

All Women's Elections— Coeds Elect Officers At Polls Wednesday

All Women's Elections will be held Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the city Student Union and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Ag Union. Maggie McCracken and Pat Spilker are slated for president of Associated Women Students (AWS).

Miss McCracken Miss Spilker

Miss McCracken's activities have included: Association of Childhood Education, Lincoln Project, Red Cross Board member, vice president and pledge trainer of Delta Gamma, and Sophomore and Junior Board member of AWS. Miss Spilker, also a sophomore and junior AWS Board member, has served on Student Council and Student Union Program Council and currently is recording secretary of Alpha Chi Omega.

Senior Board candidates for the five positions are Jean Carlson, Judy Hansen, Susan Moffitt, Ellen Nore, Kim Pohlman, Julie Porter, Karen Sass, Sara Wagoner, Karen Werner, and Julie Westerhoff. Slated for the seven Junior Board positions are Diane Armour, Joyce Baumann, Kathie Farner, Beth Hemmer, Janet Janssen and Sally Larson.

Dian Moody, Christian Potter, Enid Reeder, Jane Rosch, Billie Spies, Jane Tenhulzen, Cynthia Tinan and Kathryn Vollmer.

Sophomore Board candidates include Elaine Anderson, Susan Ayres, Pat Beckmann, Peggy Doering, Donna Filbert, Nancy Holmquist and Linda Kimmel.

Bonnie Knudsen, JoAnn Krohn, Lynette Loesch, Jean Lundgren, Kay Marquardt, Betty Jane Seggerman and Joan Skinner.

Norma Contryman and Judy Polenz are candidates for president of the Independent Women's Association (IWA).

Miss Contryman Miss Polenz

Miss Contryman has been a member of the IWA Junior Board, Phi Sigma Iota, Spanish club and German club. A junior majoring in English, Miss Contryman is chairman of the Wesley Foundation food and kitchen committee. She is president of Piper Hall.

Miss Polenz, a home economics major, was 1961 Homecoming Queen. She is Lutheran Student Association program chairman and a member of Student Council, Tassels and Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary. Miss Polenz, Love Memorial Hall, is an IWA Junior Board member.

Slated as Senior Board candidates are: Linda Albin, Kay Anderson, Joan Brown, Sandy Carter, Karen Edral, Lola Griess, Edna May Lewis, Karen Sass, Paula Warner and Clare Vrba.

Junior Board candidates are: Catherine Banks, Barbara Fritchie, Nadine Newton, Madene Stearns, Bonnie Wahl, Janet Watson, Sharon Wright and Susan Kay Yost.

Slated for the Sophomore Board are: Marian Cast, Charlyn Herrick, Loretta Kjer, Carol Lea Klein and Linda Landreth.

Joan Phipps, Joan Rockwell, Judy Sheldon, Margaret Souders, Leila Stevens, Cherie Thies and Karen West.

Slated for president of the Women's Athletic Association (WAA) are Judy Luhe and Carla Tortora.

Miss Luhe Miss Tortora

Miss Luhe is a past Red Cross chairman and Kappa Kappa Gamma Intramurals chairman. A sophomore in speech therapy, she is corresponding secretary and publicity chairman of WAA.

Miss Tortora, a sophomore in political science, has been WAA Intramural Co-ordinator, All University Fund chairman, a Student Union worker, Activities Queen finalist, a page in Ivy Day Court, a member of Alpha Lambda Delta, and Chi Omega pledge trainer and Ideal Pledge.

Candidates for secretary are Judy Knapp, a junior majoring in Pre-Med, and Corrine Newton, a junior in Business Teachers Education.

Slated for treasurer are Patricia Knapp, a sophomore in political science and French, and Carol Jean Ostiguy, a sophomore majoring in physical education.

Slated for president of the Young Women's Christian Association (YWCA) is Jan Jeffery.

