

Well, You See, It Was Like This . . .

We Decided To Win, So Win We Did

By RICK AKIN
Sports Editor

There were these forty guys who play football for this university out west called Nebraska, or something like that, and they all walk into this hotel in Ypsilanti, Mich. And a bunch of people look at these guys, see. And they all say, "You guys might as well have stayed home because you guys are just going to get tromped, see!"

So there is this one guy who weighs about 200 pounds and plays left end for this place out west. This guy was sitting around this Ypsilanti Hotel, saying, "I've got a hunch we are going to win tomorrow." Larry Donovan's hunch wasn't so bad. Well these guys have something to show these people, see. So these guys walk out onto a field where there are 70,287 people saying, "You guys are kiddin' us."

Only Guys

And these guys from Nebraska with their coaches are the only ones who know who is going to win the game, see. And these guys just ran over Michigan, 25-13, see.

It was also quite a day for this guy named Coach Bob Devaney who has given Nebraska a rejuvenation in the football world. Devaney and two other coaches, Jim Ross and Mike Corgan, are natives of Michigan.

So these guys pass their first acid test and now must face a tough bunch of grid-ers from Iowa State which has had a week's layoff after being whipped by Oregon State, 39-35, the same week the Huskers thrashed South Dakota, 53-0.

The Iowa State game will be the conference opener for both clubs. The Cyclones, coached by Clay Stapleton, are led by All-America candidate Dave Hoppmann.

Michigan Game

Well, anyway, there is this Michigan game. The first half was about even up for both clubs with the Huskers leading, 7-6.

But then Nebraska came storming back in the second half and stunned the fans with a spurge of power.

"Man, we hit 'em in the second half," said Ron Michka, the Huskers' starting center.

And there is this other guy named Dennis Claridge who quarterbacked the Huskers for most of the game and played a whale of a game. Claridge ran for 42 yards in 13 carries and completed six of 12 passes for 89 yards. After the game Claridge said, "It's hard to summarize the game right after it has been played, but we sure wanted to win, especially for ourselves and for the coaches."

And then there was Bill (Thunder) Thornton who made his first appearance of the 1962 campaign a successful one by scoring two touchdowns and doing some fine blocking.

When asked about playing again, Thunder said, "It feels good to start hitting again."

For Details of Game

—See Page 4

It was kind of hard to get used to after the layoff, but after I got going I felt all right."

Concerning the game, Thornton said, "Michigan was tough, but we just outplayed them. That first half was too close."

Husker Line Tough

Michigan had trouble getting their ground game going during the second half due mainly to the fine defensive play of the Cornhusker line. The Wolverines gained only 63 yards on the ground during the second half.

In on many of the tackles during the second half was Al Fischer, senior right tackle who said, "They were running toward my side of the line quite a bit during the second half. We had a lot of spirit." Fisher also remarked "Iowa State is going to be tough."

And then there was Jim Hoge who was slated for only spot duty after a slight concussion in the South Dakota game. Hoge came off the bench to become the top pass catcher of the day, grabbing three passes for 61 yards.

Neck Is Okay

"They didn't hit as hard as I thought they were going to," said Hoge. "My neck, which was bothering me during last week's practice sessions, didn't bother me at all during the game."

Tyrone Robertson, from Toledo, O., "enjoyed playing against some of the boys from my home state."

Concerning the difference between the first and second halves, Robertson said, "Michigan had to work for their touchdown in the second half. We gave them the one they got in the first half."

Key Reception

Dick Callahan, right end who made a key catch of one of Claridge's passes in the final touchdown drive, summed up everything by saying, "I don't think anything about the game. All I know is we won!"

Coach George Kelly felt, "The difference in the game was the determination of the boys in the second half. Kelly singled out Lloyd Voss and Bob Brown for their fine defensive play.

"I sure hope there are some people at the airport to welcome these guys home," said Kelly.

Airport Rally

And "some people at the airport to welcome these guys home" was just what there was.

An estimated 3,500 Nebraska students and football followers "a la pep band and cheerleaders" met the Huskers at the airport upon their return Saturday night.

All kinds of enthusiasm was shown at the airport with signs flying, students cheering, the band playing, cheerleaders jumping and talk of "Orange Bowl or Bust" being spread by Husker followers.

