Campus Buildings To Protect Students

Nine Shelters Are Designated On City And Ag Campuses

Eight city campus buildings will assume a new role today, having been designated as fall-out shelters for more than 11,000 students and employees of the University.

The buildings Nebraska Hall, Burnett Hall, Piper Hall, Avery Laboratory, Love Memorial Library, Morrill Hall, Richards Hall and the Student Union have been posted with the official Civil Defense signs.

Careers Day Will Be Held On Wednesday

Classes in Business Administration College will be dismissed Wednesday so that students can attend the fourth annual Business Careers Conference.

Careers day will be held in the Student Union with businessmen in various fields from all over the country addressing students.

Features of the day include a noon day luncheon for local businessmen and senior administration students, and the Careers Day Banquet honoring students who have received honors and scholarships during the past year. Banquet speaker is Dr. Randall T. Klemme who will discuss Economic Development.

ent Union have been posted with the official Civil Defense signs.

In addition to these areas, the basements of the Nebraska Center on Ag Campus and Agricultural Hall at Curtis Agricultural School were also selected.

Although this plan had been set up earlier, an attorney general ruled that the University would need legislative permission to maintain public shelters on the campus.

The decision came when the federal government changed its contract to allow shelters to be designated for students and employees only.

Chancellor Clifford Hardin observed that the University has been concerned about the protective service to its young people.

Dr. G. Robert Ross, dean of student affairs, is the head of a University emergency situation and disaster committee which will plan emergency programs for the University, should they be deemed necessary.

Tour Cancelled

The Ag Union tour of Lincoln Air Force Base slated for Tuesday has been canceled. It will be rescheduled according to Bill Ahlschwede, chairman of the General Entertainment Committee.

Parents' Day Will Include Game, Coffee

The Innocents Society, acting for the entire student body and faculty, is inviting all parents of University students to attend the annual Parents' Day, to be held on the day of the Nebraska-Oklahoma State football game, Nov. 17, announced Ray Stevens, Innocent.

A special block of seats has been reserved for parents. To obtain tickets, the coupon printed on page 2 must be sent to the University Football Ticket Office.

"If parents wish to have their son or daughter sit with them at the game, it will be necessary to purchase additional tickets for them, as their student tickets will not allow them to sit in the Parent's section," said Stevens.

Other events have been planned for the parents. Free coffee for all visiting parents will be served in the main lounge of both the city and the Ag Student Unions from 10 - 11:30 a.m. Members of the Union Hospitality Committee, Mortar Boards and Innocents will welcome the parents. The All University Fund Activities Queen will be hostess.

Starting at 10 and 11 a.m. on city campus, and at 10:30 a.m. on Ag campus, members of the Builders Tour Committee will conduct special "Parent's Eye View" tours of both campuses. The Kosmet Klub Fall Revue, "Reel Riots", will be at 8 p.m. in Pershing Auditorium.

Three NU Students Ousted from School

Pi Xi Painters Caught; Investigation Planned

By GARY LACEY
Nebraskan Staff Writer

Three students have been suspended from the University "for an indefinite period" for being involved in a Pi Xi painting escapade last Wednesday night, according to G. Robert Ross, dean of Student Affairs.

The students are Louis Burkel and John Nelson, both members of Alpha Tau Omega, and James Yates, Delta Upsilon.

John Segrist, treasurer of the ATO house said that their president had talked with Frank Hallgren, assistant dean of Student Affairs about the problem.

Bob Geisler, president of Delta Upsilon, said that Yates had gone home and his status as a member of Delta Upsilon would be decided in future meetings.

Before his suspension Burkel was Yell King of the University cheerleaders and a senior in Teachers College.

Yates was a member of the varsity basketball team and a senior in business. Nelson was a sophomore in business.

Dean Ross said that the investigation is far from complete. Beginning this week other students will be called in for their involvement in sub rosa organizations, he said.

"It is shocking that we have had two incidents involving Pi Xi's within one year. It surprises me that college students don't learn," Ross said.

Ross said that students who are found to be a member of any sub rosa will be

Queen Salutes Spirit Members

"I can't study," said Her Majesty Susie Salter, as she tried Sunday to prepare for an hour exam. After her coronation as 1962 Nebraska Homecoming Queen, Miss Salter finds it hard to return to the everyday chore of studying.

"The Tassels and Corn Cobs did a tremendous job and didn't receive nearly enough credit," said the queen. "They really treated us like royalty."

She cited their thoughtfulness in every respect, from taking her parents and her escort out for a steak dinner Saturday down to an envelope given to her at the game saying "For your tummy's game entertainment." The envelope held a dollar bill tucked in for the purchase of goodies. "I don't think people realize how much work they all did," said Queen Susie.

The queen's attendants were Kathy Vollmer and Cynthia Tinan. The queen and her attendants were revealed Friday night at the pep rally and were presented at half-time of the Nebraska-Missouri game and again at the homecoming dance Saturday night.

Miss Salter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Salter of Lincoln. She is a social studies major in Teachers College, and a member of Pi Beta Phi.

