Spring Day, May 4, 1962, marks the seventh year that it has been sponsored by Student Council as a recognized tradition.

In 1956 Administrative officials and students decided to have a Spring Day in order to allow students to let off steam, thus preventing a repetition of the riots which took place in 1955.

The Spring Day that year featured a street dance, barbeque, games and carnival. The carnival, held in the Union parking lot, featured such rides as the merry-go-round, ferris wheel, boat rides, army tank rides and kiddie auto rides. There was also a Union photography contest.

Chancellor Clifford Hardin won top honors in the baby bottle contest while other faculty members participated in golf, horseshoe and bowling contests. Deans of the various colleges entered pie-eating contests.

Ivy Day Off
Officials also gave the students the day before Ivy Day for these events.

In 1957, Spring Day lasted from 8 a.m. until midnight.

Lope De Vega Play To Be Presented

"Fuente Ovejuna," by Lope De Vega, a classic Spanish play, will be read in its original tongue by 16 romance language students.

The reading, a special presentation for the public by the Spanish Club, will be given tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Indian Suite in the Student Union.

The play tells the story of a small Spanish village, its struggle for freedom, honor and respect during the feudal age of Europe.

Only one of the sixteen students giving the play speaks Spanish as a native tongue.

HOW TO BUY LIFE INSURANCE

Buying life insurance can be a simple procedure if certain cardinal rules are followed.

1. Get a professional life insurance agent to help you; don't try to do it yourself.
2. Understand what you want your policy to do for you.
3. From the many plans, select the amount and type that best fits your situation.

We have helped many people do just this. Why not let us help you?

Members, a rodeo, barbeque and street dance were a few of the events at Spring Day in 1959. Lincoln businessmen donated the prizes that year.

Spring Day, 1960, featured the greased pole contest and a bicycle race. Sweatshirts were awarded instead of trophies for most of the events, but the winner of the bicycle race received two tickets to Ben Hur and dinner for two in Omaha with any University coed he chose. The Spring Day committee guaranteed the date.

Spring Day for 1961 featured a jousting contest, cow milking contest, in addition to the traditional push ball and tug-of-war contests.

"If they could find enough schools outside the Association to make up a schedule, then they could play," he adds. "But if any school in the Association were to play a non-approved school, then the Association school would be subject to discipline and would probably be suspended."

The schools also would not be permitted to compete in any of the state championship meets, because all such meets are conducted by the NSAA.

The education department feels this is one of its strongest weapons in forcing schools to restrict or to send the students to another school. The department has stated on numerous occasions. "The main reason for many schools existing is their basketball team."

No Entrance Difficulty
Thus far students have had no difficulty gaining entrance to state-supported schools, such as the University of Nebraska, because they were graduates of a non-approved high school.

"We have never discriminated against students from a non-approved high school," says officials in the NU Registrar's Office. "But in many cases, the student has had trouble keeping pace with his counterpart from an approved school."

NU officials explain that all credits are accepted from those students coming from a non-approved school, but since the student may not have had some of the basic courses, he runs into difficulty adjusting to studies at the University.

Under the change, the phrase "and daughters" may remain overnight would be cut out, and the phrase "of house girls" would be added to "out-of-town sisters and daughters."

Thus, alumnae daughters of high school age would not be allowed in the sorority, and sisters of pledges living in the women's dormitories, dorm counselors, etc.—girls not living in the house—would not be permitted to remain in a sorority house overnight.

No Legacy Week End
Since legacy week-end has been abolished, a formal change of section c of the same article would allow only "Each group may have a party for children of members under the eighth grade once yearly in addition to the one other function."

Use of favors during rush week would be eliminated, under the proposed change of article VI, section a, sub-section 2.

Not only former University of Nebraska students, but also ALL TRANSFER STUDENTS must have attained a Panhellenic Average of 5.000 or the equivalent, and must have no delinquent hours, under a proposed change in the "eligibility" section (d) of the same article.

In other proceedings, Panhellenic delegates indicated committees they would like to work on, although the committee system is now being revised. New committees will be announced at the next meeting.

Report Says Costs Going Up for Aids

A report given before the April meeting of the Faculty Senate yesterday revealed that the cost of scholarships and financial aids at the University is going up.

Dr. Keith Newhouse, reporting for the committee on scholarships and financial aids, said a total of $440,000 was given in scholarship assistance. The sum includes athletic awards.

About $390,000 was loaned during the 1961-62 year. That is an increase of $10,000 over a year ago, with 100 more students borrowing this year. Freshman scholarship applications for next year total 870,170 more than were received this year.

Upperclass scholarship applications remained at 1,000, added Newhouse.

The University's student employment service filled 1,225 job vacancies.

Dr. Knut Broady gave the report on the progress of the new Nebraska Center for Continuing Education since it opened last summer.

The Hall of Youth has hosted 20 organization meetings, with 3,800 young people participating, and sponsored two Midwest Institute for Young Adults (MIYA) sessions. MIYA is an eight-week course for young people who have graduated from high school and want to continue their education, but who do not plan to attend college, according to Dr. Otto Hoiberg.

Adult Conferences
Reporting for the adult section of the Center, Dr. Arthur Ward, said 144 conferences have been held there to date. The Center has 205 conferences scheduled by the end of June, with a total attendance of 11,155.
