

'Cats Have Strong Hopes Of Breaking Win Skein

By RICK AKIN
Sports Editor

Kansas State moves into the stadium tomorrow at 2 p.m. in hopes of destroying the Huskers four game winning streak.

"This game could be much tougher than Kansas State's record (0-4) indicates," said Coach Bob Devaney. "Kansas State has played some tough teams and has a poorer record than it should have."

Rag To Face Cornhusker

Tomorrow night the game of the year will take place between the Daily Nebraskan and the Cornhusker staffs.

Certain stipulations have been made due to the lack of boys on both staffs. A girl must play quarterback and a girl must score the touchdowns, if any are scored.

The Rag goes into the game as a definite favorite with a tremendous line and bruising fullback in Linda (Thunder) Jensen, a Hastings letterman from way back.

In the line Sue Hovik is the Rag stalwart. Sue is especially rugged on defense assisted by her sidekick Karen Gunlicks.

At end Wendy Rogers leads the pass catchers, if any passes happen to reach her. It's kind of doubtful.

Coach Jim Forrest of the Rag team expressed optimism and the coach of the rival Cornhusker team, Cyn Holmquist, was unavailable for comment.

The Cornhusker is strong in numbers but definitely lacks the ability of the Daily Nebraskan.

"They hit hard all the time but tend to give up the ball too much on such things as interceptions. We are not just writing this one off as a victory," the Husker mentor concluded.

The Wildcats have not been too successful against the Cornhuskers who hold the edge, 35-9-2. The last time Kansas State won a conference game was against Nebraska, 24-19, back in 1959. Last year the Huskers came out on top, 24-0, at Manhattan.

Weaver Comments
Commenting on his team, Wildcat Coach Doug Weaver said, "We are going to have to get our defense settled. Our offense will be all right, but we can't stop anybody long enough to get hold of the ball. And most of the time when we do, we are in poor field position."

Against Missouri, Kansas State ran only 44 plays while the Tigers held the ball for 72 plays.

On the Nebraska team Weaver said, "I would have to say that Nebraska is just as strong as Missouri in all respects. Plus the fact, Dennis Claridge could well be the top quarterback in the conference."

Yesterday Nebraska worked on kicks, punt returns and extra points.

Thornton Out
Bill (Thunder) Thornton is the only regular who will miss tomorrow's action. "We hope he is ready to go by the Missouri game, but we are not going to rush things," said Devaney.

John Vujovich and Bill Rogers will not suit up due to sprained ankles.

Gary Toogood has been put back on the alternate unit after being hampered by a bad thigh which forced him out of the North Carolina State game.

John Faiman (185), Doug Tucker (170) and Claridge have been working on the alternate quarterback spot backed up by Warren Powers (180) at left half, Noel Martin (195) at fullback and Kent McCloughan (190) at right half.

Dick Callahan will be alternating with the right ends on both units and McCloughan will be used as a defensive specialist in place of Claridge.

Harriers To Meet Wildcats

By JAN SACK
Sports Staff Writer

Shooting for their first win of the season, Nebraska's cross country team hosts Kansas State tomorrow at 11 a.m. on the Pioneer Park course.

Husker Coach Frank Sevine said, "We should do okay with any kind of an improvement."

Last week against Drake and Iowa State at Ames, Ia., the team lost a heartbreaking 26-23 to the superior team of Drake. Low score wins.

Kansas State will have a man to watch in senior Pat McNeal who has been a consistent point-getter for the Wildcats. Sevine also said that Kansas State had a good freshman team last year and undoubtedly some of those boys will be seeing action tomorrow.

Helping to put Nebraska on the win trail will be sophomore Larry Toothaker of Plattsmouth who finished fifth in the triangular last week. Toothaker has been "a pleasant surprise," Sevine said.

Mike Fleming and Ray "Skip" Stevens who finished 1-2 last week will set the pace for the Scarlet. Both are seniors and have plenty of varsity experience.

Gate Record In Making

With the homecoming Missouri game sold out with an anticipated attendance of 38,000 Nebraska could easily be headed for an all time season attendance record.

This was the feeling of James Pittinger, ticket sales manager, who stated, "I would doubt if there has been any other season when we have had three games which have been sell-outs or nearly so including bleachers."

The possibilities for a single game record seem nearly impossible. The stadium has held crowd upwards of 40,000 but that included standing room only tickets which filled the aisles.

Tippy Dye, Athletic director, put a stop to this to give more consideration to reserved ticket holders.

Kansas State Yearlings Invade This Afternoon

By AL SPORE
Staff Sports Writer

Nebraska's eager frosh football squad will take the field at 2:45 today when the Husker hopefuls take on the Kansas State yearlings in Memorial Stadium.

Coach John Melton's 56-man squad will all see action against the Wildcats in the season opener. Melton believes that any lad who stays out for practice and works hard is entitled to show what he can do under game conditions regardless of the score.

Melton, in his first year as frosh mentor, listed his first unit as Freeman White and Tony Jeter at ends, Dennis Carlson and Richard Czap, tackles; Ed Pavoris and John Abel, guards; and Steve Schaefer, center.

Coach Ed Dissinger, in his fifth year as Kansas State freshman boss, will be seeking his first victory.

Dissinger's strongest position should be at the ends. Willie Jones (210) and Bill Mutan (225) are considered to be good, strong hitters and should give K-State tough end play.

In the Wildcat backfield, Steve Meats (175) at quarterback and Ron Morel (150) at halfback have shown they possess the potential to be break-away runners.
