Coaches' Daughters Are Proud of Dads

By SUE HOVIK
Nebraskan Staff Writer

What do coaches Bob Devaney, Tony Sharpe, Jim Ross, and Jerry Bush and athletic director Tippy Dye all have in common? University daughters.

These five girls are all in their first year at the University.

Thinking alike on almost every subject introduced, these five girls radiated the loyalty which they all have towards each other and the University. Penny Dye, Pi Beta Phi freshman, summed it up well when she said, "We stick together through everything."

Once these girls started talking, they were willing to comment on everything from school spirit to praising the friendliness of Nebraskans.

Pat Devaney, Alpha Omicron Pi pledge, expressed the feelings of all when she exclaimed that the people are exceptionally friendly and they really welcome you.

Connie Sharpe, Alpha Omicron Pi pledge, spoke for them all when she vigorously explained that she watches all sports more closely, but particularly the sport which her father coaches.

Sharon Ross, Kappa Delta junior transfer, repeated a question familiar to all the girls: "What does your father think about Saturday's game?"

Advantages of having a coach for your father are many. Karen Bush, Delta Gamma pledge, stressed the meeting of new and interesting people.

A life that is filled with tension, fun, excitement and people can only be described by three words "We love it!"

IFC Appoints 3 New Groups

Committees Will Study Problems; SAM Gets Rush Book Sanction

By GARY LACEY
Nebraskan Staff Writer

Three new temporary committees which "will study problems vital to the fraternity system at Nebraska" were appointed last night at the Interfraternity Council (IFC) meeting by President John Nolon.

The new committees and chairmen are: Intramurals, Grant Strong; Rush Evaluation, Bob Geisler, Homecoming, Jay Graff.

Nolon said that these areas are now sore spots in the system and the committees are to begin investigation as soon as possible. The committee chairmen may report at their own discretion to the IFC.

To the home-coming committee chairman, Nolon pointed out that since the Greeks at Nebraska perform what he termed, "a service" in the building of homecoming displays, the instructors should be more cognizant in the scheduling of quizzes and hour examinations at this time.

Under new business, the IFC passed a motion permitting Sigma Alpha Mu to print a rush booklet to be sent out to prospective rushees during the spring.

Sigma Alpha Mu representative, Chip Kuklin said, "Since our fraternity is Jewish, we don't have the problem of rushing against other houses, but getting the men to come to Nebraska. We want to convince them that the University is a good school."

By IFC rule no other fraternity is permitted to print summer rushbooks.

According to Dave Smith, IFC rush chairman, his committee is aiding in the reorganization of Theta Chi fraternity, and in the establishment of Chi Phi fraternity at the University.

The Sigma Chi representative told council members that their annual "Derby Day" is coming up and asked the cooperation of all houses in not injuring any girls while painting their jeans.

Young GOP President Steve Stastny said Shaffer will also discuss and contrast conservatism and liberalism.

At the kick-off session, Stastny added, YR membership cards will be issued and campaign materials will be handed out.

In addition, the YR research committee is set to give its report, utilizing in part an article on fraternities which appeared in "The New Guard," a magazine put out by Young Americans for Freedom, a national organization of conservative students.

Fall Smoker Tonight

Delta Sigma Pi, professional business fraternity, will hold their annual fall smoker at the fraternity house at 7:30 p.m. tonight. The house is located at 1141 H St. All interested male students majoring in business administration are invited to attend.

GOV. MORRISON

Young Demos Will Feature Gov. Morrison

Gov. Frank B. Morrison will be guest speaker for University Young Democrats at 7:30 tonight in 232 and 234 Student Union, according to President Gary Thompson.

The governor announced intentions of "discussing the Young Democrats stake in this year's gubernatorial election."

"I hope to outline some of the problems and opportunities that we face in Nebraska and what can be done in the areas of education, highway development, recreational development, agricultural economics and industrial expansion," Morrison said.

"Above all, I'd like to stress the importance of differing between politics on the basis of issues and politics as a game for the purpose of political power."

Thompson commented, "We are proud that the governor will take time to speak with us. The fact that he has accepted demonstrates his overriding concern with the young people of this state."

Morrison will also remain after the meeting for a coffee hour with guests and members.
