

NU May Queen Election Coeds To Vote On Wednesday

May Queen primary elections will be held Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Polls will be located in the Student Unions on the Ag and city campuses.

Ten finalists will be chosen from the 32 senior women whose names will appear on the ballot. The May Queen will be chosen from these ten by the vote of junior and senior women in the All-Women's Election March 15.

The runnerup in the election will serve as the Queen's Maid of Honor. They will be revealed on Ivy Day, May 6.

Candidates are: Barbara Barker, Alice Baumgartner, Marian Bryton, Carol Bresley, Shirley Chab, Jeanne Denker, Phyllis Elliott, Lorraine Hadley, Janet Hansen, Sue Healey.

Nina Herndon, Kay Hirschbach, Sheila Howard, Sharon Janke, Eleanor Kessler, Carol Larson, Karen Long, Mary Lu Keill, Donnie Keys, Mary Jane Koch, Carol Kucera, Judy Moomaw.

Pat Ostieck, Roberta Rock, Joan Schultz, Dorothy Sellen, Gail Simon, Jeannie Spanhake, Mary Stastny, Virginia Svitak, Kay Swoboda and Carolyn Whitney.

Greek Grade Ranks Ready In One Week

It will be at least one more week until the fraternity and sorority grade groupings are available according to sources from Administration.

Mrs. Irma Laase, assistant registrar, explained it was usually about one month between the time students received their grade transcripts before all corrections and groupings were completed.

The corrections are largely due to mechanical errors, removal of incompletes and grades which are changed by teachers she said.

After all corrections are made, the 10,000 transcripts (this number includes evening courses and off campus classes) are retabulated as corrected. The grade reports are then arranged alphabetically. They are then grouped according to colleges, class rank, and organized houses.

The organized house grouping must be further subdivided into men's and women's residences. When these tabulations are completed the groupings will be available for publication.

ACE Meeting

Association for Childhood Education (ACE) will hold a meeting Tuesday at 4:45 p.m. in 200 Teachers College.

A discussion of a kindergarten and an art exhibit from Paris will be on the program for the ACE meeting.

Kuhr Gives Talk At State Capitol

Marshall Kuhr, Ag College junior and University 4-H Club president, will present a special report to Gov. Frank Morrison and Nebraska people at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in the State Capitol.

Kuhr will be accompanied by the 1961 National 4-H Club Conference delegates from Nebraska, officers of the University 4-H club and representatives of several Nebraska counties.

The report will be made on behalf of the 32,817 4-H club members and 6,400 leaders in the Cornhusker State.

Among other things, Kuhr will present the Governor with a volume on the history of 4-H club work in Nebraska. Nebraska is one of 11 states in the nation credited with giving birth to the idea. The volume traces the development of 4-H club work in every county in the state.

'CLAP YOUR HANDS!'

Rehearsing for their performance tonight are four members of the Norad Commanders Military Dance Orchestra.

The 20-piece orchestra will present a free concert in the Student Union ballroom beginning at 8 p.m.

European Tour Costs Less, Lasts Longer This Year

The University European summer tour, planned by the Student Union, will be ten days longer than last year's tour and somewhat cheaper, according to Sharon DeMars, chairman of the committee in charge of tour arrangements.

The tour is open to students from Nebraska, Kansas State, Iowa State and Missouri. The travelers will leave Montreal, Canada, June 22 and will return, after a 62 day excursion, on August 22.

The "Empress of England," a Canadian Steamship Company ship, will transport the group to and from Europe. A few of the special features of the ship include a swimming pool, movie theater, dance hall, restaurants and cocktail lounges. The boat trip will take seven days both ways.

The tourists will visit eight countries including Scotland, Holland, Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, France and England.

The group will spend more time in the Scandinavian countries this year, according to Miss DeMars, because of the beauty of this region at this particular time of year. One of the highlights of the trip will be an overnight stay near Lake Geneva.

The tour will also feature more free time than last year's tour. Half days will be allotted in Innsbruck and Heidelberg; one and one half days at Edinburgh, Amsterdam, Lucerne and Montreux; and two and a half days in Rome, Paris and London.

The total cost of the tour is $1,125 which is almost $100 cheaper than last year's tour. Of this amount $434 goes for round trip steamship passage. The balance of the fee will pay for travel on the continent, hotel fees, meals at hotels and when traveling as a group, sightseeing including admission fees required at some places, services of a European tour manager, handling of baggage if more than one large suitcase and an overnight case, and transfers of baggage between terminals and hotels.

