Rev. George Peek Considers 'Greeks Important On Campus'

Fraternities and sororities on any campus perform an important function, according to Rev. George Peek, new chaplain at the University Episcopal Center.

"There is organization in Greek houses, and members are loyal. Therefore it is easier for members to educate their pledges in study methods, tolerance in the use of alcohol and manners among a myriad of other things."

Rev. Peek has an extraordinary opportunity to glimpse fraternity life first hand — his son Charles (Chuck) is a member of Acacia fraternity. A junior, Chuck plans to go into the ministry as his father did.

Rev. Peek noted, "I am usually able to spot a fraternity man in public, just by the way in which he handles himself."

As to the problem of drinking on university campuses, he said that his philosophy is moderation. The Greek house should place special emphasis on teaching its pledges moderation.

"I'm totally against anyone who gets drunk. It is the responsibility of each person to learn to take everything in his stride and do everything in moderation. Tramps go to extremes," he declared.

In response to a question about the apathy of students towards religion while they are in college, Father Peek said, "It is neither the purpose nor the business of the church to compete with the social life of the campus."

Students and faculty alike, he said realize the need for religious and spiritual life at school, and all we can do is provide the best.

Rev. Peek, who was formerly a minister at McCook, said that the transition that he had to make from a small town church to a chapel at the University was not hard because he has spent much of his life on college campuses.

Art Library Rents Originals, Prints

The art lending library will check out picture prints and original works to students Wednesday and Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., in the music rooms of the Student Union.

A $2 deposit for prints and a $3 deposit for originals are collected when rents are made. Students may check out one picture per semester.

All pictures must be returned Jan. 10 or 11. When the picture is returned, $1 of the deposit will be returned to the renter. Of the $3 for an original, $2 is for the deposit and the other dollar goes into a revolving fund used to purchase more originals.

No pictures may be reserved before the library opens, according to Joanie Graves, chairman of the arts and exhibits committee.