Miss Jeffery, a junior in Sociology, has an 8.3 average. She was a member of the 1961 May Court, president of Delta Delta Delta pledge class, and a YWCA regional representative. She is now a counselor in Burr-Fedde Residence Halls.

Other candidates are: Karlene Senf, vice president; Marcia Howe, secretary; Rosann Rost, treasurer; and Karen Diedrichs, District Representative.

Daily Nebraskan

Members Argue Council Aims At Semi-Closed Meeting Saturday

(Editor's Note: The following article presents an overview of a "quasi-closed" meeting of the council held Saturday. Its quotations are from compromised reporter's notes and are not attributed to individual Council members due to restrictions placed upon the reporter. See editorial comment, page 2.)

By WENDY ROGERS
Eighteen Student Council members gathered Saturday afternoon at a special semi-closed meeting described by Council President Steve Gage as similar to a quarter-break in an athletic contest. Purpose of the informal "breather-session" was to discuss: the general direction and objectives of the Council; the now thrice-proposed-and-defeated amendment to provide an all-campus vote on the question of affiliation with the National Student Association, the NSA motion itself.

The role of the Student Council as elected representatives of the student community, formed the basis for talk at the session.

In fulfilling its function as the student legislative body, should the Council "reflect" student opinion or help "mold" it?

The group reviewed its advances in regular areas such as the Student Tribunal and activity regulation, and the existing liaison between students, faculty, and administration.

But how to develop a program to increase student awareness of significant national and international, as well as local issues occupied much of the group's time.

Consideration of such a program also included consideration of the NSA question.

One member suggested that student interests have "awakened" in the case of NSA because of controversy aroused over it, but that they may "fall asleep" when the issue is resolved.

The Council should strive, rather, to develop in students a more continual interest in its overall workings, he noted.

In discussion on the NSA motion, another Council member commented that many NU students fear being sucked into something they don't understand.

Springing from the discussion was a suggestion by a Council member that a representative from NSA be invited to come to the University to answer questions from both Council members and the general student body as a question and answer session.

On March 28, the Council study committee report on NSA will be made public. The following night, a public forum is scheduled, providing a chance for interest groups view.

Copies of the report will also be made available.

The NSA representative would then be invited to appear sometime between April 1 and 5.

Noting that the program of helping to develop student awareness is aimed at both student leadership and at the student body, Gage said, "we are one of the first Student Councils to enunciate the objectives and provide for the continuity of this program."

This year, "he continued, the Council has worked through experimentation and adjustment in all its areas and programs to implement its overall functioning."

—Administrative Job Switch—

Hardin—'No Plans To Replace Pittenger'

There are no plans at the present to replace James Pittenger as assistant to the Chancellor Clifford Hardin.

Pittenger was appointed ticket manager on a temporary basis in the athletic department by Tippy Dye, athletic director.

William Fisher was named business manager of athletics. Fisher has been serving as acting business manager since the death of A. J. Lewandowski.

Pittenger, who previously served as assistant to the chancellor, was changed to the new position to aid the athletic department while reorganizing, said Chancellor Hardin.

Pittenger's duties will include handling tickets for spring sports, preparing the ticket sales program for the coming football season, assisting Dye in the development of special programs, and coordinating the Touchdown Club, the N Club and the Extra Point Club, said Dye.

Formerly, the business manager and ticket manager were one position. However, as part of the reorganization of the department the positions were separated, Dye said.

Pittenger served as secretary to former governors Dwight Griswold and Val Peterson. He was appointed secretary of state in 1951 and served in this office until 1953 when he was named secretary of the Nebraska Alumni Association.

In 1956 he became assistant to Chancellor Hardin and served in this capacity until the new appointment. Pittenger is a graduate of Albion High School. In 1941 he earned a BS degree at the University.

Fisher, a native of Minnesota, earned a BS degree from the University of Illinois in 1939. He attended Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in 1934-'44. He served as a credit manager and an insurance auditor before joining the University staff as an internal auditor in 1961.