The cost of the tour does not include passport and visa fees, transportation to and from the departure and landing port at Montreal, tips to stewards on the ship and to motorcoach drivers, optional tours, excessive baggage and personal expenses.

Miss Mary Jane Mulvaney will serve as chaperone for the tour group.

Any person who is interested in the tour should contact the Union Program office immediately for further information.

Music Fraternity Elects; Pledges 8

Theta Chapter of Delta Omicron, international music fraternity, has elected new officers and pledged eight new members.

Officers are Lois Anderson, president; Katherine Ollenburg, first vice president; Carolyn Bristol, second vice president; Carolyn Weiss, secretary; Sharon Binfield, treasurer and Nancy Watton, director of musical activities.

New pledges include Margaret Armstrong, Nancie Booth, Sharon Filbert, Mary Haight, Vivian High, Roseann Parkhurst, Kathi Paulman and Diane Reigier. Miss Kathryn Dean, assistant professor of voice, is faculty adviser.

Correction

The Daily Nebraskan inadvertently omitted Jeanne Morrison's name from the list of finalists for Miss E Week.

Miss Morrison is a member of Builders Board, Student Council, and rush chairman of Delta Gamma.

Debate Team Places Fifth In Tourney

A University debate squad tied for fifth among 44 colleges in the National Invitational Debate Tournament at Notre Dame during the past week.

Suzanne Moffitt and Gary Hill entered the quarter finals of the tourney with four wins and two losses and then lost to King's College of New York.

In another weekend tournament at St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minnesota, University debaters chalked up nine wins and eight losses.

Larry Meyer and Stephen George won six and lost two in the preliminaries before losing in the octa-finals. Sylvia Bathe and Kathryn Madison won three and lost five.

Ag YW-YMCA To 'Make Friends'

The Ag YW-YMCA will present Rev. Alan Pickering who will speak on "Making Friends" at 7:15 tonight in the Cotner chapel on Ag campus.

Rev. Pickering is pastor of the United Campus Christian Fellowship. The Ag Y meeting will be preceded by a meeting of the cabinet at 5 p.m.

NORAD Commanders Orchestra To Present Union Concert Tonight

By Janet Sack

The NORAD Commanders, a military dance orchestra, will present a free concert in the Student Union Ballroom tonight from 8-10 p.m.

Composed of American and Canadian servicemen under the direction of Major Mark Azzolina, the orchestra was named "Honorary Best New Dance Band of 1960" by the American Federation of Musicians.

The Commanders, organized in the spring of 1959 as an integral part of the North American Air Defense Command Band, have appeared in hundreds of concerts and played for countless dances before an estimated combined audience of two million.

Nationally known musicians help make up the 20-piece show-case orchestra. These include Paul Fontaine, former jazz trumpet player with the Woody Herman band; Phil Wilson, jazz trombonist with Lee Castle and Jimmy Dorsey; and Bobby Heriot, former lead trombonist with the Ted Heath band.

The Commanders are a multi-service orchestra with members from the Army, Air Force, Navy, and the Royal Canadian Air Force.

The leader of the orchestra, Major Azzolina, is known as Mark Carter in civilian life and was responsible for the formation of the orchestra.

A vocalist and composer, Azzolina has been in the military service 19 years and active in music, radio, and television. His recording of "Home" was on the best seller record list in 1952.

Prominent orchestra leaders and arrangers who have been commissioned to orchestrate for the NORAD group are Sam Donahue, Walter Stuart, Bill Loose, Paul West-

Every Sunday the NORAD Commanders are heard from coast to coast on the Mutual Network, in cooperation with NORAD, "Partners in Defense."

Women's hours will be extended until 15 minutes after the end of the concert.

Moot Court Final Cases Scheduled

Four Law School Juniors to Compete

Four University law students will compete in the final arguments of the annual University Moot Court competition Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the State Supreme Court at the State Capitol.

Samuel Van Pelt of Lincoln and Ronald Sluyter of Omaha will argue against Robert Zuber of Hastings and Sheldon Krantz of Omaha.

State Supreme Court Justices Paul E. Boslaugh and Edward F. Carter will hear the arguments.

The case to be argued concerns the validity of a statute relieving doctors of liability of negligent practice at the scene of an automobile accident.

The two teams survived preliminary rounds which began when the members were sophomores. In the fall of the sophomore year, competition begins with eight teams selected for the quarters-finals in the spring.

This is followed by semifinals in the fall of the junior year with the finals in the spring of the same year.

