

IFC Defeats Proposal to Eliminate Own Slate for Council Representation

By Dave Wohlfarth

A plan which would eliminate the Interfraternity Council (IFC) slate for the Student Council was defeated by a 17-5 vote Wednesday night.

The plan, introduced by political chairman Chip Kuklin, proposed that the IFC revise its present Student Council slating in the following four ways:

—That the interview committee be an "unbiased panel."

—Any student be permitted to be interviewed.

—Two persons be slated for each position.

—That the slate be endorsed by IFC, Panhellenic, Residence Association for Men (RAM) and Independent Women's Association (IWA).

Kuklin suggested that the "unbiased panel" be composed of either one representative from each of the four organizations or an off-campus group.

The plan brought immediate opposition from IFC representatives Dwight Meierhenry, Jerry Gale, George Krause and Dick Stuckey.

Gale pointed out that the plan was undesirable, in his opinion, because it destroyed "the purpose of the IFC—to see that the interest of fraternities is furthered."

Krause questioned the possibility of having an unbiased panel and Meierhenry said the "independents don't vote us out because they aren't organized."

"We are trying to stimulate men with fraternities to become leaders. If we aren't trying to do that, then why have an IFC and fraternities; anybody can live together," Meierhenry continued.

Inadequacy

Kuklin answered that he thought in the past, inadequate Greek Representation on the Student Council was because the IFC "is forcing Greek men into positions of prestige."

The Student Council plan for redistribution of representation was pointed to by Steve

Gage as one of several reasons behind the proposal. "This (Student Council plan) will destroy Greek dominance on Council and would eliminate good Greek leaders."

Kuklin also countered, "If an inept person is elected to the student Council the IFC gets blamed. This plan would get the blame off the IFC. If we have the best leaders why are we afraid to compete on equal basis."

Meierhenry replied, "If the independents are unsatisfied, why don't they vote the Greeks out. Our duty in IFC is to promote the Greeks."

Defeated

After the lengthy discussion, the question was called and the proposal was defeated. The five houses that voted in favor of the motion were Farm House, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Mu and Sigma Nu.

In other business the IFC unanimously voted to support Sigma Phi Epsilon's "request to reorganize."

The motion allowed the Executive Council to recommend that the Sig Eps (1) be allowed to reorganize, (2) initiate men, (3) regain rushing and pledging privileges and (4) assume the responsibilities of a member of the IFC.

These recommendations are subject to the approval of the proper Administration authorities.

Another passed resolution concerned the IFC's rededication of Greek Week, April 16-22.

The purpose of the resolution, according to Roger Myers, head of the affairs committee, is to rededicate some of the purposes the IFC is trying to fulfill in Greek Week and make the members stop and think about Greek Week."

"Lost the Pennant," this fun musical was written for the stage by the same men that authored last year's Kosmet Klub hit, "The Pajama Game."

Kosmet Klub's presentation of "The Pajama Game" was delightful. At 8:15 Saturday evening at Pershing Municipal Auditorium, the curtain rises on what should be an equally entertaining production. Many University students have been rehearsing and producing "Damn Yankees" during the past few months. Such an effort should be well attended.
