Dean Welcomes Students At Tea

Helen Snyder, dean of women students, will welcome new women students to the campus at the annual Dean's Tea for women students on Friday, 3:30 to 5:30, in the Pan American room of the Student Union.

Others in the receiving line will include Mrs. Clifford M. Hardin; Madeline Girard, Panhellenic director; and Mrs. James Eller, assistant to the dean, Nancy McGath, President of Panhellenic, and Linda Joyce, Panhellenic vice-president, will introduce the guests to the receiving line.

Representatives of more than 40 women's organizations will assist during the tea, which is sponsored by Panhellenic. It is the only event of the school year in which representatives of all women's organizations work together in one project.

Nancy Tederman, president of Mortar Board, Jeanne Garner, president of AWS, Alfreda Stute, president of Independent Women Students, and Diane Armour, president of Alpha Lambda Delta, will pour for the tea. Organ music will be provided by Susanne Oberle.

The traditional tea was started by former Dean of Women Amanda Heppner to honor new students. Throughout its history, the tea has been held in Ellen Smith Hall, Residence Halls for Women, and the Student Union. Originally faculty women were hostesses, but later it became one of student participation.

Math Major Begins Year With 8.874

A mathematics major, Larry Dornhoff, returns to the University this fall with the highest overall scholastic average among upperclassmen—an 8.874 compared to a perfect grade of 9.

Dornhoff entered the University at 16 and immediately qualified for an honors course in mathematics. He has been named one of the top 20 mathematics scholars in the nation on the basis of an examination given by the American Mathematical Association.

Ranking second is Donald McGurk, a senior chemistry major with minors in physics and mathematics. He has an overall average of 8.808.

David Scholz, ranks third with an 8.733 average. He is majoring in electrical engineering.

Others among the top ten upperclassmen who have earned 84 hours or more at the University are these full-time students:

Roger Williams, 8.732 for 97 hours and a major in chemistry; William Holland, 8.679 for 112 hours and a major in civil engineering; David Gustavson, 8.658 for 89 hours and majors in physics and mathematics;

B-I-G BERTHA

An addition to the University's football field glamour is old "Big Bertha," a seven-foot-high drum. Bertha was placed in storage after the 1941 Rose Bowl trip.

Marching Band Gains New Look; Tall 'Bertha' Leads With Big Beat

By Janet Sack

A new offense—the swing-T—is being planned for the 1961 edition of the University Marching Band, according to Jack Snider, currently director of the band.

According to Snider, the Marching Band plans to combine the best of the old with the best of the new.

An old feature being revived is the cornhusker drum, "Big Bertha," standing seven feet tall. The drum was put into storage after the 1941 Rose Bowl trip after 11 years of use.

Also returning will be two glockenspiels which haven't been a part of the University Band for a decade, said Snider.

"Come a-runnin' Boys," to be presented under a special arrangement, is a fight song

YWCA Advisory Board Appoints New Director

The University Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA) will be under the direction of Betty Gabehart this year. She succeeds Jacklyn Wilkes, who accepted a position with the national student YWCA of the Southern Region.

Miss Gabehart, the executive director, was appointed by the campus YWCA advisory board. She is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and received her master's degree from Yale University Divinity School.

Before coming to the University, she studied at the University of Illinois and served as assistant director of the University of Illinois YWCA.

During the summers of 1959 and 1960 she was co-director of the Washington Student Citizenship Seminar, a YMCA-YWCA project. This past summer she served as direcwhich will be brought back.

Other new features will be seven susaphones, which will give the band a taller look; a larger band, 120 musicians arranged in 15 squads to give a longer and narrower look; special music arrangements by Prof. Robert Beadell; and a "running" step by the Band when moving from one position to another.

Eleven baritone and four alto horns, two flugel horns, two tenor drums and two Scottish drums have been added.

Gallery Designer Receives Awards

Philip Johnson, New York City designer of the University's Sheldon Memorial Art Gallery, has received two honor awards from the American Institute of Architects.

His designs were picked from 270 entries across the nation on the basis of architectural excellence in structures constructed last year. Johnson, the only architect who won two honor awards, was cited for his design of a nuclear reactor at Rehovot, Israel and a shrine at New Harmony, Ind.

