Senators Hold Hearings On Requested NU Budget

By Nancy Whitford
Public hearings on the requested $30.7 million University budget will be held by the Unicameral budget committee April 17-18 according to Dean of Faculties Adam Beckenridge.

The budget requested represents a proposed increase of $5,605,893 or over 16.7 per cent over the 1959-60 biennium. Earlier, outgoing Gov. Dwight Burney recommended that $27,596,000 of the total $30,701,893 request be approved by the legislature. Gov. Frank Morrison has approved $30,193,000 or all but $508,820 of the proposed budget which he considers "an investment and not an expense."

'Fact-Finding'
Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings, who heads the budget committee, has been conducting a series of executive "fact-finding" meetings with University administrators during the past few months in order to gain more complete information on the proposed budget.

Beckenridge, who made the announcement at a faculty senate meeting Tuesday afternoon, also heard reports from Bruce Nicoll of the committee on University publications, Aubrey Forrest of the committee on scholarship awards and H. W. Deems of the committee on scholarship appeals, and Cecil Vanderzee, committee on retirement and insurance.

Nicoll said three scholarly publications had been accepted for publication in the University Studies Series. They include: "Fugitive and Gracious Light," by G. Thomas Fairclough; "Tones and Intervals of Hindu Classical Music" by Donald Lentz and "The Andromache of Euripides" by Keith M. Aldrich.

Scholarships
Forrest announced $140,000 had been awarded in freshmen scholarships and $885,000 in upperclass scholarships during the past school year. He said $400,000 had been given in loans and that 750 students had been given employment.

Deems said 11 scholarship appeals had been heard this year and that five students had been reinstated. Nine of the appeals were heard in September and two in February.

Vanderzee reported faculty group medical insurance rates had been increased by 10 per cent due to a 95 per cent loss which has been incurred last year.

He said a new proposal to extend insurance coverage up to $1,000 for the spouse and each dependent had received the required 75 per cent approval to go into operation March 1.

Greeks List 3 Activities For 4th Day

Dinner Highlights
Wednesday of Week

These activities are scheduled Wednesday, April 19, in conjunction with Greek Week, to be held next week. An Interfraternity Council-Panhellenic dinner, discussion groups, and faculty speakers for night meals will highlight Wednesday's activities.

The IFC-Panhel dinner will be held for all representatives, officers and committee chairmen of the two groups. Dean James Pittinger, assistant to the Chancellor, will speak at the luncheon on "Greek-Administration Relations." Watches will be presented to the top male and woman scholar at the dinner, IFC affairs committee chairman Roger Myers announced.

The dinner will be held in the Pan American room of the Student Union at 12 noon.

From 2 to 4 p.m. there will be four discussion groups going. "Each organization is urged to have at least one member at each discussion group as well as any others who want to attend," said Don Ferguson, IFC President.

The discussion groups and the leaders are: rushing policy, speaker to be announced; advantages and disadvantages of the Greek system, Mrs. Kent Morgan; public relations, Joyce Ayres; and Greek-Administration relations, Van Westover.

For the evening meal each house will invite a faculty member to serve as a speaker or discussion leader on "Faculty-Greek Relations."

Union Plans Art Critic Discussion

"What is Contemporary Art?" will be the topic of discussion lead by Miss Dorothy Adlow, well known art critic and lecturer, to be held in the Student Union ballroom Friday at 11 a.m.

A contest sponsored by the Union arts and exhibits committee in conjunction with Miss Adlow's visit will give students a chance to submit their ideas about the views of well-known personalities concerning contemporary art. The competitor submits suggestions of what he thinks persons such as President Kennedy, Frank Sinatra or Marilyn Monroe would reply to the question, "What is Contemporary art?"

Entry blanks for the contest are available on the bulletin board near the entrance to the Crib. Entries are due in the Union program office by 5 p.m. Thursday.

Amendments Await Nod of Quad Vote

Amendments to the constitution of the Residence Association for Men (RAM) are now up for approval by the individual houses in Selleck Quadrangle.

Two amendments are being sought. The first would change parliamentary authority from Robert's Rules of Order to the Sturgis Code of Parliamentary Procedure. Proponents point out that the Sturgis Code is the one used by the University speech department and is simpler than the Roberts system.

Amendment two would allow the election of a vice-president of RAM. The proposed vice-president would also serve as "co-ordinator of all RAM committees." In support of the amendment, it is argued that the present system, in which the treasurer has the duties of a vice-president, has often caused an excessive work load for the treasurer.

Passage of the amendments requires ratification by twelve of the 16 houses in the Quad, and ratification in an individual house requires a two-thirds majority of those voting. The vote should be completed before the end of the week, according to Phil Isaacs, RAM publicity chairman.

Trucks Speed to Quad; But No Fire

TRUCKS, STAND IDLE
Three of the five Lincoln fire trucks rushed to Selleck Quadrangle in response to an anonymous phone call and then stood idle as firemen discovered no explosion took place. The police units and fire trucks blocked off R Street from 15th to 16th Streets for about fifteen minutes.

Five Lincoln fire trucks plus several police units were called to Selleck Quadrangle yesterday afternoon on what firemen termed a "false alarm." Soon after arriving, the Lincoln firemen could find no indications of a fire. One fireman reportedly said the fire call indicated "a bomb explosion." Another fireman noted that "whoever called it in made it sound like all hell broke loose." After contacting Bob Kuzelka, resident advisor at Selleck Quadrangle, it was found that the call to the fire department did not go through the dorm switchboard. Albert Calvert of Selleck Quad had no comment on the false alarm.