MAY QUEEN FINALISTS

Ten May Queen finalists will vie for the title of May Queen and the Maid-of-Honor in Wednesday's election. The finalists are, back row, Pat Johnson, Sukey Tinan, Susie Lovett, Mary Kay Coonrad, Sharon Anderson, Linda Sawvell and, front row, Nickie Christie, Ellen Basoco, Judy Mikkleson and Jeanne Garner.

Ten Coeds Vie for Honor Of 1962 May Queen Title

May Queen and her Maid of Honor, the runner-up in the election, will be elected by the junior and senior women during the All-Women's Elections Wednesday.

Ten finalists were chosen from the March 7 primary. The finalists are:

Sharon Anderson: Teachers; Kappa Alpha Theta, president; ACE, past board member; Red Cross, past president; sophomore cheerleader.

Ellen Basoco: Teachers; Alpha Omicron Pi, vice president and pledge trainer; Red Cross, past president; Theta Xi Dream Girl, 1960; Ivy Court, 1960.

Nickie Christie: Business Teachers; Delta Gamma, Board; AWS, senior board member; Mu Phi Epsilon.

Mary Kay Coonrad: Teachers; Pi Beta Phi; Lincoln Project; ACE; University Singers, past member, winner of University talent show traveler act, 1960.

Jeanne Garner: Teachers; Delta Gamma, vice president and pledge trainer; AWS, president; Best Dressed Nebraska Coed, 1960; Cornhusker Beauty Queen finalist, 1960; Ivy Court, 1959.

Pat Johnson: Teachers; Chi Omega, president; AUF, past board member; Red Cross, past board member; Miss Sigma Chi Derby Day, 1960; Miss Cornhusker, 1960.

Susan Lovett: Teachers; Kappa Kappa Gamma, president; ACE, vice president; Pi Lambda Theta; Ak-Sar-Ben Countess, 1962.

Judy Mikkleson: Agriculture; Alpha Omicron Pi, president; YWCA, secretary; Phi Upsilon Omicron, past secretary.

Linda Sawvell: Speech Therapy; Delta Delta Delta, president; Builders, secretary; AWS, past board member; Pi Lambda Theta.

Sukey Tinan: Teachers; Kappa Kappa Gamma, pledge trainer; AWS, senior board member and National vice president; Student Council, secretary; Phi Sigma Iota; Ivy Court, 1961.

This year 362 junior and senior women voted in the primaries and 15 ballots were declared invalid because instructions were not followed.

The May Queen and her attendant will not be revealed until Ivy Day ceremonies on May 5.

By TOM KOTOUČ
Burns Crookston, associate dean of men, University of Utah, will be on campus today and tomorrow to be interviewed for the position of new Dean of Student Affairs.

Crookston and Dr. Charles Lewis, dean of students, University of North Dakota, will probably be the only two candidates interviewed for the Dean of Student Affairs position, according to Adam P. Breckenridge, dean of faculty.

"We usually bring in no more than one or two candidates from outside the University for any position, said Breckenridge, who is chairman of the committee which will give its impressions of the candidates interviewed to the Chancellor early in April.

The Chancellor will then make his recommendation to the Board of Regents, whose selection will be final.

While on campus last week, Dean Lewis made these comments before the Student Council and in personal interviews:

"I believe in students hav-

Utah Dean Interviews for NU Post

ing a voice in University policy, and have seated many on faculty policy committees at North Dakota University," said Lewis.

"I find student government a tremendous challenge in a university education as the student faces the same problems in student government as he does in serving society," he said.

Dean Lewis said that he understood that students had been represented on the group that has set up the criteria for the new Dean of Student Affairs.

ing a voice in University policy, and have seated many on faculty policy committees at North Dakota University," said Lewis.

"I find student government a tremendous challenge in a university education as the student faces the same problems in student government as he does in serving society," he said.

Dean Lewis said that he understood that students had been represented on the group that has set up the criteria for the new Dean of Student Affairs.

