AFS Rep To Talk Students Feb. 5

The assistant for college and youth peace programs of the American Friends Service Committee, Larry Martin, will be on campus Feb. 5 to talk to students interested in participating in these programs.

Martin will explain the service opportunities of the American Friends Service Committee to students. He will also help organize weekend opportunities for service in various parts of an eight state area.

An Illinois native, Martin received his B. A. at Drake University, With a major in political science, Martin was also chairman of the International Affairs Emphasis Week and active in the Des Moines Peace Research

The American Friends Service Committee, a Quaker organization, attempts to relieve human suffering and to seek for nonviolent solutions to conflicts - personal, national and international.

In addition to its work and study projects for young people, the Committee has world-wide programs of relief and rehabilitation, social and technical assistance, community relations and seminars and institutes on peace and international affairs.

Its work is carried on without regard to race, creed politics and is supported by voluntary contributions. The first group consists of overseas work camps which are projects involving manual labor and community service. Volunteers must be at least 20 years old and good physical health.

Language facility and previous service project experience are desirable. Volunteers pay $600 for transportation, orientation, maintenance and insurance

Community service in Latin America includes social service units involving some manual labor in rural Mexican villages. Volunteers who are only the minimum age 18 must have one year of college.

They contribute $225 to cover maintenance, insurance nd orientation for the seven-week project. U.S. Work Camp projects are largely community improvement work entailing manual labor. Some stress recreational and service activities. These camps begin in late June and last eight weeks. They are open to college students, recent graduates and other interested volunteers who contribute $150 toward maintenance, insurance and other project epxneses. Interns in community service work for social agencies, often in recreational or community organization activi-

Lancaster Fund To Aid Libraries

The University Foundation has received a bequest of $74,-000 from the estate of Margaret Farley Lancaster.

Mrs. Lancaster was the wife of the late Lane W. Lancaster, one of the University's foremost scholars and the first winner of the University Foundation's Distinguished Teaching Award in 1954.

The gift will establish a fund to earn income for the purchase of books in humanities for the University's libraries.