MISS GABEHART

tor to the College Summer Service Group.

Miss Gabehart will be honored Wednesday at a reception from 4 to 6 p. m. at the Lutheran Student House.

Remaining as part of the Band will be the Huskerettes—16 selected co-eds who will do dance-march routines during the half-time performance.

Bandsmen will do a precision block band half-time show for the game against North Dakota Saturday. Future show plans include a "Salute to the Civil War Centennial" and a "Salute to the 'good ole days,'" according to Snider.

Band rehearsal is from 5 to 6 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, Snider said. "That's not much time to work up a show. Most Big Eight and Big Ten bands rehearse five days a week, two hours a day.

Wind and snow doesn't stop practice either. "If the weather gets cold, the band gets cold, too. We have even practiced in darkness and snow," Snider said.

'Husker Interviews

Interviews for the three available positions on the Cornhusker yearbook will be held today from 3 to 5 p. m. in the Cornhusker office.

The positions are for upperclassmen only. Applicants are asked to sign the sheet in the office as to the time for their interview.

Convocation Committee Schedules Appearance of Senator Goldwater

By Tom Kotouc

Barry Goldwater, Republican senator from Arizona, has accepted an invitation to appear at an all-University convocation in March, Dr. A. B. Winter announced Tuesday.

Chairman of the University Convocation committee, Dr. Winter said that Sen. Goldwater had been secured with the help of some of the senator's friends in Lincoln. He had declined an earlier invitation because his "speaking schedule at the time was full."

Goldwater has been asked to address the afternoon convocation on "The Future of Conservatism in America," said Dr. Winter.

A forum after his speech with students interested in questioning him further about the topic as yet has not been cleared with the Senator, Dr. Winter emphasized, and probably will be dependent on his available time. "Those who want him to come to the University campus have been very enthusiastic," continued Winter.

Young Republicans Ladd Hubka, President of Young Republicans, reports that an invitation will be extended to Sen. Goldwater to address the YR group.

Colin Jackson, news commentator for the British Broadcasting Corporation will be sponsored by the political science department in April, pointed out Winter, and will give an analysis of international politics with emphasis on Africa. Jackson, a visiting professor to the University in international politics in 1955, has addressed University convocations in previous years.

Appearing at the University's Love Library auditorium at 8:00 p. m. on Sept. 25 will be Prof. E. H. Gombrich of the University of London through sponsorship of the art department.

He will address the public on "theory and observation in George Shearing and his Quintet will present two concerts tonight in the Student Union ballroom.

The concerts at 7 and 9 p. m. mark the beginning of Shearing's nationwide college concert tour which takes the jazz group to every major campus in the U.S.

Capital Recording Company, for whom Shearing records, announced that a Shearing album will be presented to the five houses on campus with the largest representation at the concerts.

Shearing's appearance on campus is sponsored by the Union special events committee, and tickets may be obtained at the booth at the entrance to the Union or at the door before the concert.

the work of Leonardo de Vinci," an informal discussion to be held on this topic the following day.

Dr. Benitez The chancellor of the University of Puerto Rico, Dr. Jarime Benitez, will address the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education (AACTE) convention and the general public on the topic of Fundamental Education for Latin America's Emerging Nations.

His speech before the AACTE group at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education meeting on International Understanding and featuring the areas of Sahara Africa and Latin America will be followed by talks at the University on various topics in several departments.

Departments interested in scheduling Dr. Benitez should contact the department of educational services immediately, said Dr. Winter.

The department of anthropology will ask Dr. Stephan de Borhegyi to address an anthropology group in November, announced Dr. John L. Champe, chairman of the department. Dr. Borhegyi has conducted extensive work on remains found in Lake Amatitlan in Guatemala and is currently director of the Milwaukee Public Museum.

January 26-27, Prof. R. F. Espenchied of the University of Illinois will be on campus to hold a department seminar on "the use of teaching aids in vocal education," being sponsored by that department.

University to Participate In Fellowship Program

The University is participating in a graduate fellowship program sponsored by the National Science Foundation to promote the progress of science.

Cooperative graduate fellowships will be awarded for study or work in the mathematical, physical, medical, biological and engineering sciences, anthropology, economics (excluding business administration), geography, the history and philosophy of science and sociology (not including social work).

