

Nebraskan Star Award Goes to Gymnast Burkel

By Bob Besom
 "Gymnastics is a sport of concentration and coordination more than strength," commented Daily Nebraskan Star of the Week Louis Burkel.
 The 20-year-old junior in Teachers College picked up wins in the still ring and horizontal bar enroute to Nebraska's triangular win over Fort Hays and Colorado State last weekend.
 It marked the Huskers' 15th straight victory in dual and triangular competition over a 4-year period.
 "Burkel said that Coach

Jack Geler's 10-man squad will try as hard as ever to keep up another undefeated season. But, he went on to say that this year's schedule will be harder to buck than those of the past couple of seasons.
 The 5-7, 148-pounder from Beatrice cited Denver University, Mankato State, and the Air Force Academy as the biggest threats to the unblemished record.
 Burkel got his start in gymnastics in junior high and in his final year at Beatrice High, won a state title and was runner-up in the "best all-around" competition. He also played golf at Beatrice. Louie was given a Fred Medart scholarship towards his first year in physical education at Nebraska.

 Burkel, a varsity cheerleader, is a member of Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity, N-Club, and Phi Epsilon Kappa, physical education honorary.

 Given his chance, the spokesman for all campus Democrats lashed out in, using his own words, blind, ludicrous statements against campus, state and national Republicans. If these are the kind of points of views that the Young Democrats want to present and discuss, than the whole political structure on campus will soon deteriorate into mud-slinging and name calling political battles. In fact, I would not be surprised if the Young Republicans answer this attack on their party with equally offensive language. They would be justified; I hope that if they do, the same and equal play will be given their comments.

So if you have reached your political bomb shelter stay there. The all clear has not sounded and probably won't for some time. Both the forces of the Republican and Democrat are frantically collecting their resources for what may be an early beginning to the re-primary hustling coming in the spring.
 I have just one bit of advice: Do not long for the spring... it may be as "bitter" as winter!

Outstanding Nebraskan

 Roy has dedicated his life and services to the University of Nebraska. He has taken a sincere interest in the people around him and has been willing to give of himself, unselfishly, in order that he may glorify God by helping others. Roy has received many awards and honors throughout his college career, but has accepted them humbly. He feels that striving for improvement and setting high realistic goals are a virtue.

"With Roy's perception and insight into the fulfillment of his purpose in life, he has become morally and sincerely dedicated to his fellow man. He has become obligated to be himself at his very best at all times. Roy's maturity has made him realize that it is great to be great, but greater to be human. His loyalty to his purpose, his willingness to sacrifice for good and his tireless efforts toward excellence have maintained his dignity and respect.
 "He is recipient of a number of scholarships including the Regents, LaVerne Noyes, IFC, Borden, Shriber-Hunter and Fairmont Foods scholarships.

"As a freshman, Roy received the Alpha Zeta high scholarship award and as a sophomore, he received the Gamma Sigma Delta scholarship award. He is a member of Alpha Zeta and Phi Eta Sigma honoraries, as well as being first in his class in the College of Agriculture. He was a member of the University dairy products judging team and a contestant in the National Dairy Products judging contest at Chicago.

"Roy has been president of four organizations this past year — Builders, Corn Cobs, Innocents Society and Farm-House fraternity. In past years he has held board positions in several organizations. In 1961, he was a candidate for Outstanding Collegiate Man.

"We feel that these qualifications make Roy an outstanding Nebraskan and his humbleness and honesty make him a truly great man.
 Jim Samples
 The letter of nomination for Jim Samples cited particularly the work he had done to improve the operation of the Student Tribunal. The significance of this work in regard to the "Outstanding Nebraskan award is that Samples appears nearly unique in his efforts to do something for the average student," the letter said.

"Samples activities include Student Council vice president, Innocents, Delta Tau Delta treasurer, secretary of IFC, selection for participation in the Mock UN, Kosmet Klub fall show master of ceremonies and membership in several honoraries."
 The letter noted his scholastic achievement of an 8.4 overall and his recent election to Phi Beta Kappa scholastic honorary.

"Seldom has a student been so sincere in his concern for the University and the individual student and seldom in campus politics and activity has a man been held in such high respect by both pro and con activity interests. His scholastic success proves his initial interest in education," the letter said.

Suzanne Tinan

The nomination for Suzanne Tinan began, "In the middle of our campus life, where a student's value is often judged only on the basis of participation in activities, it is refreshing to find a person who would still be valuable and outstanding without activities."
 The letter continued that Miss Tinan is outstanding not only for her active campus participation but also because she likes people.

Her activities were cited as "a three year member of AWS Board, a member of Red Cross, Builders, Student Union and Spring Day executive committee. She has served as scholarship chairman, intramural chairman and pledge trainer of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and was a member of the 1961 Ivy Day court. She is a member of Phi Sigma Iota Spanish honorary, a senior member of the Student Council and National vice-president of AWS.

"Sukey has never been president of a campus organization yet she has influenced the attitudes of a great many people. She has never publicly crusaded because her ideals are communicated on a personal day-to-day basis," the letter concluded.

The final winners of the faculty and student awards will be announced in the Friday issue of the Daily Nebraskan and will be guests of honor at a noon luncheon in the Student Union.

Fisher, Dr. Don Smidt, Don Fricke, Al Wellman, Pat Clare, Jim Hoge, to mention a few. None of these boys took snap courses and they have done well academically in addition to their athletic endeavors.

So you still want to be a jock and have a real easy life? Stop and think about their day and then ask yourself, could I do it and still be around.

PREDICTIONS: Last week The Old Pro picked the Oklahoma game correctly but missed the Colorado game. The Huskers will win a one-pointer at Iowa State, get clobbered by 20 by K-State, then bounce back to beat Oklahoma State by 12.
