

Jennings Looks at Movies; Praises Husker Scrimmage

By Hal Brown
Nebraska football coach Bill Jennings, who had said Saturday that he was disappointed with the Husker offense in the scrimmage, had changed his mind Monday after viewing the movies.

"We played better than I had thought Saturday," Jennings said. He explained that they try to do four things offensively in the scrimmages. "We try not to fumble, not to be offside, not to miss assignments and not to have interceptions the Husker head man stated. "We have been doing pretty well in these four things except for interceptions. We always manage to have two or three of those each scrimmage."

"We know that you can't do all these things perfectly, but we keep striving for that 100 per cent mark. I think we only fumbled once Saturday and I don't believe we had any offside."

Jennings said the movies showed that Willie Ross was running good along with Thunder Thornton and the passing of Ron Gilbreath. "Willie has been running well all Spring," Jennings commented.

Thornton missed Monday's workout with a back injury. The injury is not expected to keep him out for any length of time.

In position changes on the first unit Monday, Pat Clare moved into the top spot at

The Huskers worked on kickoffs and extra point kicks Monday for the first time during Spring drills. Archie Cobb handled most of the kickoff duties and he shared the bulk of the extra point booting practice with Meade.

Punting also received its share of attention with Purcell, Cobb and Dennis Claridge doing the booting. The rest of the Monday session was devoted to team of fensive drills and polishing work on all phases of the game.

Jennings said he plans to conclude the work for the All-Sports Day game with Wednesday's workout, giving the players two days of rest before the Alumni-Varsity battle Saturday afternoon.

IM Badminton Laurels Captured by Mok, Wu

The two-man independent team outscored runner-up Theta Xi by 56 points as they accumulated 170 points.

Mok was the winner of flight one competition and the all-University singles championship. Wu was taken out of competition by Mok in a late singles match in first flight play.

The two independents teamed up to win the top flight and the all-University doubles championship.

Theta Xi came in second with 114 points, but they will take home the championship trophy for the second year in a row. Mok and Wu will George Van Kleeck and Dick McCoy won the third and fourth flight competition certificates for Sigma Chi in singles play.

The fourth place team had three doubles flight champions in the second, fifth and sixth flights with Steve McCoy and George Van Kleeck, Larry Catlett and Roger Vasika, and Bill Fowles and William Janike teaming up for the winning combinations.

Kappa Sigma and Phi Kappa Psi finished out the Joubles competition flights with Roger Coakley and Steve Sholders winning the third flight for the Kappa Sigs and Stuart Souders and Stanley Schrag winning the fourth flight.

Souders also won the fifth flight of the singles competition for the Phi Psi team, but even with two flight championships the Phi Psi weren't able to make the top ten out of the 19-team field.

Delta Upsilon Fifth
Kappa Sigma finished sixth in the final ratings behind the Delta Upsilon team.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Beta Sigma Psi, Phi Epsilon Kappa, and Beta Theta Pi finish out the top-ten chart.

All-Sports Day Tilt May Answer Questions About New Offense

Will the Nebraska Cornhuskers, using their wide-open offense, be able to move against the Alumni in the twelfth annual All-Sports day game Saturday, May 13?

That will be the prime question as this annual battle is staged at the stadium.

The alumni group, anchored on a group of last year's seniors and younger graduates, have been working on their own offense the past week.

Nebraska fans also will be able to view some of the experiments which the Nebraska staff has made in the spring work.

Bill (Thunder) Thornton's move to left halfback has paid dividends as Thornton has practically been the difference during the intrasquad scrimmages. However, whether he can be spared from the fullback spot depends upon how some of the newcomers develop and whether Noel Martin's twice-operated knee responds during the summer.

George Haney was switched from guard to center. The East Point, Georgia, 225-pounder was not unfamiliar with the pivot duties as he had played this position in high school.

Bill Comstock, Scottsbluff, who played fullback in high school is back at this station after a season at end.

Scores of previous games show the Alumni with one victory and a tie in the nine games played since the spring sports gala was started in 1950. Two years (1954 and 1955) the game was contested as an intrasquad affair.

