger Stork won reserve champion in the same contest.

Filkins was named grand champion after placing first in the swine showmanship contest. William Alschwede took second place in the swine contest.

The sheep showmanship contest's top honors were awarded to Larry Williams, first and Gerald Huntwork, second.

Champion of the beef showmanship contest was Roger Stork and reserve champion Francis Lavicky.

The beef contest was subdivided into three divisions. The winners and their respective divisions include: Roger Stork, first and Bruce Jameson, second in the angus division; Francis Lavicky, first and Frank Morrison, second in the short horn division; John Joyner, first and Mick Harding, second in the hereford division.

As most people know, the film won eleven Academy Awards last year, a record for any film in any year. I cannot, after two viewings in Omaha, deny its excellence. Perhaps the only two American films I would consider superior are "Citizen Kane" and the already mentioned "Gone With the Wind." By all means, see "Ben-Hur!"

Extra Community Concert Attraction This Saturday

A special Lincoln Community Concert attraction, the joint recital of Marjorie Lawrence and Nelson and Neal, will be presented at Pershing Auditorium Saturday at 8 p.m.

The show, an extra fifth attraction for Community Concert members, will be presented with no extra charge to members, according to Lou Roper, president of Community Concerts.

Miss Lawrence, described by some as "the world's greatest living dramatic soprano," is a former prima donna of the Metropolitan and Paris Opera Houses.

She is an artist in residence at Southern Illinois Music Department in Carbondale, Ill.

The young piano team, Nelson and Neal, have played over a thousand recitals in the last ten years, traveling in a $40,000 custom bus with their three children and two concert grand pianos.