English Department Devises New Plan; Search Begins for Thirty Top 'Linguanauts'

The University is looking for 30 top English teachers in Nebraska who are willing to volunteer as "linguanauts". As pioneers of a new approach to teaching English which may mushroom nationally, they will attend an eight-week English Curriculum Institute from June 11 to Aug. 4.

The selected teachers of elementary and secondary schools will receive a $500 fellowship, financed by a $27,000 grant from the Woods Charitable Fund, Inc.

The Institute, co-sponsored by the Nebraska Council of Teachers of English, will have three purposes:

—To train teachers in the subject matter in a new approach to English. Much of this new approach is contained in the Nebraska Curriculum which was designed by selected members of the Nebraska Council in a workshop last summer.

—To give teachers and consultants an extended period of time in which to prepare courses and specific classroom units based on the Nebraska Curriculum, which in turn could be carried directly into the classroom.

—To facilitate the training of a hard core of excellent classroom teachers who can carry information back to the local schools, train other teachers and act as local consultants, speakers and advisors as the new curriculum is tried out all across the state.

Dr. Paul Olson, associate professor of English at the University and director of the newly established national curriculum study center of English, said the new center will base its work in language and literature on some of the material which is developed this summer in the Institute.

In selecting the teachers for the Institute, the following guidelines will be considered, Dr. Olson said:

—The teachers should have three to five years experience in the field and be five years from retirement; should intend to make the teaching of English a permanent profession.

purposes and practices of the Nebraska Curriculum and be willing to try it out in their classes and to train people in their districts.

—In the choosing of secondary school teachers, preference will be given to teachers possessing full majors in English, excellent academic records and distinguished records as teachers.

—Attention will be paid to securing the widest geographic representation possible within the boundaries of the state.

The Institute will be set up so that teachers will take three courses each morning and spend the afternoons in planning and the evenings in study or hearing lectures and seeing films related to the new curriculum.

The Institute courses will carry full graduate credit and include: English language linguistics and composition with emphasis on the findings of modern linguistic study; basic literary heritage of Western culture, with emphasis upon the moral values implicit in Western literature, methods of reading it and methods of writing based on methods of master writers; and programming subject matter in two courses, one for elementary and the other for secondary teachers.

The staff will be composed of Dr. Dudley Bailey, associate professor of English; Dr. Olson; Mary Mielenz, professor of secondary education; George Hillocks, graduate student at Harvard University and Dr. Gene Hardy, assistant professor of English.

Teachers interested in being considered for the summer Institute should write to Deanna Versaw, University of Nebraska English department, 224 Andrews. Applications will be received between March 15 and April 15.

Dr. Olson also announced that teachers who wish to take Institute courses outside of the regular Institute will be offered a parallel set of courses and given an opportunity to participate in parallel planning activities.

Kay Pierce Is Named Best Dressed NU Coed

Kay Pierce, a freshman majoring in fashion merchandising, is the University candidate for the 1962 Ten Best Dressed College Girls contest, sponsored by Glamour magazine and the Daily Nebraskan.

She is a member of the Ag Union's dance committee, is currently working with "Hospitality Days" on Ag campus, is a past Honored Queen and present member of Jobs Daughters, and models for an illustration course outside of her regular campus activities.

The runners-up in the contest are Susan Vandecar and Maggie McCracken.

Three pictures of Miss Pierce will be sent along with her entry to the national competition and judgment with entries from other participating schools. The pictures will be of Miss Pierce (pictured above), an off-campus daytime outfit and a party dress.

Hoover Pleased

With Registration

"I liked what I saw" in the general design of this semester's registration, said Dr. Floyd Hoover, University registrar.

"At present we plan no major changes for next semester registration and will continue to use Student Council and Builders personnel in distribution of appointment cards," Hoover added.

Hoover said that he will soon be calling representatives of Student Council and Builders to evaluate the problems that may have developed in this phase of registration.