

Huskers Lose 2 to K-State; Finish 6th in Big Eight Race

By Hal Brown
Nebraska failed in its bid to move into third place in the Big Eight standings as Kansas State won two games of the three-game series Friday and Saturday in Lincoln.

The Huskers needed wins in all three games to take over the third spot. The two teams split a doubleheader Friday with Kansas State winning the first, 4-0, and Nebraska coming back to take the nightcap, 10-0. The Wildcats won Saturday's contest, 4-2.

Kansas State winds up the Big Eight campaign with a 10-10 mark. Nebraska has a 7-11 Big Eight record for sixth place and a 9-14 overall record.

Ron Havekost held the Wildcats to only two hits in picking up his second win against two losses in the nightcap of Friday's twinbill.

The sophomore lefthander from Hooper set the first 10 Kansas State batters down in order before Tom Dunn singled in the fourth inning. Only one runner reached second against Havekost.

Don Novak walked for the Wildcats in the seventh and moved to second on a single by Bob Jones. Havekost allowed only five baserunners. He struck out six and walked two.

The Huskers, after being shut out in the first game, wasted little time in giving Havekost a lead.

Dave McClatchey opened the bottom of the first inning by drawing a walk, stealing second, going to third on a ground out and scoring on a single by Rex Swett.

Swett stole second and remained there as Jerry Harris got an infield single. Steve Smith's single scored Swett and pushed Harris to third. Harris scored when Smith's single got past the Kansas State centerfielder.

Becher Doubles
Nebraska added four more in the third on a walk, singles by Don Schindel, Swett and Harris and a double by Dick Becher, his second of the game.

The Huskers put the game out of reach with three in the fourth. Havekost and Mc-Clatchey opened the inning with back-to-back walks and Schindel plated both of them with a double. Schindel moved to third on a sacrifice bunt by Rex Swett and scored on Harris' grounder.

Nebraska got only three hits off Wayne Thummel in the first game as the Wildcat southpaw had the Husker swingers under control.

Swett led off with a bung single for Nebraska, but then Thummel beared down and didn't allow another hit until the sixth when Schindel singled. Bill Redmond got the other Husker hit in the seventh.

Husker righthander Jan Wall gave up only four runs. He allowed only one run until the seventh when the Wildcats picked up three.

Thummel Tough
Thummel struck out nine Husker swingers and walked only two in picking up his fifth win of the year against three losses.

Kansas State got only one earned run in Saturday's tilt, but the Huskers gave up three unearned tallies to provide the Wildcats with a 4-2 victory.

Tom Ernst started for the Huskers and gave up only two runs on three hits. He was coasting along with little trouble when Coach Tony Sharpe yanked him in favor of Ernie Bonistall in the seventh.

Kansas State opened the scoring in the fifth when Bob Jones doubled, was sacrificed to third and scored on Dean Pease's sacrifice fly.

Nebraska came back to tie with an unearned run in the bottom half of the fifth. Smith was hit by a pitch, stole second, went to third on a fly ball and came home on a passed ball.

Error Helps
The Wildcats came back to take the lead with an unearned tally in the sixth. Dunn walked, stole second and scored when Husker catcher Harris threw the ball into left field trying to throw out Dunn at third.

Kansas State added two in the ninth before Nebraska rallied for one in the bottom of that frame. A walk, a single by Harold Haun and two errors on Swett gave the Wildcats two unearned scores.

Nebraska started a rally in the last inning when Swett and Harris led off with back-to-back singles. But a double play ball by Dick Becher broke up the rally as Swett scooted across the plate with the final run.

Nebraska pulled off four double plays in the three games to give them 23 for the season, an average of one per game.

The Huskers landed three second places. Bill placed second in the 120-yard high hurdles with a :14.3. Sophomore Fred Wilke placed second in the 220 lows in :23.4. In the javelin Al Roots placed second with a toss of 208-2 1/2.

Wellman Fifth
Al Wellman, Husker weightman, placed fifth in the shot put with a toss of 51-11 1/2 and fifth in the discus with a 150-4 toss. Larry Reimers placed sixth in the discus with a 149-7 1/4 mark.

Slender soph Ray Stevens was clocked in 4:17.2 for fourth place after putting up a last-ditch battle for second.