HAPPY TEAM—Huskers Larry Kramer, Dave Theisen, John Vujevich and Chuck Doepke emerge all smiles after a successful trip to Michigan. The 25-13 win for Nebraska was the first in the history of Michigan-Nebraska meetings. (Photo by Pixie Smallwood)

—'Baby Crop' Hits Campus—

Enrollment Boom Reported at NU

By GARY LACEY
Nebraskan Staff Writer

The post-war "baby crop" has hit the University with all the reverberations of a herd of elephants as the total student population of the University has skyrocketed to 10,391.

Chancellor Clifford Hardin said the record enrollment shows an overall gain of 955 students over the previous year, or a 10.1 per cent increase.

Although final figures are still not available, the Junior Division has counted a freshman class of 2,480 — up 320 students, or a 15 per cent increase over last year.

This year's enrollment reflects the largest numerical increase since 1946, when the war's end flooded the University campus with returning war veterans. The enrollment in 1946 skyrocketed to 9,669 from the previous year's total of 4,284. In 1947, the enrollment climbed to the peak of 10,153, an enrollment record which had stood for the past 15 years.

Dr. Hardin said the 1962 enrollment breakdown, which is still incomplete, shows 7,183 men and 3,208 women, the highest coed enrollment in the history of the University. Compared with last year, the male enrollment is up 571, and the coed's total is 384 higher.

There is a feeling among the admission people that the lack of on-campus housing probably caused at least 100 to 150 new students to cancel their applications this fall." Dr. Hardin said. Now under construction on the city campus is a 960-student dormitory complex, which may be ready for occupancy next fall.

Looking at the over-all increase, Registrar Floyd Hoover speculated that a larger percentage of Nebraska high school graduates is attending college. He said that state-wide figures show an increase of about 300 in last June's high school graduates over 1961.

Dr. Hoover believes that the University's enrollment increase is slightly higher than the national average. Last year, the University showed an eight per cent climb, compared with national average of 7.5 per cent.

Also, the University has reported an additional 944 students — none of whom are counted in the regular enrollment — in the evening classes; 215 at the Nebraska Ag High School at Curtis; and 272 at University High School. The Extension Division expects to match its last year's off-campus enrollment of 720 for the first semester. This year's off-campus courses are now being organized throughout the state.

Including off-and on-campus and evening students, the total enrolled at the University is 12,542.

Extension Classes Set New Record

The University Extension Division announced Saturday that 2,612 high school students have registered for 4,649 correspondence courses since July 1.

During the 1962 fiscal year, a record was set with 13,911 persons from all fifty states and eighty foreign countries enrolled in 22,595 courses.

H.C. Queen Applications Are Available

Applications for 1962 Homecoming Queen candidates have been delivered to all organized women's houses by Tassels members, according to Nancy Sorensen, Tassels president.

To be eligible for nomination by her house, a girl must have junior standing, a cumulative grade average of 5.5 and carry at least 12 credit hours.

The application blanks must be placed in the Tassel mailbox in the Student Union by October 10. Two glossy pictures are to be stapled to the application forms or brought to the interview.

Interviews will be Tuesday, Oct. 16. A seven-member board will judge the girls.

Ten finalists chosen from the girls who are interviewed, will be announced at the rally Oct. 19.

Homecoming Queen elections will be held Oct. 31.

HEROES WELCOME — Hundreds thronged lined both sides of the road from Highway 2 to the airport. (Photo by Pixie Smallwood)

Daily Nebraskan

VOL. 76, No. 10 The Daily Nebraskan Monday, October 1, 1962

Twelve Fill Yearbook Positions

Twelve students have been chosen to fill 10 section editor positions on the 1963 Cornhusker staff.

The section editors, who will take pictures and write copy for their sections, are: Jane Miller, student scenes; Holly Spence, women's intramurals, houses and halls; Jim Rambo, military; Susie Walburn and Marilyn Schoening, student government; Jill Journey, business administration, teachers, pharmacy; Nancy White, medicine, nursing, dentistry; Bob Lingo and Leroy Breslow, fraternities; Betty Schnable, panel assistant; and Karen Farrell, activities.

The Cornhusker staff also announced the appointment of two new junior staff members: Leroy Orton, managing editor and Barb Ihle, panel editor.

Six Will Compete For Board Posts

Six students were selected as candidates to appear before Student Council to fill three vacancies on the Publications Board.

They are: Seniors—Arnie Garson and Vicky Cullen; Juniors—Tom Chandler and Maureen Frolik; Sophomores—Mike Wiseman and Jo Ann Strateman.

