

Relay Big Factor in Track Dual Husker Netters Post 3rd Shutout of Year

NU Hosts Buffs Saturday

By DAVE WOHLFARTH
Sports Editor

The experts are saying that it will be a "down-to-the-rely" finish this Saturday when the Colorado and Nebraska track teams engage in cinder combat for the fourth time this year. Husker Coach Frank Sevigne has said, "This shapes up as one of the best dual meets we have had here in many seasons."

Highlight of the meet will be the 440-yard relay, the mile run, the 220-yard dash, and the half mile. The dual will start at Memorial Stadium at 2 p.m. with the field events. The running events will begin at 2:30.

The 440-yard relay could decide the final outcome of the meet as these two teams have battled closely in two of the three previous meetings.

NU Wins Triangular In their latest meeting NU copped a narrow two point verdict in an outdoor triangular with Colorado and the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs two weeks ago.

The Buffs and Huskers split in two indoor duals. Colorado won the first meeting with a narrow edge at Boulder and Nebraska shellacked the Buffs, 88-33, in Lincoln. Colorado, however, was minus some of its key performers in the Lincoln dual. Don Meyers, who did 15 feet against Wisconsin in a dual last week to help defeat the Big Ten champions, 62-20, was shelved along with Jim Heath, one of the Big Eight's better middle distance runners.

Relay Finish Important The Huskers won the three-way outing by finishing second in the mile relay which netted three points. However, in a dual meet the second place quartet gets no points. Added to Coach Sevigne's worries is the fact that in the AFA-CU-NU meet the 17 points which the Air Force tallied helped Nebraska more than they did Colorado.

Offsetting these problems may be the addition of the 440-yard relay, which was not contested in the triangular, and which the Huskers hope to win Saturday.

Both the Buff and Husker sprint teams have turned the relay in :41.4, the Huskers finishing second in the Drake Relays and Colorado in its own meet last Saturday. This relay should be a spectacular race and could decide the dual.

Mile Contenders Another great race should develop in the mile which Ray Stevens of Nebraska won at Colorado Springs in 4:20.6. However, Bob Griffith of Colorado has had a 4:12 clocking and the speedy Buff won the 2-mile run in the Colorado-Nebraska indoor dual here this winter in 9:21.6.

Ray Knaub, 100-yard champion at the Texas and Kansas Relays, will be the man to beat in the century and quarter sprints. Colorado will counter with Teddy Woods, Olympic runner, in the 220-yard dash.

The half mile shapes up as a battle between Chuck Bucheit of Colorado and Huskers Stevens, Mike Fleming and Gil Gebro. Bill Kenny, who won this event at Colorado Springs in 1:55.9 also may be in Scarlet colors for this one.

SMITH LEADS HITTING — Steve Smith, Husker outfielder, leads the NU hitters with a .453 batting average.

Husker Nine Meets OSU This Weekend

By RICK AKIN

After a disastrous three-game sweep by Missouri last weekend, Nebraska baseballers will be trying to get back into the first division with a three-game series at Oklahoma State this weekend.

Nebraska now stands fifth in the conference with a 4-7 record, one-half game behind in the conference with a 4-7 record, one-half game behind fifth place Colorado and 1 1/2 games behind fourth place Oklahoma.

With a doubleheader slated for Friday and single game for Saturday, Oklahoma State will try to move up among the leaders at the expense of the Huskers.

Defending Big Eight champion Oklahoma State trails Kansas and Missouri by only 1 1/2 games and holds the third place spot.

Coach Tony Sharpe will start lefty Ron Havekost and Ernie Bonistall in the Friday doubleheader with George Landgren, a sophomore from Grand Island, starting the nine-inning single game on Saturday.

Landgren earned his starting assignment on the strength of his fine work against Concordia of Minnesota and Missouri during spring vacation.

Landgren also leads the NU pitchers in earned run averages with 1.80 but has yet to record a decision.

Bonistall and Havekost have been the workhorses of the mound corps this season, pitching 31 2/3 and 36 1/3 innings, respectively.

Havekost has a 2-3 record and made a fine showing against Missouri last weekend. The lefty from Hooper went the route but was the victim of a fielding error which gave the game to the Tigers, 1-0. Sharpe will start with Don Schindel (.239), cf; Dale Anderson (.277), 3b; Steve Smith (.453), rf; Dick Becher (.286), lb; Pat Salerno (.280), lf; Don Purcell (.163), c; Tom Ernst (.240), ss; and Bill Redmond (.192).

