

Injured Knees Hurt Husker Hopes

Jones, Mitchell Out; Three Others Slowed

By Dave Wohlfarth

Injured knees, which have plagued Nebraska's football team all year, were apparent again Monday as two Husker linemen may miss the Missouri game due to knee injuries.

Left tackle Bob Jones, who has been a standout in the Husker line this fall, twisted his knee in Nebraska's 14-6 loss to Oklahoma State last Saturday and is not expected to be ready by Saturday, according to Coach Bill Jennings.

Ed Mitchell, 258-pound sophomore right guard, who missed the OSU game due to a knee injury, was listed as "doubtful" for the Husker-Tiger clash at Columbia.

Mitchell was on limited duty last night as the Husker starters worked out in sweat clothes. Bob Brown, big NU right tackle, returned to duty Monday and is expected to be ready Saturday.

Also missing from Monday's practice session due to injuries were Dallas Dyer, Bill Thornton, and Dennis Stuewe.

Dyer has the flu and is expected to play against Mizou as are Thornton and Stuewe, both nursing leg injuries received in the OSU game.

Injuries are beginning to take their toll and Jennings commented, "We are starting to feel the pangs of three to four tough ball games."

Jennings had special praise for Thornton Monday saying, "I wouldn't trade Thornton for anybody. He has an intense desire to play football and he is always dependable."

Jennings also praised Stuewe, who was running on a bad leg, and linemen Lloyd Voss and Ron Michka, both sophomores.

Thornton and Stuewe were the whole show offensively for the Huskers in the Cowboy game. Thornton had his third straight 100-yard plus week and has now gained 398 yards on 67 tries for a 5.9 average. Stuewe, who reinjured an ankle, averaged seven yards in four carries, intercepted a pass, caught another for seven yards and returned a punt.

Phi Delts Win IM Free Throw Championship

Phi Delta Theta won the all-University Intramural Free Throw Tournament with an overall score of 134 points. Darrell Petsch of Phi Delta Theta was the All-University Individual Champion.

Certificates were also awarded the winners of each flight. In "A" championship flight, Homer Uehling of Sigma Phi Epsilon, received the winners certificate while Petsch won the "B" championship flight.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon dominated the first and second flights with John Alexander taking the first flight and Buck Holbrook being victorious in the second flight.

The Sig Alphas with 128 points, were only six points away from Phi Delta Theta's winning tally in the final team standings. Phi Kappa Psi with 92 points took third while Delta Tau Delta and Theta Xi tied for fourth and fifth position scoring 82 points.

for seven against Oklahoma State.

Dennis Claridge, sophomore quarterback, continued his major league punting against Oklahoma State, hitting four for a 45.6 average against Oklahoma State.

Concerning the upcoming game against the Tigers, Jennings said, "Our boys have gotten up off the floor and provided some real surprises in the past. These have happened when it seemed least likely. We're hoping for that again Saturday."

"Our team will be all right, but we've got to get up for this one," he added.

The Huskers will be trying for their first win over Missouri since 1956 when they slimed by the Tigers 15-14. In the last three years Nebraska has failed to score a point against the powerful Tigers.

Nebraska will take a 2-2-1 record into the game, which has been designated as the annual migration for Nebraska fans and will be homecoming for Missouri.

The Nebraska frosh will be squading the "best yearling squad Iowa State has yet to field" at 3 p.m. Friday in Memorial Stadium and riding on the young Husker's initial 1961 clash is a three year win streak.

Iowa State assistant varsity coach Arch Steel has pegged this year's Cyclones "the best yet."

Nebraska freshman haven't been beaten in the last six games since Kansas State turned the trick, 31-6, in 1957. The last Iowa State win over Nebraska also came in '57, by a 33-19 count.

The Cornhuskers barely nipped the Cyclones, 7-6, last year at Ames in Jack Bralley's debut as NU frosh mentor.

Friday's fray will be the second of the season for Iowa State. The Cyclones opened with a 21-12 win over Missouri last Friday. Tom Vaughn, a 190-pounder from Troy, Ohio, led the Cyclone cause. Vaughn, running from the tailback slot in Iowa State's single wing offense, racked up two of the three Cyclone TDs.

Kent McCloughan, a 190-pound left half from Broken Bow and the Outstanding Nebraska Prep Athlete last year, will lead the Huskers starting backfield. Three of the four starting backs played their prep ball in the state.

Gary Graham of Ravenna is billed for the quarterback spot, with Dennis Kirby of David City at right halfback and John Vujevich of Clairton, Pa., at fullback.

