

Clues, Candidates Anticipate Ball

A free pass to the 1961 Military Ball is the grand prize of a unique treasure hunt sponsored by the Air Force ROTC department.

"A clue will be published each morning in the Daily Nebraskan through Dec. 8," Bob Kitchen publicity chairman announced, "with each successive clue pinning down the location of the treasure more exactly."

The Treasure Hunt is open to all University students except cadets on Military Ball committees and the staff of the Daily Nebraskan.

"With ticket sales approaching the 600 mark to date," Kitchen said, "interest in the Ball is high and increasing." There are still some individual and block tickets available for reserved tables.

Over 1,500 students voted in last week's Honorary Commandant election. Kitchen said. The Commandant will be announced at the Ball, Dec. 8.

Meetings

The Interfraternity Council Public Relations Seminar for all house public relations chairmen has been rescheduled for Dec. 6, Wednesday, 7:00 p.m. in 234 Student Union.

The value of fraternity publications and ideas which may be utilized by the PR chairmen will be discussed.

Alpha Lambda Delta will hold its regular meeting Thursday 5 p.m. in 235 Student Union. Activation of pledges will be discussed.

Dudley J. Hughes, chief geologist and partner of the Triad Oil and Gas Co. of Jackson, Miss., will speak on the "Faulting Associated with Deep-Seated Salt Domes" at 8 p.m. Thursday in Morrill Hall.

The first in a series of public conferences on Latin America will be held by the Spanish Club on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Union. Dr. David Cronon, professor of history, will speak.

Young Democrats will meet in 348 Student Union at 7 p.m. on Thursday. The speaker will be Dr. Thomas Bonner, chairman of the social science department at Omaha University. His talk is entitled "25 years After the New Deal."

LOOK SHARP

Looking all but military, nine University coeds were introduced at Monday night's Military Ball fashion show as candidates for Honorary Commandant. The candidates are (left to right) Judi Zadina, Kathie Madsen, Pat Johnson, Marty Elliott, Sherry Foster, Ruth Anne Read, Jeanne Garner, (seated) Vicki Cullen and Diane "Cori" Cabela. The coeds were introduced by the state's First Lady, Mrs. Frank Morrison, and were escorted by cadets from the branches they represent. The Honorary Commandant and three service queens will be revealed at the Military Ball, Dec. 8.

Pinnings, Engagements, Formals Herald NU Winter Social Season

The newest in winter formal fashions was shown to University coeds Monday night in anticipation of the 1961 Military Ball.

College Board members of Gold's planned the show and introduced a returning fashion trend: the floor length formal.

Eleven coeds modeled formal in a variety of colors and designs. They were: Jan Allen, Karen Boesiger, Susan Christensen, Donna Filbert, Judy Grazier, Trudy Irwin, Cecile Pincus, Rose Ann Rost, Sue Vandecar, Susy Walburn, and Jo Ann Wilson.

Swinging to the other side of the social scene Monday night, eight girls announced their pinnings and engagements.