The Publications Board has jurisdiction over the policies, personnel, and finances of the Daily Nebraskan and Cornhusker.

Rag Spots Open

Two junior staff writer positions and a copy editor vacancy will be filled by interviews before the Publications Board Thursday afternoon.

These positions are open to any interested persons. Applications may be picked up at the School of Journalism office, 309 Burnett Hall. They must be turned in by 5 p.m. Tuesday either at the J-School office or the Daily Nebraskan office, 51 Student Union.

Angel Flight Selects 22 As Members

Twenty-two coeds have been chosen as the new members of the University chapter of Angel Flight.

The new members are as follows: Joan Brueggemann, Donna Highland, Nancy Holmquist, Sally Larson, Sandy Keizer, Ginger Van Horn, Kaye Schnurr, Karen Gunlicks, Kathy Vollmer, Gwen Wald.

Christy Brehm, Connie Cochran, Roberta Hine, Jill Journey, Anita Maxwell, Ginny Kramer, Judy Birney, Susan Skiles, Mary Beth Stalder, Pat Kinney, Marilyn Schoening and Kathy Smith.

Affiliated with United States Air Force and Arnold Air Society, Angel Flight has been founded as an organization composed of outstanding collegiate women striving to aid their school as well as the military services through their leadership, service, and social qualifications.

—AUF Drive—

'Ugly Man' Contest Highlights Carnival

By SUE HOVIK
Nebraskan Staff Writer

"Step right up and cast your vote for Mr. 'AUFul Ugly' at the Nov. 10 carnival sponsored by the All University Fund (AUF) in connection with its fall drive."

The "AUFul Ugliest Men" candidates will appear at the carnival and receive audience votes. The winner will "reign" throughout the event. "AUFul Night" will also consist of a dance with music by the Sigma Phi Epsilon Combo, carnival events and the presentation of the AUF Activities Queen.

The night will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Military and reaching the 1962 AUF goal while having a good time too," stated Stevie Dort, publicity chairman.

Money collected by AUF will be given to the various charities chosen by a campus poll.

AUF is known as the campus Community Chest and is the only organization authorized to solicit on the University campus. Fraternities, sororities, independent houses, Lincoln students, medical and dental students in Omaha and Lincoln, organizations, and faculty members are all contributors to AUF.

Homecoming Ideas Are Due Friday

Ideas and themes for homecoming displays are due Friday at 1 p.m.

A theme and a reasonably detailed sketch of the display is to be put in the innocents mail box in the Student Union by Friday.

Group Is Success

The Highwaymen drew record-breaking crowds at their three performances at the University last weekend, according to Gayle Sherman, Student Union program secretary.

The Friday performance at the Ag Union drew 485, and the two shows on the city campus 400 and 500, respectively.

800 Screaming Coeds 'Branded' by Sig Chi's

By TOM MCGINNIS
Daily Nebraskan Reporter

Despite threatening weather Saturday, a record number of screaming females jammed the mall for Sigma Chi Derby Day.

Early Saturday morning the shrill squeals of sorority pledges could be heard as they ran from paint-bearing, brush-wielding fraternity pledges. They were fleeing because only the brand of the host fraternity would count as points to help their house win Derby Day.

Taking honors for the second year were members of Pi Beta Phi sorority, who won the overall Derby Day point contest and the new spirit trophy. Members of Gamma Phi Beta and Kappa Alpha Theta were second and third respectively in overall points.

Winners of the events were: Egg Relay, Pi Phi team; Dressing Race, Gamma Phi team; Whipped Cream Special, Pi Phi team; Broom Race, Beth Rose of Zeta Tau Alpha; Greased Pig Race, Diane Finley, Zeta; Zipped Strip, Pi Phi Team; Jeans Painting, Pi Phi; Derby Steal, Gamma Phi.

Miss Nancy Nelson, Gamma Phi freshman from Albion was crowned Miss Derby Day for 1962. Marilyn Masters, Theta, and Susan Segrist, Pi Phi, were first and second runners-up.

Glen Buck, Derby Day Chairman, reported a record attendance. Approximately 800 girls participated.

FOOD FOR 'OLD PAINT' — Linda Reno feeds Tom Wright, who has paint on his hands as well as his head.

PROUD WEARER OF THE DERBY — Chuck Decker (left) and Moon Mullins congratulate Nancy Nelson, Miss Derby Day 1962. (Photos by Wendy Rogers)