

Spirited Huskers Spank Michigan, 25-13

By RICK AKIN

Whoops of joy and excitement are still ringing throughout Nebraska after the Huskers put down a potent but inexperienced crew from Michigan, 25-13.

The Wolverines huge stadium became a valley of death for the Michiganans, 70,287 strong, who watched the Huskers completely dominate the second half.

The fourth quarter was the clincher for the Huskers who had already had a substantial lead, 19-6, going into the period.

But the Wolverines, known for their explosive fourth period spurges, could not get the ball away from the driving Huskers.

Michigan Moves

Michigan, off on a drive in the third quarter, kept right on going into the fourth period. Dick Rindfuss, sophomore halfback, capped the drive with a four-yard jaunt into the end zone to put the Wolverines in reaching distance although trailing, 19-13. But the Huskers, directed by quarterback Dennis Claridge, stayed calm, cool and collected and ate up the clock in going for their fourth and final touchdown.

Claridge led the drive with some fine running and cool passing. He completed passes to Larry Donovan and Jim Huge, both for 18 yards and carried the ball for 14 yards himself. Claridge also added 12 yards to his total during the drive but it was nullified by a penalty.

Key Play

The key play in the drive was Claridge's pass to Dick Callahan in a fourth-and-eight yards-to-go situation. Claridge hit Callahan with a look-in pass for the first and ten, putting the ball on the Michigan 16-yard line.

Bill (Thunder) Thornton, seeing his first action, which gave the Huskers a moral lift, took the ball on the next play and bulldozed his way into the end zone to put the Wolverines out of reach, 25-13.

From there on Michigan could not get a drive going due mainly to the fine defensive efforts of the Husker line.

Big Third Quarter

The third quarter was the Husker's big period. The first time Nebraska had their hands on the ball, it scored. Starting on the Nebraska 13, Claridge swept around the end for 13 yards before passing to Callahan for 12 more.

Michigan then bore down and forced the Huskers into a punting situation. But a five-yard penalty gave the Huskers a first-and-ten, and they started in once again.

Dave Theisen led things off with a 30-yard pass to Jim Huge. From this point, the 12-yard line, the Huskers ground their way to paydirt before Thornton dived into the end zone from the one.

Break For Huskers

Another break gave the Huskers their third touchdown. Dave Raimey, Michigan star halfback, fumbled the ball on his own 28-yard line where Doug Tucker, sophomore quarterback, pounced on it.

Warren Powers took the ball into scoring territory with a 19-yard run to the Michigan five.

Kent McCloughan took the ball to the one and then scored the touchdown, but the play was called back for an illegal motion penalty against the Huskers.

Claridge Scores

On the next play, however, Claridge ran through the right side of the line into the end zone with 12:54 gone in the third quarter.

The first quarter was dominated completely by the Wolverines even though they failed to score.

But with the help of Dennis Stuewe, the tide turned in the second quarter. On the first play of the second quarter Stuewe took a pitchout and went 42 yards to the Michigan 24-yard line.

Stuewe Moves

After a clipping penalty put the Huskers on the 34, Stuewe took a screen pass from Claridge and went for 20 more yards.

Two plays later Stuewe took another pitchout and went the final 11 yards to paydirt to give the Huskers their initial lead, 7-0, with 14 minutes left in the quarter.

Michigan's touchdown in the second period came on a break for the Wolverines.

Buffico Kicks

Jim Buffico's kick, after the NU touchdown, went out of bounds on the Michigan 38-yard line.

The Wolverines marched right down the field until the Huskers forced a fourth-and-goal-to-go situation on the Nebraska eight.

Michigan's fine quarterback Bob Glinka, called for a pass play but was caught by three invading Cornhuskers before he could get the pass away. But the Cornhuskers seemed to have gotten into each others' way, and Glinka slipped away into the end zone for the Wolverines only first half score.

Luckily the Cornhuskers came out of the game without any serious injuries. Stuewe was the only casualty of the day, spraining his ankle after an incomplete pass had been blown dead. Stuewe is expected to be ready for the Iowa State clash next Saturday.

WHAT KIND OF MAN HANDLES A BUSINESS VENTURE BEST?

A midwestern college audience recently heard this answer in a talk by A.T. & T. Board Chairman, Frederick R. Kappel

"To us this is an important question because we hire nearly 3000 college graduates yearly. To get an answer we went to our own files and examined the records of nearly 17,000 people. We checked each man's comparative success against what he achieved in college.

"As a group, the scholars won handsily. Of the men who stood among the top third in salary for their level of experience, more than half were also in the top third of their college class. Only a quarter were in the bottom third.

"And contrary to age-old beliefs, extracurricular activities proved a lesser indicator unless the individual had an outstanding achievement. Mere 'joining' was not enough.

"The study indicates, at least as far as the Bell System goes, that there's little opportunity for college students who practice 'diplomahship'—the belief that a diploma automatically leads to job success. Such thinking will not make telephone service what we know it can be.

"The men we want are men with intelligence plus those other attributes that give you the feel, the sense that they will make things move and move well—men who want to excel and are determined to work at it.

"Nothing short of excellence will do."
