Jones Hurt But Will Play In NoDak Game Saturday

More work on pass defense was drilled into the Nebraska Cornhuskers yesterday as the gridders prepare for the opener with North Dakota Saturday.

Third-string NU quarterback Ron Gilbreath handled the passing chores as the Huskers prepared for the aerial attack of the Sioux.

Bill Glas, sophomore NoDak quarterback, is the chief threat in the Sioux offensive attack. The Bemidji, Minn., native pitched three touchdown passes and scored himself on a 29-yard run in North Dakota's opening 46-0 victory over Montana State.

He also completed seven out of 13 passes and ran for 253 yards. Glas was listed as the third string quarterback before the game.

Regular quarterback Bill Lefur, who once attended Nebraska, will make the Nebraska trip, but won't play, according to reports.

The Husker injured list remained at three after Monday's workout, Coach Bill Jennings reported. Noel Martin, Pat Salerno and Larry Donovan will not be available for Saturday's game.

Salerno and Martin are recovering from knee injuries and Donovan broke his finger and cannot play with a cast on it.

Bob Jones, 220-pound left returned to action Tuesday after a bout with the flu and a sprained ankle.

Big Eight Roundup

IS-Cowboy Battle Tops Big 8 Weekend

Big Eight football fans should find plenty of thrills Saturday when Iowa State matches skills with Oklahoma State.

The Cyclones, who were far from impressive in their 21-0 victory over Drake last Saturday, promised a sharp comeback this week.

"A victory will be extremely important in our scheme of things," Iowa State Coach Clay Stapleton admitted. "Cliff Speegle of Oklahoma State will have the same attitude. We can expect a hard fought, low scoring, close game here this weekend."

Since this will be the first conference game till Sept. 30 the victor Saturday will be the first to hold the top Big Eight position.

Tailback Ozzie Clay was the Cyclones' leading ground-gainer against Drake piling up 81 yards in 14 carries for a 5.8 yards per carry average.

Highly touted Dave Hoppman carried 18 times, gained 68 yards and lost eight for a 3.7 average in the IS opener.

The Cyclones have only three regulars and 16 lettermen back from a team that won seven and lost three last year.

Eighteen lettermen are back at Oklahoma State this year but injuries this fall have cost the Cowboys some key personnel, including quarterback Jim Elliot who scored the winning touchdown against Nebraska last year.

Coach Speegle has been disappointed in early OSU scrimmages by the lack of a tough defense, usually a Cowboy trademark. He has been impressed by the improved passing attack.

Last year Iowa State, with Tom Watkins leading the way, defeated Oklahoma State 13-6 at Stillwater. A crowd of about 18,000 is expected for

Frosh Track Candidates Termed 'Fair'

By Jan Sack
The fifteen freshmen track prospects have been termed "fair" by Nebraska track coach Frank Sevigne.

All the way from Honolulu, Hawaii, to New York City, the recruits will attempt to help shape Nebraska's track future. Unlike other years, 10 of the 15 boys are former Nebraska high school prepsters.

Top recruits are David Blankenbaker from Red Cloud and Jim Wendt from Kenosha, Wisconsin. Blankenbaker is the Nebraska state champion in the mile run with a 4:26.4 which tied the state mark. He was clocked in that time in the 1961 state classic.

Wendt, a much needed combination athlete and scholar, holds the Wisconsin high school 880 record in 1:56.0. He also graduated in the upper 10 per cent of his class.

Not a freshman but a returnee to the Husker track circle is Mike Fleming, discharged from the U.S. Marine Corps on September 1. Fleming attended the University three years ago before doing a hitch with the Marines. His events are the 800, mile and 2-mile runs. According to Sevigne, Fleming will be eligible for varsity competition second semester.

Other tracksters forming the Nebraska freshman track team include:

Sprints—Jim Stewart from Plattsmouth.
440—Tom Cole of Warrick, R.I.; George Butterfield of Honolulu, Hawaii; George O'Boyle from New York City; and Richard Strand of Minden.

880—Dennis Dondinger of Hebron, O'Boyle, Strand and Wendt.

Mile—Ken Gould of Lyons, Blankenbaker and Larry Toothacker of Plattsmouth.
High Jump—Ken Cook of Arlington and Sam Samuelson of York.

Pole Vault—Clark Feuerbacher of Tekamah and Jim Pile of Pueblo, Colorado.
Hurdles—Richard Peterson of Lexington.