Also included are areas of study which overlap among two or more sciences, such as meteorology and oceanography.

Applications will be accepted from those who intend to obtain advanced training in one of the medical sciences directed toward a career in research or teaching.

Emphasis will be placed on cooperation with participating institutions in identifying and supporting graduate students of high ability. Individuals must apply through the participating institution which they expect to attend as fellows although the research

The romance languages department will sponsor the French literary figure of Vercoors in the week of March 27. Under this penname, Jean Bruller will lecture on "Journey in China."

Known for his work Silence de la Mer, Vercoors here tells the story of the German occupation of France. Written while a member of the French underground in the defense of German officers, Silence de la Mer is the picture of a German officer.

The Convocation Committee, reported Dr. Winter, had also invited former Vice-President Richard Nixon and Republican National Committee Chairman Thruston Morton to speak on campus this last spring, but each declined because of limited time available in their schedules.

Often, Dr. Winter remarked, an individual will hesitate to speak at Nebraska because of limited coverage on press, TV, and wire services believed available. This, however, is untrue, he emphasized, as the individual will probably get more coverage on the national scene by originating his message in the Midwest where it will not compete with local events on the news transmitting media.

The Convocation Committee is actually misnamed, pointed out Winter, because its primary function is to provide funds so that notable scholars in various fields of learning can be brought to the University at the request of the appropriate department.

does not need to be located at that institution.

Applications must be made with the Dean of the Graduate School by Nov. 1, 1961. Fellowships will be awarded March 15, 1962.

Applicants must be citizens of the United States (or will be by March 1, 1962), must have demonstrated ability and special aptitude for advanced training in the sciences and have been admitted to graduate status by the participating institution.

Receiving a fellowship implies no commitment concerning renewal, but there is no limit on the number of times an applicant may reapply provided he continues to meet the eligibility requirements.

AWS Upperclass Mart Planned

The Associated Women Students' (AWS) Activities Mart will be held for upper classmen in the Student Union Indian Suite Wednesday from 2-5:30 p. m.

The AWS Board is extending an invitation to upperclassmen as well as women to participate in the mart. The purpose of the AWS Mart is to place men and women in activities and at the same time aid the organizations.

Each activity will have a sign at its table and there will be a representative available at each table to answer any questions.

University students who will receive their Bachelors Degree in June, 1962, and who are interested in making application for a Fulbright Award for 1962-63 should seek additional information and application for in the Graduate Office Administration Hall 306.

All applications for study abroad under benefits of the Fulbright Grants must be filed in the Graduate Office on or before October 31, 1961.

Food Service Business Tops Union's Business List; Games Profit Second

By Mike MacLean

It looks like a record year for the food service by the Student Union according to Union manager Allen Bennett. Bennett reports that food service is the largest enterprise in the Union.

The Colonial Room, a waiter-served dining room, serves approximately 65 people a day at noon, Monday through Friday. The self-service cafeteria usually serves as many as 400 people at noon and 250 at supper. The Crib handles an average of 4,000 checks a day, with the average check amounting to only 20 cents.

The Union also has a catering service equipped to handle banquets and dinners either in or outside of the Union. The catering service recently served 1300 people at the Ag-Exec Barbecue. Bennett reports that the Union is considering a late evening food delivery service around the campus.

The games area constitutes the second largest facility in the Union. There are 10 bowling lanes, 12 billiard tables and 6 table tennis tables. All are in use almost constantly. All of these facilities are rented by the hour.

The Union boasts the largest barber shop in the city of Lincoln. It is equipped with 5 chairs and handles both appointment and walk-in business.

The main desk, located at the north entrance, is the second largest magazine outlet in the city. The desk does $200 worth of business a day handling candy, cigars, cigarettes and magazines.

The latest addition to the long list of Union services is a bicycle rental. Both regular and tandem bikes are provided and Bennett reports that rental business is booming.

Bennett explained that the Union is largely supported by student fees and that its purpose is to serve the students and other University personnel. Meeting rooms, music rooms, a lounge and a TV are provided free.

"We are always happy to be of service and are interested in doing a better job," stated the manager.