Scores of the previous games:

|--------------|----|---------|-----------------|
| 1950-Varsity | 12 | Alumni | 12 |
| 1951-Varsity | 27 | Alumni | 25 |
| 1952-Varsity | 7 | Alumni | 6 |
| 1953-Varsity | 34 | Alumni | 12 |
| 1954-Reds | 25 | Whites | 14 (intrasquad) |
| 1955-Reds | 14 | Whites | 7 (intrasquad) |
| 1956-Alumni | 14 | Varsity | 6 |
| 1957-Varsity | 22 | Alumni | 20 |
| 1958-Varsity | 14 | Alumni | 6 |
| 1959-Varsity | 22 | Alumni | 9 |
| 1960-Varsity | 14 | Alumni | 9 |

The alumni have been shut out only twice in the series, during the games of the past two years. The one victory which the Alumni hung on the varsity was in 1956 and that's the only time the varsity has been unable to dent the point column.

Most of the games have gone to the wire for a decision.

Besides the football game there will be tennis, a gymnastics exhibition, baseball and a freshman intrasquad track exhibition.

A $1.00 ticket admits to all of the activities which are timed as nearly as possible so as not to conflict.

Alums Get Braley
Jack Braley, Nebraska's freshman football coach, will join the Alumni squad for the annual Alumni-Varsity grid game, feature of the Cornhusker All-Sports Day Saturday. A year ago Braley was a member of the varsity staff and could not compete.

Students attending the Rodeo Dance in the Ag Student Union Friday night will get a chance to help select Miss Rodeo of 1961.

The contest is being run in connection with the Nebraska Intercollegiate Championship Rodeo being held Saturday at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

Voting for the queen will be from 8:15 to 9:15 p.m. at the dance, according to Zoe Quible, chairman of the contest. Student IDs will be needed in order to vote, Miss Quible said.

Voters will select from six finalists. They are Ann Hanna, Judy Doud, Karen Skoda, Cordy Seward, Marian Murphy and Constance Sterner. Finalists were selected by members of the Nebraska Rodeo Club.

The dance, featuring Hadly Barrett, will begin at 8:30 p.m. and end at 12 midnight.

The six finalists will be presented at the dance and the winner and her attendants will be revealed at the Saturday afternoon performance of the Rodeo. They will also be presented at the evening performance.

Top Gymnast Chosen
Dennis Anstine, senior from Hastings, was named the most valuable team member by the Nebraska gymnastic squad.

Anstine also was named the outstanding gymnast in this area as he won the all-around championship in the Midwest AAU meet.

Arizumi Is Nominated For Intramural Award

All-University blocking back Charles Arizumi has garnered the second Daily Nebraskan outstanding intramural athlete nomination.

Arizumi was nominated for his "consistently tough defensive and offensive play at blocking back" on the Dental College team this year.

The 5-8 native of Hawaii has been on the all-University football squad for the last three years and has always been honored as one of the toughest defensive men in the intramural game, the letter continues.

Until this year Arizumi has played intramural handball, water basketball, volleyball, wrestling, horseshoes and paddleball for the Beta Theta Pi fraternity until this year.

He is a junior in Dental College and is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Arizumi lettered in swimming and football three years at Punahow Academy in Honolulu.

The footballer is also cited for his outstanding sportsmanship in his intramural participation.

The Daily Nebraskan Intramural Athlete of the Year will be named in the May 26 issue of the Daily Nebraskan and the winner of the award will be honored at a banquet in the Student Union that day.

The intramural award is in conjunction with the Daily Nebraskan's outstanding Varsity Athlete Award which will be presented at the same time.

All nominations should be sent to Hal Brown, Sports Editor, Daily Nebraskan, Student Union.

Roots Gets First Varsity Nomination

Al Roots, Husker javelin artist and starting basketball forward, is the first nominee for the outstanding Varsity Athlete award to be given by the Daily Nebraskan.

This year's award will be presented at a banquet May 26 in the Student Union and the Outstanding Athlete will be announced in the Day's Nebraskan.

Root's javelin throw against Colorado last weekend, which gives him the second best throw in the Collegiate circles this year at 240-11, is one of the qualifications of nomination of the Husker athlete.

The 6-2, 185-pound native of Kansas City also held a starting position on the Nebraska basketball team in all but thirteen games in his two years of varsity competition.

He also holds the distinction of holding more "book time" than any other Husker basketball player this year and the fourth position on the basketball scoring chart.

The nomination praises his "brilliant speed and coordination" and labels him as a "hustler."

Roots is a senior, having spent two years at Pueblo Junior College in Colorado. While at Pueblo he became the second member of the 1,100 points club in basketball scoring, ran the high hurdles in 15.4 and set the school javelin record at 198 feet.

Last year in his first season on Frank Sevigne's track team Roots set a Nebraska record in the javelin at 218-4.

His latest throw of 240-11 feet has caused some speculation that he may win a berth on the touring track team that will tour Russia later this year.
