Phi Psis Drop Betas

By AL SPORE
Staff Sports Writer
The competitive spirit of intramural football continued strong last Monday night as seven crucial games were completed, offering new league leaders.

Phi Kappa Psi proved too much for the Beta Theta Pi team as the Phi Psi's downed the previously undefeated Beta club 37-19. The passing-receiving duet of Jim Amerman and Mike Stacey plus the key blocking of Dave McDonald made the difference in the hard-fought contest.

In other League I-A action Phi Delta Theta downed Kappa Sigma 20-14. Mylan Newkirk, Bruce Wright and Jim Nelson all scored for the victorious Phi Delta team.

Sigma Chi managed a safety early in its game with Alpha Tau Omega to give the Sig Chis a 2-0 edge. The game then continued in a dead-lock and the Sig Chis walked off with one of the lowest scoring games in intramural history.

In other intramural action, Delta Tau Delta won by forfeit over Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Dental College eased by Air Force ROTC, 26-18, while Canfield ran away from Gooding, 37-6. Smith won by forfeit over Capitol I. Forfeit scores are registered as 1-0.

To add to the intramural football fever Director of Intramurals Ed Higginbotham announced the addition of a fraternity 'B' league. The league was previously believed to be dissolved after last year but interest by ten fraternities made the league possible.

'B' league games will begin Saturday October 13th. Schedules and results will be run in the Nebraskan. Higginbotham has set up the league as follows:

- League I-B
- Sigma Chi
- Alpha Tau Omega
- Kappa Sigma
- Beta Theta Pi
- Phi Kappa Psi
- League II-B
- Delta Tau Delta
- Sigma Nu
- Sigma Alpha Epsilon
- Theta Xi

Big Conference Tilt

Kansas vs. I-State

By BOB KRALL
Sports Staff Writer

The crucial contest in the Big Eight Conference this Saturday will be the Kansas Jayhawk's encounter with the Iowa State Cyclones at Ames.

A Jayhawk win would give them sole possession of first place in the conference standings, while the Cyclones must win to stay in serious contention for the title.

Both the Cyclones and the Jayhawks will display rejuvenated offenses before the Iowa State Homecoming crowd. ISU has successfully switched from the single wing to the single wing-T, scoring a total of 57 points against Nebraska and Oregon State.

KU coach Jack Mitchell finally got his flip flop offense flipping against Colorado instead of flopping as it had against both Texas Christian University and Boston University.

Buffs Face Pokes

After Colorado's 35-8 loss at Lawrence, the Buffs are hoping to find the trail a little less winding in Oklahoma, playing the Cowboys of Oklahoma State University in Stillwater. Colorado Coach Bud Davis has installed a prototype conference, featuring the conference's second and third leading passers, but has only a 6-0 win over Kansas State two weeks ago.

Back home in Manhattan after three straight games on the road, the Kansas Staters will try to score their first touchdown of the season against the University of Missouri.

This may be a tough assignment for Doug Weaver's Wildcats, as Missouri shut out Big Ten power, Minnesota, already this season.

Non-Conference Games

In games against non-conference opponents, Nebraska University hosts North Carolina State from the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the University of Oklahoma crosses their southern boundary to play the Texas Longhorns in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

After beating Syracuse and losing to Notre Dame, Oklahoma faces another tough foe the Longhorns, the favorite in the Southwest Conference again this year.

Although Texas University has graduated All-America back James Saxton, the Longhorns have two All-American candidates this year in tackle Scott Appleton and fullback Ray Poage. The Texans also boast of a fine linebacker, co-captain Pat Culpepper, whom Husker fans should remember from the NU-Texas game of two years ago.

Texas coach Darrell Royal learned his football from Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson and learned it well for Royal was the 1961 coach of the year.

Nebraska Cagers To Start Drills

Husker cagers will start official drills for the 1962-63 season Monday, announced coach Jerry Bush.

The Nebraska mentor will have the task of replacing three starters lost from last year's quintet, including the Cornhusker's top scorer and rebounder for the past two seasons, Tom Russell.

Bush released the early likely lineup as: Ivan Grupe, 6-5, Byron; Charles Jones, 6-2, Washington, D.C.; Daryl Petch, 6-5, Marysville, Kansas; Bill Vincent, 6-8, Omaha and Neil Nannen, 6-4, Syracuse.

'Huskers Must Maintain Momentum'—Devaney

By RICK AKIN
Sports Editor

"We must win against North Carolina State to keep the momentum going," commented Coach Bob Devaney of the upcoming encounter this Saturday with the Wolfpacks.

The Wolfpacks invade on Band Day after a 14-6 loss to Maryland last weekend.

John Melton, who scouted the Wolfpacks reported them to be tough on defense. Bad legs are still plaguing the Husker squad.

Gary Toogood, senior right guard from Reno, Nev., has a bad thigh and is not expected to see action in Saturday's encounter.

Toogood suffered the injury in the game against Iowa State, in which he thwarted a Cyclone drive by intercepting a pass in the first quarter.

Don McDermott, soph from Harlan, Ia., has moved to Toogood's spot on the alternate unit.

Thornton Doubtful Bill (Thunder) Thornton, who has had trouble all season, has a badly sprained ankle and is doubtful Saturday.

"We are not counting on Thornton," said Devaney. "He has been limping badly and has not been able to suit up for practice."

Dennis Stuewe, who missed the game against the Cyclones, started to run last night in practice but has not been placed on a unit yet.

Thaisen Running Dave Thaisen, who has been bothered by a leg injury since the season began, is also running, but Coach Devaney indicated that Thaisen would have to stay healthy before he would use him.

On the starting backfield Dennis Clardige is running at quarterback, Willie Ross is at left half, Warren Powers and Gene Young are alternating at fullback and Rudy Johnson is at right half.

With three quarterbacks vying for the alternate team, John Vujevich, 195-pound sophomore from Clarion, Pa., and Thaisen are alternating at left half, with Noel Martin moving up to the alternate fullback spot. Kent McCloughan will man the right half spot.
