

WHO'S GOT THE ACTION?—The All-University basketball tournament seems to answer that question. The tourney began Monday night on the P.E. courts. Action will continue until the championship game is played in connection with the state basketball tournament in March.

Navy ROTC Opens Defense Of Title --- IM Tourney Begins

The All-University basketball tournament began Monday night with 18 teams seeing action. The Navy ROTC unit is the defending champion in the dual elimination tournament.

Last year the NRO's defeated the Sig Eps, 59-57 in the championship game in a tight race that went down to the wire between the two teams.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is the defending champion in the Fraternity-A league beating out the defending champs, Kappa Sigma in a play-off game. The NRO's defeated Dent College to win their independent league crown and Canfield House edged Seatons II-A for the Burr-Selleck A league title.

Three All-University IM team members are back this year to compete in the tourney action. They are Monte Kiffin, Canfield; Mike Stacey, Naval ROTC; and Al Olsen, Bessey. Others on the First team were Lambert Sobon, Sig Ep; Dean Prazak, Naval ROTC; and Bob Prokop, Kappa Sigma, who has been a repeat on the team for seven years. These men were lost to graduation.

On the All-Fraternity team, repeats back this year are Keith Sieck, forward for the Phi Delta Theta; and Dick Muma, guard for Sigma Phi Epsilon. In the independent league repeaters this season include Larry Lytle and Jim Killinger both from Dent College.

In the Burr-Selleck league, three of the All-star members include Kiffin, Olsen, and Ron Gilbreath.

The naval unit earlier in the year won the regional NROTC title at Lawrence, Kansas by defeating Missouri and Kansas University. They now, in addition to defending their All-University title, must travel to Chicago to compete in the finals of the Midwest NROTC tournament on February 22-24.

Cagers Continue Cellar Domination As Sooners Win

The only stable thing in Big Eight basketball at present is Nebraska. They continued their domination of the Big Eight cellar Monday night as they lost to the Oklahoma Sooners, making it nine losses in a row.

The leadership of the Big Eight conference, meanwhile, acquired a drastic change. Colorado, defending champion and leader all season, lost its third conference tilt of the season to Missouri and tumbled to fourth place as Oklahoma State took over the throne.

The Husker squad lost to the Sooners, 84-77 as they could not contain the shooting of guard Edie Evans who hit 22 points for the Sooners. Daryl Petch hit 21 for the winless Huskers.

The Huskers were not particularly cold as they hit 52% of their field goals while Oklahoma hit for 50%. The big difference was in the free throw department where Oklahoma hit 60% to the Husker's 52%.

The win put Oklahoma in fifth place with a 5-6 record while Nebraska remained in the cellar with a 0-9 record.

Saturday night the Huskers will play Kansas University Jayhawks at the coliseum here in Lincoln. Kansas is currently only one notch above Nebraska in conference standings with a 2-7 record.