Husker Steve Pfister, timed in :10.0 for the 100, placed fourth. In the broad jump Bob Knaub jumped 23-2 for a fifth place. Jim Kraft placed fifth in a four-way tie at 13-7 1/4 in the pole vault.

Although the Husker mile relay team placed fifth the 3:17.2 mark is the best time for the quartet.

Big Eight records held up well under the stress of the conference meet. The only record that was tied was done by a Colorado soph.

Record Tied
In the 440-yard dash Jim Heath was clocked in :46.5, just edging out Jim Baker of Missouri who was caught in :46.6. This ties the record set by Jim Carlson of Colorado in 1958.

Shot put and discus honors were capped by Mike Lindsay, the big Englishman, from Oklahoma. He won his third crown in the shot by tossing it 57-5 1/2. Don Smith, Missouri, placed second with 56-0. Lindsay's discus toss was 164-2. Dick Pilgrim, Iowa State, placed second with a 158-4 1/4 mark.

NU Teams Finish Last In Big Eight
Nebraska's tennis and golf teams both finished last in the Big Eight conference meets Friday and Saturday at Boulder, Colo.

The Husker netters failed to score a point and no Husker reached the semifinal round. The Nebraska golfers finished last with Jerry Overgaard and Dave McConahay turning in the best Husker scores.

Each had 235 totals for the 54-hole play. Overgaard's opening round 75 was the best 18-hole score turned in by a Husker.

Oklahoma State won both the tennis and golf crowns. Kansas, Colorado, Iowa State, Oklahoma, Kansas State, Missouri and Nebraska finished behind the Cowboys in that order in tennis.

Colorado finished second in golf with Oklahoma, Kansas, Iowa State, Missouri, Kansas State and Nebraska trailing in that order.

OU Cops Track Crown As Nebraska Places 7th

By Jan Sack
Oklahoma broke the nine year hold Kansas had on the Big Eight outdoor championships as the Sooners outscored the Jayhawks, 99 to 88 1/2.

The Huskers finished in seventh place with 41 1/4 points.

Tenseness filled the air as George Davies of Oklahoma State nearly reached the sky when he pole vaulted 15-10 1/4 for a new world's record. Bedlam reigned after the sophomore vaulter cleared the height. First thoughts were that he had cleared 15-11 1/2, but after the bar was leveled the 15-10 1/4 mark stood.

Records fell by the wayside—the former world pole vault record of 15-9 1/4 by Don Bragg; the old NCAA record of 15-9 1/4 by Bog Gutowski; the old Big Eight record of 15-4 by J. D. Martin of Oklahoma; and the old Folsom Field (Colorado) record of 15-3.

The Huskers landed three second places. Bill placed second in the 120-yard high hurdles with a :14.3. Sophomore Fred Wilke placed second in the 220 lows in :23.4. In the javelin Al Roots placed second with a toss of 208-2 1/2.

—Huskers' Grand Old Man—

Memory of Schulte Lingers On Husker Athletic Fields

By Cloyd Clark
If ghosts can feel good and look into present day events, "PA" Schulte is no doubt smiling and saying "I told you so" as he looks down on Nebraska's high school trackmen this year.

Henry F. Schulte, the famed grand old man of Nebraska who coached conference-champion track teams nineteen times in his years as Husker track head predicted in 1921 that the "athletic age" was going to descend on the world and that not only team sports, but also track would be taken in by this era.

Schulte, the originator of the "full blue," "half blue" and high school pentathlon, has probably done as much as anyone in developing this state's attitude toward track and field events.

"Always finish the race, even if you're last, finish," Schulte's words are engraved on the Omaha World Herald Schulte Memorial Trophy which is presented each year to the outstanding performer in the Big Eight conference meet.

The All-American footballer came to Nebraska as the head football and track coach, but in 1919 and 1920 a 8-6-2 record wasn't good enough for a football coach and he was delegated to spend his whole time developing track squads.

Nineteen Crowns
Between 1919 and 1938 Schulte won 10 outdoor and nine indoor conference championships in the Missouri Valley and Big Six, and coached some of the bone crushing lines which plagued the four-horsemen and Red Grange in the 1920s and '30s.

Although the Nebraska spirit which fills the stadium every Saturday whether the Husker gridders win or lose can not be attributed to any one man, Schulte would no doubt rank with Bible, Jones and Dawson in the final poll.

Schulte was here before the scholarship and was often known to see a stout looking scholar and impress upon him that he should be on the Husker football or track team.