Miss Tinan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Tinan of Mitchell, So. Dak. She is an English major in Teachers College and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Miss Vollmer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Vollmer of Verdun. She is a pre-medical technician major in the College of Arts and Sciences, and was representing Independent Women's Association.

Other honors of the homecoming week end were announced Saturday night when Steve Cass revealed the display winners. The winner in the Women's Division was Alpha Xi Delta with the theme "TIP the Tigers, and DYE them red." In the Men's Division, Delta Upsilon took top honors with "Monster Mash Mizzou." Second and Third, respectively, went to Kappa Sigma and Pi Kappa Phi.

Joint Division honors went to the Theta Xi-Alfa Omicron Pi display with the theme, "Strike 'Em, Don't Spare 'Em." Second place went to Kappa Delta and Alpha Gamma Rho with "Huskers Hit the Jackpot." Delta Gamma and Sigma Phi Epsilon won third place with "The Nebraska Side Story."

Bill Ahlschwede, Corn Cobs homecoming chairman, estimated that 3500 attended the homecoming dance Saturday night. Stan Kenton's orchestra played.

Phi Gam Project Aids Zoo

Increasing Lincoln's Children's Zoo fund has been the object of service projects of organized houses on campus.

The Phi Gamma Delta pledge class sold coffee, pop and "Fiji-burgers" from an island hut to Homecoming display spectators Friday night.

The train fund of the Children's Zoo project will receive $50 from the Fijis, according to Roger Johnson, pledge advisor.

Participating in a work program, pledges of Alpha Delta Pi and Delta Sigma Phi will earn money doing yard work or house work for Lincoln residents. In cooperation with KLMS, the pledges will fill a schedule of work for Saturday.

Steve Knee, social chairman of Delta Sigma Phi, said that there were no set prices for the work to be done and the donations received would be given to the Children's Zoo fund.

AUF Drive Opens With Kick-Off; Dinner Begins Week of Activities

The All University Fund Drive begins today.

The All University Fund (AUF) is the only campus organization which can solicit funds from students. This fund drive, which lasts two weeks, will be the only time this year when students will be asked for contributions to charity.

A kick-off dinner held last night for presidents of campus organizations, residence halls and organized houses officially began the annual drive.

Special event of the AUF drive will be "AUFul Night" 7:30 Saturday in the Student Union with a carnival, selection of Mr. AUFul Ugly, coronation of the Activities Queen and music by the Sigma Phi Epsilon Combo.

Mr. AUFul Ugly will also be presented. He will be selected by audience votes on candidates nominated by organized houses.

In addition there will be a carnival with fortune tellers, refreshment booths and games. In conjunction with the carnival Selleck Quadrangle will sponsor a "Car Smash" outside the Student Union. Students who have always had a suppressed desire to hit an old car with a sledge hammer will get their chance.

A goal of $500 has been set by AUF for money to be taken in on AUFul Night. When that goal is reached, the AUF officers will be "thrown in jail."

Members of fraternity and sorority pledge classes and independents will work together Sunday afternoon to solicit Lincoln students for contributions. The following pledge classes will work together:

- Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Upsilon
- Alpha Omicron Pi and Phi Kappa Psi
- Kappa Alpha Theta and Beta Theta Pi
- Alpha Phi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon
- Delta Delta Delta and Delta Tau Delta
- Alpha Xi Delta and Acacia
- Chi Omega and Delta Sigma Pi
- Delta Gamma and Triangle
- Sigma Phi Beta, Alpha Gamma Sigma and Sigma Alpha Xi
- Kappa Delta and Beta Sigma Pi
- Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Sigma
- Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Gamma Rho and Delta Sigma Phi
- Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Tau Omega
- Sigma Delta Tau and Pi Kappa Phi
- Alpha Delta Pi and Theta Xi

Other groups which will participate in the Fund drive are:

- Benton, Hitchcock, and Casfield in Selbeck with Fiedle Hall and Love Memorial Hall
- Epsilon
- Gamma
- Gamma in Selbeck
- Love Hall, Heppner, and Piper Hall in Women's Residence Hall

The AUF charities chosen by campus poll this year to receive funds are American Cancer Society, World University Service, Nebraska Heart Association, National Multiple Sclerosis Society and the University of Nebraska Speech and Hearing Clinic.

University To Move Departments To New Agricultural Laboratory

By BOB RAY
Ag News Editor

The University hopes to move parts of half a dozen Ag. College departments to Mead this year. In the past 14 years, only one University division was on the former ordinance plant.

The University's new Agricultural Field Laboratory at Mead has seen a lot of activity since the Board of Regents acquired it last year.

"And we expect to see a lot more activity from this month on," says Field Lab Supervisor Warren Sals. "Eugene Reed really pushed the well drilling this summer."

Reed, director of the survey division of the State Geology Department, supervised drilling of test wells completely around the 8,000 acre tract. They averaged 750 gallons per minute at about 120 feet, Reed says.

Test Hole
By mid-November, says Reed, a test hole will be drilled all the way to bedrock — just to see how far that is. Reed expects the well to be about 220 feet deep, yielding 1,000 gallons per minute.