Undefeated Missouri Has Tough Defense

The defending champions of the Big Eight football conference loom as the barrier Nebraska must break to get back on the win trail.

The Huskers travel to Columbia to meet the undefeated Missouri Tigers, who boast a big, powerful line and a backfield, though hurt by graduation and injuries, which has sparked this fall.

Coach Dan Devine's Tigers have won four and tied one this fall in search of their second straight title crown. The Tigers have downed Washington State 28-6, Minnesota 4-0, tied California 14-14, beat Oklahoma State 13-0 and Iowa State 13-6.

The Tigers, along with Colorado, are the only teams unbeaten in conference play. Missouri threw up a stiff defense in its last two outings to halt the Cowboys and Cyclones.

The tough Tiger defense held Iowa State's Dave Hoppmann to 16 yards rushing and the whole I-State team to 31 yards on the ground. Missouri was playing without the services of two of its starting backfield members, quarterback Ron Taylor and fullback Andy Russell, both who should be ready for the Nebraska game.

The Tigers scored on a 12-yard run by third team fullback Paul Underhill and an 11-yard pass play from Mike Hunter to Carl Crawford to defeat the Cyclones.

Missouri has two of the leading scorers in the conference in Taylor and placekicker Bill Tobin, who is also the starting right half in the Tigers' T-formation.

Oklahoma State's Dave Hannah continued to set the punting pace. He now has a 41.6 average on 25 kicks. Dennis Claridge of Nebraska is second with a 41.4 average and Gary Ellis of Iowa State is third with 37.6.

KU Leads Big 8 Offense; Thornton 2nd in Rushing

By Mike MacLean

Kansas moved to the top of the Big Eight in total offense with 1,199 yards, according to this week's conference statistics.

Bunched next are Nebraska with 1,192; Oklahoma State with 1,185; and Missouri with 1,133. Unbeaten Colorado falls in with 1,025.

The Kansas ground attack is most productive with 952 yards, while Colorado's air game of 423 yards heads that department.

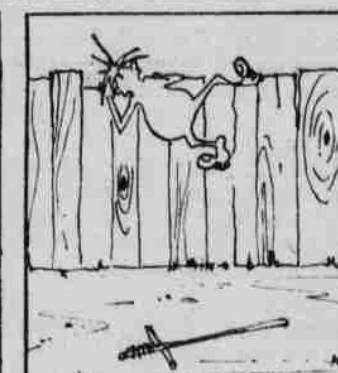

Dave Hoppmann of Iowa State managed to stay in front in the individual rushing department. He now has a season record of 132 carries netting 446 yards. He is also second in passing with 18 strikes out of 36 tries for 304 yards.

Bill "Thunder" Thornton claims second honors in rushing. The Husker halfback has gained 398 yards for the season to lead Jim Dillard of Oklahoma State who has gained 364 for third honors.

Gale Weidner of Colorado stays in command of forward passing, with 406 yards on 27 completions of 85 attempts. John Hadl of Kansas advanced to third, and Missouri Ron Taylor slipped to fourth. There is a new leader in pass snagging. He is Larry Monte of Iowa State who has been hit nine times for 170 yards. Ken Blair and Jerry Hillebrand, both of Colorado, are second and third respectively.

Oklahoma State's Dave Hannah continued to set the punting pace. He now has a 41.6 average on 25 kicks. Dennis Claridge of Nebraska is second with a 41.4 average and Gary Ellis of Iowa State is third with 37.6.

Career Cues

"Hitch your wagon to a 'growth' industry—and grow with it!"

Douglas Leigh, President Douglas Leigh, Inc.

"A growth industry is a new industry that is on the way up — moving quickly, expanding fast. When you join a company in one of the growth fields you have something extra working for you... you grow up with it. To find out which industry is right for you, try this: Ask someone in a good investment office to give you a list of the industries he considers 'growth industries'. Data Processing, plastics, and electronics are a few examples. Then pick the one you have a leaning toward, and get the names of the most progressive companies in that field.

One thing I'd like to point out from my own career is... a growth industry may also be an old business that's on the verge of new development. Shortly after leaving college I found this situation in the Outdoor Advertising field. What my associates and I did was to employ color, action and motion to dramatically personify the product, brand or services being advertised. In doing so, we developed the modern type 'Spectaculars' that talked, blew smoke rings, soap bubbles, etc... signs that changed the face of Broadway and the famous Times Square area.

This is just one example. The really important thing to remember is this: When you set your sights on a career, aim for an industry that is going to grow, so you can grow with it. It's the difference between a rocket that blasts off, and one that just sits there. Good luck!"

Casually yours...