The competition, named in honor of Thomas Stinson Allen, first graduate of the college, seeks to develop research ability, practical experience in formulating briefs and presentation of oral arguments, similar to what the student would encounter as a practicing attorney.

Regent Bill Shows 'Little Opposition'

Senator Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island said he has seen "little opposition" to LB278, a bill authorizing a constitutional amendment to increase the Board of Regents and reduce the length of their terms.

The proposal would increase the number of members from six to twelve and shorten terms from six to four years.

This would "make it possible for the board to divide into specialized subcommittees" which Lautenschlager feels would be more responsive to the needs of the state.

WAA Applications

Applications for the Women's Athletic Association (WAA) elections may be picked up in Grant Memorial gymnasium in the WAA office until March 14.

The applications will be due March 15. Interview times should be signed up for March 17 from 2-5 p.m.

NU Orchestra Presents Concert

The University Symphony Orchestra will present its spring concert Sunday at the Student Union ballroom.

Prof. Emanuel Wishnow, chairman of the department of music and director of the orchestra, appears annually in a series of chamber music recitals in Omaha and Lincoln which brings string ensemble music before the public.

The University Symphony Orchestra is composed of students from all colleges who are chosen on the basis of ability.

Examinations Probe Cultural Backgrounds

By Eleanor Billings

The scholarship tests given this past Saturday and next Saturday will be used to help determine the winners of scholarships made available through the Division of Scholarships and Financial Aids. The scholarship examination is a general culture test given to find out how much the student has learned and to test his general background of knowledge.

Scholarships are awarded on factors other than the exams. Rank in class at the end of the school year is also considered.

Previously, straight grade points were considered, but because some colleges have higher grade point averages than others this was thought an inadequate basis.

Own Field
It is better to compare a student with people in his own field, according to Dr. Aubrey Forrest, director of Scholarships and Financial Aids. Information on students' interests is also gathered and considered in granting scholarships.

The scholarship examination is prepared by the Education Testing Service of Princeton, N.J. It covers everything from mathematics to fine arts, Dr. Forrest said.

The amount of the scholarship will also be based on financial need, Dr. Forrest said. The only exception to this is the Regents scholarships. Seventy-five Regents are given to each level of upperclass students, making a total of 225 each year.

This year the grade point average required for application was lowered from 6.0 to 5.0. "We felt we were passing up some good students and ought to give more students a chance to apply," Dr. Forrest said.

Only Once
Dr. Forrest stressed the fact that a student only has to take this examination once during college.

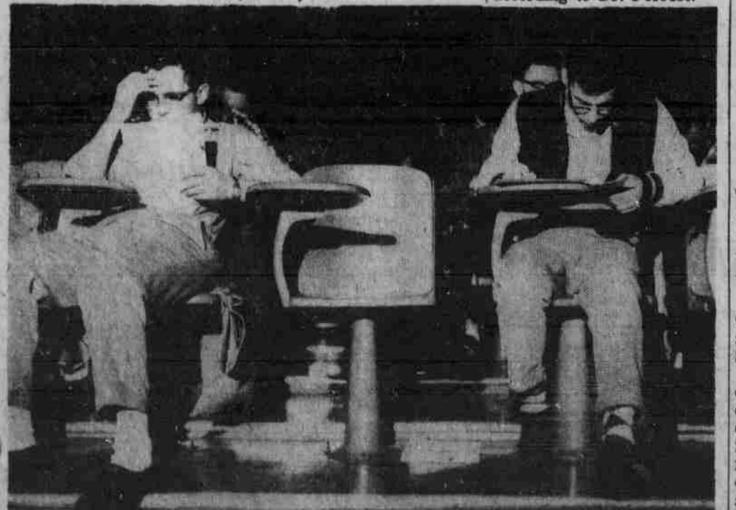

Students who will be seniors next year need not take the tests. It is felt that juniors have already given a good indication of their abilities through the record they have accumulated.

Freshmen frequently misunderstand the procedure, Dr. Forrest commented. A student must have earned 24 hours University credit before he may receive a scholarship.

A student may apply for the scholarships by March 1 of his freshman year, but should he receive a scholarship he will have to wait until he actually has completed the 24 hours, usually in the first semester of the sophomore year.

The scholarship awards will come out in mid-summer because rank in class won't be determined until this time, according to Dr. Forrest.

SCHOLAR'S DELIGHT

Concentration seems to have been the key word at the University scholarship examination last Saturday. These students are second semester freshmen or upperclassmen and are required to take the tests only once during college.
