

Freshman Gridders Initiate Workouts

By AL SPORE
Staff Sports Writer
Frosh football prospects reported to Coaches John Melton and Cletus Fischer last Monday to begin the 1962 campaign.

On hand were many Nebraska high school standouts plus the recruiting efforts from other states. The squad is expected to hit around 70 to 80 players by the end of this week.

Heading the list of local talent is Nebraska's pride, Dave Lebsack, last year's outstanding prep athlete.

Lebsack's quarterbacking abilities, as demonstrated at Lincoln Northeast and the Shrine Bowl, place him in strong contention for the signal calling role.

Brichacek at Tackle
Another Shriner and outstanding prepster at Schuyler was Gary Brichacek, a 215-pound fullback who showed line abilities by playing tackle for the North in the Shrine contest.

Nebraska Loses Chuck Sladovnik

The Nebraska basketball team has lost the services of Chuck Sladovnik, the team's third leading rebounder last year.

Sladovnik did not return to school this fall, because of back trouble which would have prevented him from participating in the winter sport. Sladovnik was forced to quit a construction job this summer because of the back trouble.

The former Omaha Holy Name athlete played in 24 games for the Huskers last season, scoring 69 points and grabbing 116 rebounds.

Sladovnik has taken a job as a claims adjuster for an Omaha insurance company.

Iowa State Daily Announces Choices

The Iowa State Daily recently released its selections for the Big Eight All-Conference team. David Buck, sports editor, listed Bill "Thunder" Thornton as fullback.

Buck's picks:

Position & Name	Class	Ht.	Wt.	School
Fullback, Bill Thornton	Senior	6-0	210	Nebraska
Halfback, Andy Russell	Senior	6-2	201	Missouri
Halfback, Ken Coleman	Junior	6-2	201	Kansas
Quarterback, Dave Hoppmann	Senior	6-1	183	Iowa State
Center, Wayne Lee	Senior	6-2	280	Oklahoma
Guard, Mike Upton	Junior	6-0	218	Oklahoma State
Guard, Dan Grimm	Senior	6-3	230	Colorado
Tackle, Dennis Ward	Senior	6-3	211	Oklahoma
Tackle, Jerry Wallach	Junior	6-2	238	Missouri
End, Dick Limerick	Junior	6-8	201	Iowa State
End, Ken Blair	Senior	6-1	305	Colorado

Other Nebraska boys who will aid the freshman two game cause in the backfield include: Kelly Peterson, hefty fullback from Cozad who accumulated 45 offers before deciding upon Nebraska, Ron Poggemeyer, swift halfback who started for Nebraska City last year, and Stan Farner, Grand Island's contribution to the husky backfield.

Mike Kennedy, standout guard from Omaha Benson, is slated for halfback duty.

Heavy Linemen
Nebraskan's to watch for in the frosh line include: Jim Brown, a 230-pound Omaha Central product, and McCook standout, Tom Cotton, 195 pound end.

Coaches Melton and Fischer will also be eagerly watching the out-of-state recruits.

These include:
Tony Jeter — Classy end from Weirton, W. Va., a 6-2, 195-pounder who is the brother of former Iowa U. halfback Bob Jeter.

Ken Lesar — All-state end from Pueblo, Colo., stands 6-3, weighs 210.

Freeman White — A 6-5, 210-pound end from Detroit.

Richard Czup — A 224-pound tackle from Esesville, Mich.

Lynn Senkbell — All-State guard from Salina, Kan., who now makes his home in Lincoln with his parents. He's 6-0 and 195.

Allen Thorn — This Phoenix, Ariz., center made the high school All-American squad. He's 6-1 and 220.

Henry Woods — Quarterback from Midland, Tex., is 6-2 and 190. He also averaged 30 points a game in basketball.

Ted Vactor — Fleet halfback from Washington, Pa. Played in the Top 33 high school all-star game in Pennsylvania.

Rally Friday

There will be a rally on the north side of the Student Union Friday night following a parade around the campus.

Highlights of the rally will be speeches by Athletic Director Tippy Dye and Coach Devaney as well as the selection of Miss Quarterback.

Ohio State to Lead Nation College Coaches Predict

Ohio State has been predicted by the American Football Coaches Association to be the top college football team in the nation.

The coaches rated Ohio State, Alabama, Texas, Penn State, Michigan State, Louisiana State, Washington, Missouri, Iowa and Mississippi in that order.

Missouri is the only member of the Big Eight in the elite group.

Nine of the 10 teams picked are conference members. Penn State is the only independent team and the only Eastern college in the group.

The Big Ten has three slots: Ohio State, Michigan State and Iowa. The Southeastern Conference also claimed three with Alabama, Louisiana State and Mississippi.

Ohio State, coached by Woody Hayes, lost Bob Ferguson, who gained 938 yards last season but retains the services of sophomore flash Paul Warfield.

At quarterback any of three could take the starting job: John Mummy (197), Bill Mrukowski (200) or Joe Sparma (195).

Sparma threw six touchdown passes in the last four games last year.

Alabama has 22 lettermen returning, including six regulars from last year's team which was declared national champion.

Team	Conference
1—Ohio State	Big 10
2—Alabama	Southeastern
3—Texas	Southwest
4—Penn State	Independent
5—Michigan State	Big 10
6—Louisiana	State
7—Washington	Southeastern
8—Missouri	Big Eight
9—Iowa	Big 10
10—Mississippi	Southeastern

Husker Football Camp Anticipates So. Dakota

By RICK AKIN
Sports Editor

The calm before the storm has hit Coach Bob Devaney's Husker football camp in anticipation of the initial fray against South Dakota this Saturday.

Stuewe, senior from Hamburg, Minn., moved to the starting unit on the basis of his fine running in last Saturday's scrimmage.

Theisen Moves Up

Theisen has also moved up to the starting unit as a result of his speed and coolness under fire. In last Saturday's scrimmage he turned a fumbled snapback into a two-point conversion by picking up a fumbled snapback and flipping a pass to end Larry Tomlinson.

Theisen injured his leg in the scrimmage but is apparently ready to go for

String Unbroken

Floyd Bottorff, veteran equipment manager at Nebraska refused to let a string break.

Bottorff cut his leg with a chisel which required 23 stitches but returned to work an hour after the accident occurred, keeping his record of never missing a day at work. He has handled the equipment for 32 years.

Saturday's game.

Faiman or Tucker

In the alternating backfield will be John Faiman or Doug Tucker at quarterback, Willie Ross at left half, Rudy Johnson or Kent McCloughan at right half and Gene Young at fullback.

McCloughan will be used as a defensive specialist on the starting unit, replacing the quarterback.

Faiman and Tucker hit better than .500 in their passing during Saturday's scrimmage. This phase of offense is very important in the Devaney system where the pass is used as a weapon, not as a desperation move.

Faiman is a senior, Tucker, a sophomore.

Buffico to Kick
Baffico, 265-pounder from San Francisco Junior College, has apparently won the placekicking assignment as he was the only one able to split the uprights in the Saturday scrimmage, hitting two for two.

Johnson is currently on the injured list but Devaney said, "If he can go full speed today, we will use him Saturday.

Yesterday the Huskers worked on play passes and reviewed trap plays. No scrimmage is on tap for the footballers this week.

Team in Shape

The Cornhuskers should be in good shape, injurywise barring any mishaps this week, for the South Dakota game.

Devaney indicated that he will not insert any special plays for the debut and has already set the defense for the Cyotes.

Devaney also said that he thought that South Dakota would do quite a little passing.

Bob Burns, the South Dakota coach, is known for his pass plays from the spread formation.
