

Carlson Tabbed As Star

By AL SPORE

Dwaine Carlson, Husker football co-captain, has been named the Daily Nebraskan's 'Star of the Week' for his outstanding defensive play against the South Dakota Coyotes last Saturday.

Carlson, 6-1, 210-pound left guard, was selected from many outstanding backs and linemen who aided the 53-0 NU romp. Among these were Dave Thiesen, Kent McCloughan and Dennis Claridge and lineman Bob Brown.

At one point in the game Carlson made three consecutive stops and the husky guard was a thorn in the Sodak side all afternoon.

Eyeing the Michigan tilt Saturday Carlson commented, "It will have to be a team effort. We've got a good chance and it will be a great help to team confidence to beat a Big Ten school. We're going to have to concentrate on every phase of the game and not make many mistakes to win."

Carlson added, "I don't believe the injuries have hurt the team moral although they have hurt the team. The team spirit is the best I've seen in four years."

When asked about the new coaching staff Dwaine stated "They have brought a good attitude to the team plus their knowhow. They (the coaches) have tremendous practice ideas. They get the boys off the field to study and they stress studies."

"This week will decide what kind of team we do have," continued Carlson when asked about the season outlook. "I think we can finish in the top three in the Big Eight."

Carlson thinks that Missouri, Iowa State and Oklahoma will all be tough in the Big Eight but, "Anybody can beat anybody on a given day," he cautioned.

"The frosh have good speed and desire from what I've seen," replied Carlson when asked of the Husker future. "The coaches have done a tremendous recruiting job. Also a couple of red-shirts will help next year."

Looking back on the South Dakota conquest, Carlson commented, "We did a lot of passing which we worked on all fall. We had a real good passing offense with all three quarterbacks throwing well." Carlson is a Fullerton High grad majoring in Business Administration.

CARLSON—Daily Nebraskan 'Star of the Week'

From the Stick

By RICK AKIN
Sports Editor

This week's column should be entitled "From the Stick" due to my last week's prognostications. I was betting on Patterson.

But you can't keep a bad man down so once again I run my fingers along the keys and then let my head be put through the carriage after the "upset slaughter my predictions.

Oklahoma has shown itself as a definite dark horse after its win over Syracuse. This fact adds even more excitement to the Big Eight title race.

As far as the Husker's game with Michigan is concerned, it looks like a gray but undark day for Nebraska to my pessimistic mind.

The Cornhuskers have hustled in practice all week and could easily pull an "upset" if the breaks fall their way. One which has already fallen the Huskers way is the fact that the Wolverines haven't played a game yet. Still, I will go with Michigan this time. Michigan 20, NEBRASKA 13.

In the Big Eight

The Stick predicts: Colorado hosts Kansas State in the first conference game of the young season. It will be the first victory for the Buffaloes. COLORADO.

Kansas travels all the way to Boston U. for a night game. The Jayhawks let me down last week but will come back this week. KANSAS.

Probably the biggest game of the year for Missouri will be against Minnesota this week. Bobby Bell and the rest of the Gophers will be too much for the Tigers. MINNESOTA.

Oklahoma hosts Notre Dame in another big game for the Sooners on their way back to national recognition. I'll go along with Bud Wilkinson's crew this week. OKLAHOMA.

In the Big Ten

WASHINGTON over Illinois, INDIANA over Cincinnati, OREGON STATE over Iowa, MICHIGAN STATE over Stanford, OHIO STATE over North Carolina and WISCONSIN over New Mexico State.

Other Games

ARMY over SYRACUSE, GEORGIA TECH over Florida, PENN STATE over Air Force, MARYLAND over Wake Forest, TEXAS over Texas Tech, PITTSBURG over Baylor, LSU over Rice, NAVY over William and Mary, DUKE over South Carolina. ARKANSAS over Tulsa.

Cornhuskers About Ready for Michigan

Nebraska leaves tomorrow morning for Michigan with some key players on the doubtful list.

Bill (Thunder) Thornton is unlikely to see any action against the Wolverines, according to Coach Bob Devaney. "I don't think there is chance that we will be able to use Thornton," Devaney said. "We are going to run him with the first unit during practice, however, and he is going to make the trip."

Jim Hoge, senior right end who suffered a slight concussion last Saturday, was also put on the question mark by Devaney.

Devaney was also skeptical about the ability of Gary Toogood to play in Saturday's game. "He wasn't getting around too well Tuesday," commented Devaney.

Yesterday the Huskers worked on pass protection, covering punts and put in the rest of the defense they will use against Michigan Saturday.

Devaney also indicated the probable starting line up for Saturday's clash with Larry Donovan (197) at left end, Tyrone Robertson (229) at

Comstock usually plays left end, but Devaney said, "We want to use Comstock at both ends. He definitely fits into our plans."
