Hruska Opposes Seating Red China

In a talk to some 75 persons Tuesday afternoon Senator Roman Hruska voiced opposition to Red China's being seated in the United Nations (UN) and federal aid to education.

Hruska said if Red China were seated in the UN it would be a blow to U.S. prestige and would cause the so-called neutral countries to sway.

"The United Nations is for nations against war and Red China does not qualify," he said.

Congress has passed 17 times in the past and again this year, a provision for refusal of recognition of Red China.

The University Young Republican (YR) Club is sponsoring a petition out by the committee of one million to urge President John Kennedy to stand fast against the seating of Red China, according to Bill Buckley, public relations chairman of YR.

In his stand on federal aid to education, Hruska said he is definitely opposed to the federal aid, but not to education.

"I think the United States has the best system of education in the world," Hruska said.

Two reasons for his stand are:

1. Federal management of the schools would be inescapable.

Ag Scientist Leaves Friday To Study British Vaccine

University scientist, Dr. George W. Kelley, will leave Friday for England to study the results of British experiments in immunization of domestic animals.

Dr. Kelley, associate professor of Veterinary Science, is planning a three-week visit to several universities and laboratories in Scotland and England. He plans to confer with British scientists about a newly-developed vaccine used widely in England to prevent parasitism with cattle lung-worm.

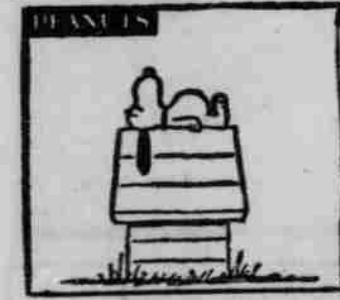

On his return Dr. Kelley plans to begin similar work for the University.

A grant from Eli Lilly and Company will make it possible for the College of Agriculture to initiate a project studying the possibilities of using vaccines to control parasites of swine.

Dr. Kelley will spend a week at the University of Glasgow, where the vaccine was developed, to learn the processes and methods involved in producing the vaccine.

The ag professor will also visit laboratories at Cambridge University to determine the extent vaccination has been successful in protecting swine from internal parasites.

He will also spend a few days in a commercial laboratory observing industrial production of the vaccine and make a short stop at a British Federal Laboratory.