Smith continues to lead the Huskers in batting with a .453 average. He is the only regular above the .300 mark.

Over spring vacation the Huskers slipped from a .282 team average to .207 and now have a 9-8 record overall.

Golfers Tip Washburn

Nebraska's golfers took a narrow 8-7 win over Washburn yesterday as the Huskers won their fifth match against four losses.

Bud Williamson of Nebraska and Jerry Adams of Washburn tied for medalist honors with 76s. These two number one men tied in their match, 1 1/2 to 1 1/2.

Bill Encell and Jerry Overgaard won important decisions to give the Huskers the edge in the match played at the Lincoln Country Club.

Coach Harry Good's linksters hit the road for a quad-rangular meeting with Kansas, Kansas State and Wichita at Lawrence Thursday and the same three teams at Manhattan Saturday.

Yesterday's results: Williamson (N) (76) tied Adams (76) 1 1/2-1 1/2. Encell (N) (81) def. Dick Wendland (83), 2-1. Overgaard (N) (83) def. Guy Harris (85), 2-1. Mick Renard (W) (83) def. Bill Hemmer (86), 2-1. Stan Schrag (N) (85) tied Warren Dobry (85), 1 1/2-1 1/2.

Devaney Polishes Gridders

By BOB BESOM
Sports Staff Writer

Husker grid professor Bob Devaney is through passing out new routines this spring and will concentrate on "a big job of just polishing and perfecting the things we've already installed."

That's the way things stack up going into the final four spring practice sessions leading into the May 12th intra-squad finale highlighting All Sports Day.

Coach Devaney figures he has "close to two top teams." "Studying the movies of the first three weeks we discovered a few more individuals who do some things well," he said.

Devaney seems most enthused over the backfield. He points to halfback Dave Theisen, Maynard Smidt and Willie Ross at left half and Kent McCloughan, Dennis Stuewe and Rudy Johnson at right.

Devaney is having problems with the front wall however. Tackle depth is one sore spot and the Husker head man figures he may shift some guards to that position to help out.

"One important thing we must do is develop a uniform charge by our linemen. They haven't been firing out together," the NU boss explained.

Study of the movies have brought out considerable progress by some freshmen linemen," according to Devaney. "It looks like we may get more help from freshmen than we expected," he continued.

Nebraska's tennis team bounced back after two vacation losses to dump Washburn of Topeka, Kans., 7-0, yesterday afternoon at the NU courts.

The shutout, third of the 1962 season administered by the Huskers, puts the NU netters at four wins and two losses. The two defeats came at the hands of Kansas and Wichita last week.

Tom Johnson, who missed the Husker's first two matches came back to show letterman form by easily defeating Ellis Parker of Washburn, 6-3, 6-0. Johnson, playing in the number four spot, later teamed up with Rich Harley to defeat Nerland Miller and Rich Stille, Topeka netters, in the number two doubles, 6-1, 6-2.

Dave Wohlfarth teamed with sophomore ace Dick Gibson to take the number one doubles after getting off to a shaky start. The match was the only three setter as Gibson-Wohlfarth defeated L.

E. Eckles and John Wohlfarth, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Eckles and John Wohlfarth found similar troubles in the singles as Gibson and Dave Wohlfarth handed them losses in the one and two singles, respectively. Gibson edged Eckles 6-3, 8-6 while Nebraska's Dave Wohlfarth took Washburn's John Wohlfarth 9-7 and 6-2.

Jim Fowler, Wesleyan transfer, and junior Jack

Nebraskan Sports

Lausterer rounded out the Husker scoring by taking their number three and five matches, respectively. Fowler defeated Miller, 6-2, 7-5, while Lausterer drubbed Stille, 6-0, and 6-1.

The Huskers will meet Creighton at Omaha Thursday in their next outing.

Papadakis Places 3rd

Nebraska senior Myron Papadakis has been busy the last two weeks. He traveled to Cincinnati, Ohio, Apr. 17-19 and placed third in the Intercollegiate Handball Tournament.

Although he has competed in the B singles, his third place finish placed Nebraska in a tie for fifth in National team ratings.

Last Saturday Papadakis invaded the Lincoln Y.M.C.A. and swept through all competition to win the B singles title in the Midwest AAU tournament.