The Ag Engineering Department moved into a 7,500 square foot building in June to establish the first University research experiment at Mead — a study in hay drying and nutritional value of moldy hay.

The Nebraska Foundation Seed Division has used parts of the area for several years, recall Sals and F. C. Hastert, operations manager of the field lab. They first started working together in 1948, when the division leased some land at Mead from the Corps of Engineers.

The Foundation Seed Division takes seed of proven experimental varieties, propagates them, and makes them available to grain farmers.

Corn To Be Planted
Dr. John Lonquist of the Agronomy Department will plant some hybrid corn trials when the University gets full title in March.

Morrill Hall has moved several truckloads of mastadon bones and other fossil skeletons to a warehouse at Mead. Part of the moisture-proof palates on which the bones are stored, came from nearby missile sites — they were used to cover silos during construction, says Hastert.

The new dairy operation for the Field lab is being planned now, and bids should be let in January, says Dr. Philip L. Kelly, Chairman of the Dairy Department. Kelly hopes to move 100 heifers from the Ag Campus to Mead next spring.

The dairy will be the first of the livestock to move from the Ag Campus, says Dean E. F. Frotik, because the milking herd is the most cramped for space.

On Dismissals . . .

Coach Jerry Bush said, "We hate to lose Jim Yates. He was a promising senior, and his loss will hurt the team a great deal, but I have no sympathy for him."

Doug Busskohl, a member of Alpha Tau Omega and a university cheerleader, has been named Yell King following the dismissal of Louis Burkel.

prosecuted according to each infraction.

Last December two students were suspended from the University for "acts of vandalism and for being affiliated with Pi Xi."

At that time Dean J. P. Colbert said that "association with a sub rosa secret organization is expressly and absolutely forbidden at the University of Nebraska."

Dean Ross said that he had received reports concerning TNE painting on Ag campus last week, but refused to comment on the TNE's apparent reorganization.

In 1951 Chancellor R. G. Gustavson said: "Theta Nu Epsilon has agreed to dissolve itself now and for all time to come."

However, with the aid of a prominent TNE Lincoln alum, the organization was re-established in 1957. Again, in 1961, the organization was dissolved.

Discipline Policy To Be Discussed By Ross, Shugrue

G. Robert Ross, dean of student affairs, and Dr. Mike Shugrue, assistant to the chancellor, will discuss the "University's Role in Student Discipline" Thursday in 232 Student Union at 3 p.m.

"Students may ask Dean Ross about his new policies and may bring up questions about student life such as migration and drinking," said Mary Morrow, chairman of the Union Forums committee. After a talk by Dean Ross, questions will be in order, she continued.

"We will clarify our policy, but not state it, as we discuss areas of student responsibility," said Dr. Shugrue.

Twenty Finalists Chosen

Sweetheart, Prince To Be Elected at KK

Ten coeds and ten men have been selected as finalists for Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet, announced Harold Dehart, Kosmet Klub presentation chairman.

Sweetheart finalists are Linda Bukacek, Alpha Delta Pi; Cori Cabela, Alpha Phi; Maribelle ("Marty") Elliott, Kappa Alpha Theta; Jaclyn Hammer, Alpha Xi Delta; Rachel Heiss, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Pamela Hirschback, Chi Omega; Willa Meyer, Pi Beta Phi; Karen Pfisterer, Gamma Phi Beta; Joanie Chenoweth, Kappa Kappa Gamma; and Nancy Sorensen, Kappa Delta.

Finalists for Prince Kosmet are Don Burt, Phi Delta Theta; Roger Quadhamer, Beta Sigma Psi; Bill Buckley, Sigma Nu; Dennis Claridge, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Wes Grady, Farmhouse; Frank Masters, Triangle; Dan Rosenthal, Sigma Alpha Mu; Bob Seidell, Sigma Chi; Dave Smith, Beta Theta Pi; Bill Thornton, Selleck Quadrangle.

Students attending the Kosmet Klub fall show "Reel Riots" at 8 p.m. Nov. 17 in Pershing auditorium, will vote on the finalists before the show and during intermission. The Nebraska Sweetheart and Prince Kosmet will be announced at the end of the show.

Kosmet Klub skit tryouts will be tomorrow and Wednesday nights in the Student Union.

Miss Willson Wins Contest

Two University students, JoAnne Willson and Paul Mannion, are $150 richer for winning the Cornhusker new yell contest sponsored by the Downtown Lincoln Association.

Miss Willson, a member of Kappa Delta, picked up the first place prize money of $100 for submitting these chants:

Shuck 'em Huskers, Shuck 'em
Shuck 'em Huskers, Shuck 'em

and Huskers Shuck the Huskers Shuck the
Huskers Shuck the
Mannion's winning entry, which gave him $50 went like this:

Shuck, shell,
Grind 'em Well
Cornhuskers,
Give 'em—
TROUBLE!

The judging committee, while selecting the cheer wrote this cheer:
Co-o-o-orn HUSKERS!
Co-o-o-orn HUSKERS!
Co-o-o-orn HUSKERS!
Shuck 'em! Shuck 'em!