The miracle power of the old track coach is described by Floyd Olds in these words, "When the tanned, husky-voiced coach put his hand on the shoulder of a pupil, the boy forgot all else and listened. Pa would say in a kind of fatherly voice, 'Son, you have the makings of a great hurdler. Just stretch out and lengthen your stride a bit and you'll be a champion.'"

In 1938 bad health forced Schulte to retire from the Nebraska track scene and on Oct. 18, 1944, Henry Schulte died, but many of his philosophies on athletics are still applicable.

Pamphlet Printed
Shortly after his arrival on the University campus he printed up a pamphlet "Track and Field Athletics" which was distributed to all the Nebraska high school coaches.

Along with his theories on the half mile, the javelin and the California roll high jump, were several fatherly comments.

"Whatever you do, don't be afraid of being a dud. The world wasn't made in a day. The expert in any field of endeavor has behind him a long period of apprenticeship or duddom."

"No matter how gruelling the race, the real competitor will not fall or grandstand at the finish."

In regard to the Husker football situation in 1931 Schulte remarked, "It's a bunch of damned fatheads who put the Nebraska football team on a pedestal, Cornhuskers unbeatable, who make it so worship at its shrine and consider the tough on the team and coaches. This was at a time when the Huskers had suffered several upsets. A time when Missouri and Oklahoma were the underdogs."

"Underdogs Fight Hard"
"They're the underdogs and fight all the harder," the old man commented before the Lincoln Lions Club. "What's the result? Look at last season's record, you'll find it there."

The Shadow of Henry "Indian" Schulte surely hovers over the Schulte Memorial Field House, dedicated in 1947, and the "blue" awards of the Nebraska High School track and perhaps the "Old Man of Nebraska" is still around the walkways of the campus with his country-store philosophy and a love for a clean hard athletic contest.

McDole, Russell Get Nominations

Nominations for the Daily Nebraskan Outstanding Varsity Athlete Award reached eight with nominations of Ron McDole and Tom Russell closing the polls.

The letter nominating McDole says, "McDole has finished a four-year college football career during which he logged approximately 1,000 minutes of playing time as a Husker tackle."

The letter states that although he was hit by the mono bug as a sophomore, he went on to average 40 minutes per game.

McDole started at defensive tackle for the North in the Senior Bowl Game at Mobile, Ala., and for the Blue in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala.

The letter says, "McDole was handicapped in the Blue-Gray game by the loss of his trainer, Jim 'Fitzsimmons' Brown. Brownie was detained by the city of Montgomery in a definite Southern maneuver to handicap the feared tackle from the North."

Top Lineman
The 6-3, 270-pound lineman received the Fred Lorenz trophy as the outstanding lineman on the 1960 team. He has received an invitation to play for the West in the new All-America Graduation Bowl sponsored by the American Coaches Association in Buffalo, N.Y., June 23.

McDole has received two Daily Nebraskan Star of the Week awards and as a junior, Nebraska sports writers and sportscasters voted him the outstanding Varsity player in the 1959 All-Sports Day Alumni Game. He has been Big Eight honorable mention at the tackle spot for two years.

"Well-liked and cited for his sportsmanship, McDole is described as a team player. Always concerned with the other man and with the success of the team before his own progress, McDole has proved a Cornhusker in the 'old spirit,'" the letter continues.

The letter nominating Russell points out that he led the Huskers in points scored with 300, rebounds with 250 and field goal percentage with 49 per cent.

The letter points to the game with Utah as an example of his prowess on the court. He scored five points in the last 15 seconds to give Nebraska a 65-60 win, the letter states.

N-Club Officer
The letter continues, "but Tom realizes that his accomplishments are because of a team's accomplishments. And as Tom has respect and interest in his fellow athletes, they also have respect and interest in him as was shown by electing the tall cager Sergeant-At-Arms of N-Club shortly after his initiation into the organization."

Russell received the KLIN Outstanding Basketball Player of the Year Award and was named the Most Valuable Player on the Husker team by a vote of the Big Eight coaches.

McDole and Russell join griddler Pat Fischer, gymnast Dennis Anstine, wrestler Mike Nissen, swimmer Joe Stocker and two-sport stars Al Roots and Al Wellman as candidates for the award.

The winner will be revealed in Friday's Daily Nebraskan and he will be honored at a luncheon Friday noon in the Student Union.
