University Grad Forrester Honored As Outstanding Writer, Engineer

A University College of Engineering graduate, Jay Forrester, has been named author of one of the five best books on management for 1961-62.

Forrester Study in Guadalajara, Mexico

The Guadalajara Summer School, a fully accredited University of Arizona program, conducted in cooperation with professors from Stanford University, University of California, and Guadalajara, will offer July 1 to August 11, art, folklore, geography, history, language and literature courses. Tuition, board and room is $240. Write Prof. Juan B. Ruel, P.O. Box 7227, Stanford, Calif.

Forrester, son of Sen. M. M. Forrester, Anselmo, received the honor for his book, "Industrial Dynamics."

Forrester was graduated from the University with honors and obtained his Masters Degree at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he is a professor of industrial management.

He has been a member of the faculty there for 20 years, and has received an honorary doctor's degree from the University.

The McKinsey Foundation Book Awards program, which conferred the honor, was established to help business executives select the most important books on business.

The awards program is administered by the Academy of Management, a professional organization of 500 business educators representing more than 130 colleges and universities.

Forrester, who now lives near Concord, Mass., was named one of the two outstanding engineers in America at the age of 35 and has been included in Who's Who for several years.

Dr. Rosenberg Is Working On Nebraska Climate Data

Dr. Norman Rosenberg, assistant professor of agricultural meteorology, is working on a project which eventually will provide complete information on Nebraska's climate.

The work also will help farmer decide what crops to plant and how much irrigation they will require. It will also provide data on which a manufacturer can base a decision on whether or not to locate a plant in Nebraska.

Rosenberg says we are leaving the era of "average" — average temperature or average rainfall — and entering the era of "probability" — (what is the probability of an inch of rain during the week of July 5-11, of two inches, or 0.1 inch?)

Rosenberg's program began as a necessary part of the work being done toward developing a vegetable industry in Nebraska. As a result, most of the climatologists worked with the irrigated areas.

When completed, Dr. Rosenberg's expanded survey will inventory information on soil and water resources, solar energy supply, temperature conditions, precipitation probabilities, length of growing season, evapotranspiration wind and humidity conditions, and hail distribution.

Computer Used
Dr. Rosenberg compiled Weather Bureau records that cover up to 100 years using the new high speed IBM computer at the Nebraska University Agricultural Experiment Station.

Rosenberg has determined that the occurrence of controllable frosts would permit lengthening the growing season at Scottsbluff from 139 days to 178 days and at Columbus from 160 days to 186 days.

A Platte Valley study involved data collected during the last 30 years on the number of frosts and their dates. By using historical weather maps he determined which of these frosts were radiative (against which crops can be protected) or advective (against which is no protection).

The studies also are going into the little-understood area of "microclimate," the climate near the ground in which the plants grow. Temperature and relative humidity of the air five feet above the ground can vary as much as 30 degrees and 50 per cent, respectively, from that found in the "plant canopy" near the ground.

RD & SON
OUR SON

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Robert Edward, Junior — that's his name. But soon it will be Bobby. And after a while he and I will probably be known as Big Bob and Little Bob.

Funny how you start looking ahead. When I came out of the shop today I happened to notice our sign — the big one with my name on it that hangs over the door. And I thought to myself, maybe someday we'll add: & SON ...

But Marge and I know better than that! You can't plan your son's life for him. He's got to make his own decisions, choose his own road.

One thing we have decided for him, though. That he's going to have all the moral and spiritual training a man needs to make right decisions and follow a straight road.

This God expects of us — of all parents. And our church is ready to do its vital part.
